C&NW asks fare increase

The Chicago and North Western Ry. has announced plans for a 37.5 per cent rate increase, and blamed the Regional Transportation Authority for inept and unfair transit management which has forced the railroad to increase fares.

In announcing the increases, the first of which could go into effect as early as Jan. 1, C&NW Pres. Larry Provo said the contract proposed by the RTA "contained provisions and restrictions so repressive and regressive that no rail management could agree to it." As a result, the railroad has "abandoned any hope" of joining the RTA, Provo said.

– Section 4, Page 1

Provo said the Chicago and North Western today will ask the Illinois Commerce Commission for permission to increase the fares.

The C&NW announcement in brochures to all commuters, said the 15 per cent rate hike would be filed today as "an interim request designed only to cover known or anticipated cost increases and enable our service to break even in 1976." It would be effective Jan. 1.

THE SECOND INCREASE of 22.5 per cent to become effective April 1, would "enable our service to operate at a modest 5 per cent after-tax return on our investment."

The first increase would result in the following approximate monthly commuter ticket increases: Des Plaines, from $36.30 to $41.75; Mount Prospect, from $39.55 to $45.85; Arlington Heights, from $41.45 to $47.70; and Palatine, from $44.65 to $51.35.

Under the first hike, one-way tickets would increase anywhere from 21 cents to 26 cents.

Railroad officials reported they had not increased their fares since May 1, 1974. The railroad sought an increase late last year, but deferred it to seek a temporary grant from the RTA.

The officials reported they received a grant covering the 4½-month period

Close 4 schools: consultants

by KATHERINE BOYCE

The closing of four schools, an increase in real estate taxes and larger class sizes in Arlington Heights Dist. 25 were recommended Thursday by consultants studying the impact of declining enrollment on the elementary school district.

The consultants, projecting a 31 per cent drop in enrollment and a $3.9 million financial deficit by 1984, suggested the district consider closing Thomas and South junior high schools by June 1977, North elementary school in June 1980 and Kensington elementary school in 1981 or 1982.

Consultants recommended that sixth-grade classes be moved from the junior highs to elementary schools.

THE CONSULTANTS suggested an unspecified increase in the district's tax rate to boost revenue over the next nine years. Class size, they said, sould be increased 20 per cent from the current average of 25 students. As each school is closed, consultants recommended, all staff positions tied to the operation of the school should be eliminated.

The recommendations are part of a 150-page report presented to the board of education Thursday night. Consultants Booz, Allen and Hamilton, Inc., selected their recommendations from a multitude of alternatives studied over the past five months.

The consultants suggested the board adopt the report as the district's long-range plan and that it implement a plan no later than June 1976.

Related stories on Page 9.

Board Pres. William Beck said the board will study the report in detail and solicit public reaction. The board then will prepare its own plan with "realistic alternatives," he said.

IN RESPONSE to questions from board members, consultants explained they interviewed school officials and district residents in preparing the proposals. The concept of a neighborhood school, defined as "a school to which their children can walk," was ranked highly by all persons interviewed.

The closing of Kensington School was considered because it will experience a large decline in enrollment and is at the eastern edge of the district away from the center of population. The closing of North was considered because it is one of the oldest schools in the district and lacks some facilities.

Copies of the 150-page report are available for review today in the district administration center and in each school. A summary version of the report will be distributed at public hearings; a schedule of those hearings is listed in an accompanying story.

Dist. 25 residents express little surprise over closings

Residents have expressed little surprise to a proposal to close four schools in Arlington Heights Dist. 25.

About 100 persons attended Thursday's board of education meeting to hear a report on declining enrollment.

"It's something that's happening across the county," said Wayne Welk, 226 N. Derbyshire Ave. "In some cases there appears to be no alternative to school closings."

Several residents said they feared school closings would mean the loss of good teachers. Windsor School teacher Tom Toman said many teachers attended the meeting because they are concerned about their jobs.

JAMES MODEC, president of the Arlington Teachers Assn. said a committee of administrators and teachers is now working on guidelines for staff reductions. Modec blamed the state for the projected deficit in the district which will result from a loss in state aid due to declining enrollment. "It's time the politicians got down to business and start giving money to schools."

South Junior High School teacher Vivian Miles said she has "looked forward for years to reduced class sizes." However, one of the options facing the district is increasing average class size from 25 to 30 students.

A teacher explained the 25-per-class figure is misleading. In some cases, as at South Junior High School, she said, there may be as many as 40 pupils in one class.

Marty Kraybill, president of the Arlington Heights Council of PTA, said most residents are in favor of placing sixth graders in the elementary schools, a part of the proposal.

The closing of schools, however, is a hard pill to swallow, said Mrs. Kraybill. People are "proud of their school and want to keep it. Nobody wants to put their children on a bus and have them bused to and from school if they can avoid it," she said.

CIA tried to kill Castro, Lumumba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The CIA tried unsuccessfully to kill Fidel Castro and Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba with underworld help in the early 1960s, but it is unclear whether Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy or Johnson approved the plots, the Senate intelligence committee reported Thursday.

The long-awaited report, published despite last-minute White House attempts to suppress it, also said the CIA supplied arms or other aid to insurgents who — acting on their own — killed South Vietnam's Premier Ngo Dinh Diem, Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic and Gen. Rene Schneider of Chile.

It said there was no evidence the United States actively sought the deaths of these three, however, and concluded on the over-all assassination issue:

"No foreign leaders were killed as a result of assassination plots initiated by officials of the United States," it said.

The report of eight plots and at least two actual attempts against Cuba's Castro and one abortive attempt to poison Lumumba is the first official disclosure of plotting that has been widely rumored.

"We are unable to draw firm conclusions concerning who authorized the assassination plots," the 347-page report said on the issue of presidential involvement — although it found "a reasonable inference that the plot to assassinate Lumumba in 1960 was authorized by President Eisenhower."

Apart from that, the committee lamented it was unable "to make a finding that the assassination schemes were authorized by the presidents or other persons above the government agency or agencies involved," because the chain of command was always "ambiguous," complex and so constructed that the highest-level officials could "plausibly deny" involvement.

But it did say that the murder plots and coup attempts that led to killings

Veto override hopes dim as special education loses

by STEVE BROWN

SPRINGFIELD — Supporters of an effort to restore $116 million in school-aid funds were dealt a second setback Thursday and chances appear slim that the necessary votes can be found to override Gov. Daniel Walker's veto by today's midnight deadline.

Backers of the move to restore school funds fell six votes short in an effort to add $35.7 million to state spending for special education districts. The supporters, who are loyal to Chicago Mayor Richard Daley, postponed final consideration of the override attempt. It was the second time in two days that the parliamentary technique was used to stave off final defeat for the funding measures.

Although State Sen. Thomas C. Hynes, D-Chicago, said he would make another effort today to override the vetoes, Thursday's move brought fewer votes for the override than an effort Wednesday to restore $81 million in school funds. Support of the measure Wednesday fell four votes short of the 30 needed to override Walker's veto.

STATE SEN. Richard M. Daley, D-Chicago, the mayor's son, predicted that chances of obtaining enough votes for the override are very slim. "The Republican members of the Senate appear to be very solid in their opposition to the override," Daley said.

A minimum of 30 votes are needed to override the governor's veto. Thursday's effort produced only 24 votes in favor of the override, 31 voting against and three voting present.

Republicans attempted to divide consideration of the special education funding issue and approve the spending of $22 million that the Governor says is available. However, the move was blocked by Senate Pres. Cecil Partee, D-Chicago, who ruled the Republicans out of order. the 25-person GOP Senate delegation and eight independent Democrats have successfully blocked efforts to override the vetoes.

State Sen. John Nimrod, R-Skokie, explained he voted present because "I am working toward the compromise on the $22 million proposal."

THE SENATE also killed a move to eliminate the real estate property tax rollback provisions in the school aid funding formula. Republicans attempted to gain approval of the tax rollback after the special education override was defeated. However, the rollback provision is part of several other bills which are currently being considered in both the House and Senate.

Supporters of the tax rate rollback believe they will be successful in eliminating the provision, which requires school districts to reduce their tax rate as they receive a larger share of state education funds, sometime before the General Assembly adjourns.

In another education matter, the Illinois House killed a bill which would have permitted school districts to include "phantom students" in computing their school aid formulas. The law would have allowed school districts to average their enrollment figures over a three-year period which would have benefited districts with declining enrollments.

It'll be 'Governor Dixon', unless...

State Treasurer Alan Dixon has told associates he will definitely not withdraw from the governor's race unless he is slated to run for Secretary of State, The Herald has learned.

Dixon's vow further complicates confused Democratic leaders' plans to develop a slate of candidates to run for statewide offices next year, because Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan said he still plans to run for the post now held by Sec. of State Michael Howlett.

The scramble between Dixon and Hartigan began recently after Howlett signaled he was ready to bow to pressure from Mayor Richard J. Daley and run against Gov. Daniel Walker.

Dixon told friends he would consider withdrawing from the gubernatorial race and run for Secretary of State, however, associates say that Dixon will not be compromised on this decision, and if he is not slated for Secretary of State, he will stay in the governor's race.

Hartigan had called a press conference for Wednesday to let it be known he planned to seek the Secretary of State position. However, that announcement was temporarily postponed. Hartigan was reportedly persuaded to delay his announcement by Daley.

The situation creates what some observers believe is an unprecedented state of confusion for the normally well-orchestrated Democratic slatemaking process. The developments have also causd Illinois Democratic Central Committee officials to reschedule their slatemaking sessions until Dec. 1. While Party officials are downplaying the switch, the rescheduling reportedly was made because of the confusion.

House kills security-deposit bill

The Illinois House Thursday killed a bill that would have allowed suburban renters to collect interest on security deposits.

The law, already in effect in Chicago, had been amended by the House last summer to allow landlords to pay the interest when a lease expired rather than on an annual basis. Major rental agents contended the annual payment clause would create additional bookkeeping problems and probably force rent increases.

Gov. Daniel Walker used his amendatory veto power to restore the annual interest-payment provision. The Senate voted to override the veto 44-1 Nov. 4, but the House action, which produced an 81-61 vote, killed the bill. At least 89 votes were needed to override the veto.

Both the House and the Senate moved through a number of minor bills Thursday in an attempt to meet a midnight Friday deadline for action on all vetoed legislation.

SENATE BACKERS of a bill to override Walker's amendatory veto of a provision which legalizes card games in homes and private clubs delayed final action after a test vote indicated they did not have enough supporters for an override.

Walker used his veto power to include a clause that would have the bill expire in one year. Opponents of the bill argued that it would open the door for full-fledged gambling in Illinois. Supporters contend the legislation is aimed at preventing police from breaking up card games in homes and clubs.

"We want to be sure that there are no repercussions like those which occurred when the county sheriff's police began raiding church-sponsored bingo games before that activity became legal, State Sen. Frank Savickas, D-Chicago, said.

In another matter, the House voted to grant Illinois National Guardsmen free tuition and fees to attend state universities. The legislation is aimed at encouraging more persons to join the National Guard.

It'll be 'Governor Dixon', unless...

State Treasurer Alan Dixon has told associates he will definitely not withdraw from the governor's race unless he is slated to run for Secretary of State, The Herald has learned.

Dixon's vow further complicates confused Democratic leaders' plans to develop a slate of candidates to run for statewide offices next year, because Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan said he still plans to run for the post now held by Sec. of State Michael Howlett.

The scramble between Dixon and Hartigan began recently after Howlett signaled he was ready to bow to pressure from Mayor Richard J. Daley and run against Gov. Daniel Walker.

Dixon told friends he would consider withdrawing from the gubernatorial race and run for Secretary of State, however, associates say that Dixon will not be compromised on this decision, and if he is not slated for Secretary of State, he will stay in the governor's race.

Hartigan had called a press conference for Wednesday to let it be known he planned to seek the Secretary of State position. However, that announcement was temporarily postponed. Hartigan was reportedly persuaded to delay his announcement by Daley.

The situation creates what some observers believe is an unprecedented state of confusion for the normally well-orchestrated Democratic slatemaking process. The developments have also causd Illinois Democratic Central Committee officials to reschedule their slatemaking sessions until Dec. 1. While Party officials are downplaying the switch, the rescheduling reportedly was made because of the confusion.

House kills security-deposit bill

The Illinois House Thursday killed a bill that would have allowed suburban renters to collect interest on security deposits.

The law, already in effect in Chicago, had been amended by the House last summer to allow landlords to pay the interest when a lease expired rather than on an annual basis. Major rental agents contended the annual payment clause would create additional bookkeeping problems and probably force rent increases.

Gov. Daniel Walker used his amendatory veto power to restore the annual interest-payment provision. The Senate voted to override the veto 44-1 Nov. 4, but the House action, which produced an 81-61 vote, killed the bill. At least 89 votes were needed to override the veto.

Both the House and the Senate moved through a number of minor bills Thursday in an attempt to meet a midnight Friday deadline for action on all vetoed legislation.

SENATE BACKERS of a bill to override Walker's amendatory veto of a provision which legalizes card games in homes and private clubs delayed final action after a test vote indicated they did not have enough supporters for an override.

Walker used his veto power to include a clause that would have the bill expire in one year. Opponents of the bill argued that it would open the door for full-fledged gambling in Illinois. Supporters contend the legislation is aimed at preventing police from breaking up card games in homes and clubs.

"We want to be sure that there are no repercussions like those which occurred when the county sheriff's police began raiding church-sponsored bingo games before that activity became legal, State Sen. Frank Savickas, D-Chicago, said.

In another matter, the House voted to grant Illinois National Guardsmen free tuition and fees to attend state universities. The legislation is aimed at encouraging more persons to join the National Guard.

CIA attempted to kill Castro, Lumumba and other actions were plotted by "officials at the highest levels" under the administrations of Dwight D. Eisenhower, Lyndon B. Johnson, John F. Kennedy and — in the 1970 case of Chile's Gen. Schneider — Richard M. Nixon.

High officials named in the report as having knowledge of at least some of the plots against Castro and Lumumba included the late Allen W. Dulles, CIA director at the time, and former CIA Deputy Director Richard Bissell.

All five foreign leaders mentioned in the report — except Castro — were in fact killed in various circumstances.

The report said the United States had nothing to do with the murder of Lumumba by Congolese rebels, but it supplied guns or other aid to the groups that eventually killed Diem, Diem's brother, Trujillo and Schneider, a general who stood in the way of what the report described as intensive U.S. efforts to overthrow Chile's Marxist President Salvador Allende.

The document, after a five-month investigation and review by the full Senate, was finally made public over the strong protests of President Ford and CIA Director William E. Colby, who said its publication would damage the national interest and possibly subject officials involved to violent retaliation.

In its major recommendation, the report said "assassination has no place in America's arsenal" and recommended that "a flat ban against assassinations should be written into law."

"The evidence establishes that the United States was implicated in several assassination plots," the report said.

An introduction stressed that the report was "interim" and that in the continuing investigations "other alleged assassination plots may surface."

The report listed these cases "in which foreign political leaders in fact were killed and the United States was in some manner involved:"

— Lumumba: "In the fall of 1960, two CIA officials were asked by superiors to assassinate Lumumba. Poisons were sent to the Congo and some exploratory steps were taken toward gaining access to Lumumba. Subsequently, in early 1961, Lumumba was killed by Congolese rivals. It does not appear from the evidence that the United States was in any way involved in the killing."

— Castro: "U.S. government personnel plotted to kill Castro from 1960 to 1965. American underworld figures and Cubans hostile to Castro were used in these plots, and were provided encouragement and material support by the United States." The report identified the main "underworld" figure as Las Vegas gambler John Roselli, who helped organize two attempts to poison Castro, and said he had help at various times from the late Sam Giancana, the reputed former Chicago Mafia boss who was shot to death earlier this year, and reputed Mafia figure Santo Trafficante. It said the weapons considered for use in Castro plots ranged from poison cigars and pens to exploding seashells.

— Trujillo: "Trujillo was shot by Dominican dissidents on May 31, 1961. From early in 1960 and continuing to the time of the assassination, the United States government generally supported these dissidents. There is conflicting evidence concerning whether U.S. weapons were knowingly supplied for use in the assassination.

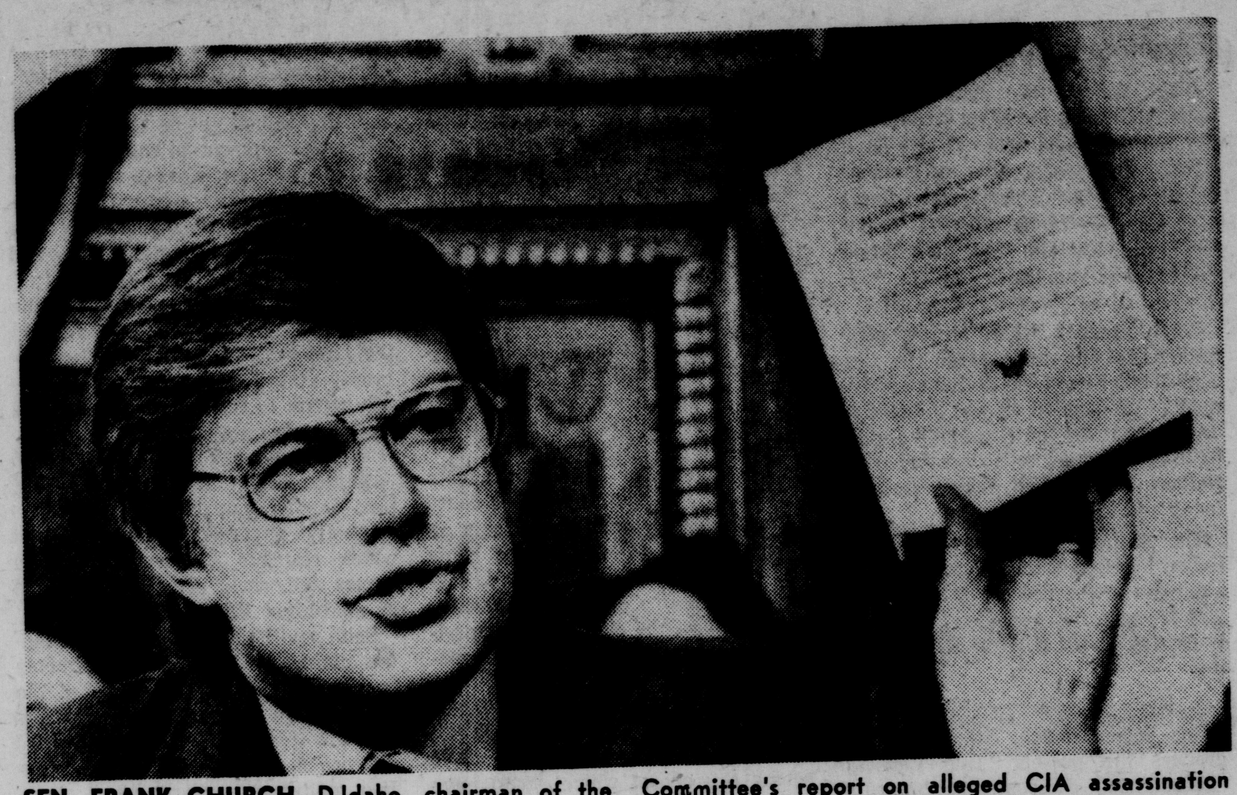
— Diem: "Diem and his brother, Nhu, were killed on Nov. 21, 1963, in the course of a South Vietnamese generals' coup. Although the United States government supported the coup, there is no evidence that American officials favored the assassination.

— Schneider: "On Oct. 25, 1970, General Schneider died of gunshot wounds inflicted three days earlier while resisting a kidnap attempt. Schneider, as commander-in-chief of the Army and a constitutionalist opposed to military coups, was considered an obstacle in efforts to prevent Salvador Allende from assuming the office of President of Chile. The U.S. government supported, and sought to instigate a military coup to block Allende . . ."

It added on the Schneider case: "Although the CIA continued to support coup plotters up to Schneider's shooting, the record indicates that the CIA had withdrawn support of the group which carried out the kidnap attempt which resulted in Schneider's death.

While exonerating the CIA of direct intention to kill Diem, Schneider or Trujillo, the report made clear it considers the United States morally involved because of its support for groups known to be plotting the death of those men or at least plotting violent actions that could result in death.

It also said Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson "should have known" of the CIA plots if they did not and hold "ultimate responsibility" in their capacities as commanders in chief.



SEN. FRANK CHURCH, D-Idaho, chairman of the Senate Intelligence Committee, holds a copy of the Committee's report on alleged CIA assassination plots involving foreign leaders.

CIA plots at-a-glance

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Highlights of CIA assassination plots against foreign leaders:

• The CIA Agency plotted between 1960 and 1965 to assassinate Premier Fidel Castro of Cuba, and Premier Patrice Lumumba of The Congo. The plots did not succeed, but Lumumba was killed by Congolese rebels in 1961.

• The Nixon Administration did seek to foment a military coup in 1973 to undermine Salvador Allende, a Marxist, who was elected President of Chile. Allende died in a military coup which occurred after the CIA withdrew active support from Allende opponents.

• The United States supplied weapons to dissidents in the Dominican Republic but "there is conflicting evidence" whether these were used to assassinate dictator Rafel Trujillo, May 31, 1961.

• President John F. Kenedy's administration encouraged plotters who subsequently overthrew South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem. But Diem's assassination Nov. 2, 1963, was a "spontaneous act" not prompted by U.S. officials.

• The Senate panel could not clearly ascribe responsibility for the CIA plots, but Sen. Charles Mathias, R-Md., said at a news conference that ultimate responsibility seemed to rest in the White House.

• The report made no judgments as to the role of former Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy, Johnson or Nixon in formulating assassination plots. Sen. Frank Church, chairman of the Senate committee, said it would be unfair to do so since three former chief executives are dead and could not speak on their own behalf.

• The report recommended new legislation to make a federal crime of conspiracy to commit assassination, attempted assassination, or assassination, of a foreign leader outside the United States.

Toy gun jolts Reagan watchers

MIAMI (UPI) — Ronald Reagan announced his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination in Washington Thursday, and at his first campaign appearance in Florida five hours later was jolted by an assassination scare.

A young man flashed what turned out to be a plastic toy pistol from a few feet away and was wrestled to the ground by Secret Service agents.

Neither Reagan nor his wife, Nancy, appeared ruffled by the incident. At a news conference minutes later both were calm and relaxed.

The Secret Service — which began protecting Reagan only after he became a formal condidate earlier in the day — identified him as Michael L. Carvin, a 20-year-old white male from Pompano Beach, who wants Lynette Fromme freed from prison.

Miss Fromme is on trial for threatening the life of President Ford after aiming a pistol at him during an appearance in Sacramento, Calif., Sept. 5.

"We have reason to believe he is the same person who called our Denver office on Nov. 10 from a public phone booth in Pompano Beach and threatened the lives of the President, vice president and Governor Reagan unless Lynette Fromme was freed," said Robert Newbrand, Miami special agent.

Carvin was described as burly, about 5-feet-11 or 6-feet, 180 pounds, and strong. It took three Secret Service agents, trained in hand-to-hand combat, to wrestle him to the ground when his gun was noticed in a flag-waving crowd of Reagan supporters outside a Miami hotel.

Cost of living up again in October

WASHINGTON (UPI) — higher prices for food and shelter drove the cost of living up 0.7 per cent in October, the third largest monthly surge of inflation this year, the Labor Department said Thursday.

The average worker with a home and family was hit hardest in October when the cost of groceries and homeownership — particularly fuel and mortgage rates — served to wipe out the small increase in his paycheck.

Economists feared the October increase, reflecting a 8.4 per cent annual rate, could portend a gradual resurgence of inflation since it cooled to a three-year low of 0.2 per cent in August. The October jump 0.2 per cent more than September, begins to approach a 1975 peak of 0.8 per cent in June and 1.2 per cent in July.

Consumer food prices, which usually drop in October, jumped a hefty 1.3 per cent, also the third highest increase in 1975. Prices were up for beef, pork, dairy products, coffee and processed fruits and vegetables. But poultry, egg and fresh fruit prices declined.

Other commodities increased 0.3 per cent and service costs were up 0.6 per cent — both reflecting the average increase over the past eight months. But the brunt of these increases were related to shelter.

Prospective and current homeowners felt a pinch because of significantly higher prices for fuel and coal, mortgage interest rates, furnishings, appliances, home repairs, natural gas and water, sewer and telephone rates.

Mortgage rates have risen 2 per cent since May. The 0.9 per cent October increase primarily reflected increases for VA-guaranteed loans.

Renters, however, did not escape the pressures of inflation. Rents rose 0.7 per cent the largest increase this year.

The figures mean goods and services costing $100 in 1967 are now $164.60.

Spaniards mourn death of Franco

MADRID, Spain (UPI) — The Spanish government proclaimed a 30-day mourning period for Generalissimo Francisco Franco Thursday, but his death touched off the first signs of the political turmoil that brought him to power 36 years ago.

Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon, due to be sworn in Saturday as king, led 200 mourners at a private afternoon mass in the candle-lit chapel of Franco's suburban El Pardo Palace.

Thousands of Spaniards, some of them aged veterans that fought alongside Franco in Spain's civil war, crowded the streets outside La Paz Hospital soon after the 82-year-old general died.

"It's horrible, he meant everything to me," one mourner said, breaking into tears. "Juan Carlos is simpatico, but I'll never love him the way I loved Franco."

A three-man Regency Council took over running the country until the prince assumes the throne left vacant when his grandfather, Afonso XIII, fled into exile in 1931.

Six hours after the general died, a black hearse took Franco's body, dressed in a bemedaled commander-in-chief's uniform, from the hospital to the chapel.

The remains, placed in a gilded casket lined with satin, will lie in state at the chapel for 24 hours before being moved to the palace itself for a day of public viewing.

A motorcycle escort, a contingent of his red-bereted personal guards and tearful members of Franco's family accompanied the hearse past the white and yellow walls of the palace.

The decree proclaiming the 30-day mourning period shut banks for two days, places of entertainment for three and schools for a week.

Red and yellow Spanish flags appeared at half staff on streets. Artillery units and warships fired round-the-clock salvoes. Black bands adorned the door handles of taxis.

Prime Minister Carlos Arias Navarro went on television after Franco's death to read the crudely typed testament in which the generalissimo adamently refused to make concessions to reformers.

"Do not forget that the enemies of Spain and of Christian civilization are on alert," Franco wrote. "Stand guard and give up all personal interest in favor of the supreme interests of the fatherland and of the Spanish people." Rightists promptly called on the 37-year-old prince to abide by Franco's authoritarian policies to the letter.

World ...s, meanwhile, acknowledged th... th of Franco in restrained terms, generally avoiding mention of his 36 years of dictatorial rule.

President Ford edpressed "deepest sympathy" for Franco's family, but referred to him only as the man "who led his country for almost four decades through a significant era in Spanish history."

"We wish the Spanish people and the government of Spain well in the period ahead. The United States for its part will continue to pursue the policy of friendship and cooperation which has formed the touchstone for the excellent relations existing between our two countries."

Canadian oil cuts met by FEA

The Federal Energy Administration met sharp cuts in Canadian crude oil exports Thursday with a proposed new allocation system will slash its exports next year even more drastically than pre- that could make some U.S. refiners look elsewhere next year for almost half the oil they now get from Canada. Canada announced it viously planned and will shut off the flow entirely by 1981. An FEA spokesman said the new U.S. allocation proposal is designed to cushion the impact of Canada's cutback by hitting hardest those refiners who are capable of replacing their Canadian supplies with oil from other sources.

N.Y. legislature struggles to hike taxes

The legislature struggled Thursday to raise New York City taxes by $200 million and satisfy President Ford's condition for more self-help before Washington steps in to save the city from financial collapse. To speed action, Gov. Hugh L. Carey reportedly agreed to delay a $872 million state tax package and concentrate instead on higher taxes just for New York City to prevent default.

Evidence of IRA guns on Queen Elizabeth 2

The Queen Elizabeth 2 sailed from England for New York Thursday with several hundred passengers. Police had disclosed they had evidence the transatlantic liner smuggled IRA guns and explosives from New York to Britain. Southampton police sources said a two-day search of the vessel this week proved their suspicions that it was a key carrier of IRA war material to the United Kingdom.

The decree proclaiming the 30-day mourning period shut banks for two days, places of entertainment for three and schools for a week.

Red and yellow Spanish flags appeared at half staff on streets. Artillery units and warships fired round-the-clock salvoes. Black bands adorned the door handles of taxis.

Prime Minister Carlos Arias Navarro went on television after Franco's death to read the crudely typed testament in which the generalissimo adamently refused to make concessions to reformers.

"Do not forget that the enemies of Spain and of Christian civilization are on alert," Franco wrote. "Stand guard and give up all personal interest in favor of the supreme interests of the fatherland and of the Spanish people." Rightists promptly called on the 37-year-old prince to abide by Franco's authoritarian policies to the letter.

World ers, meanwhile, acknowledged th th of Franco in restrained terms, generally avoiding mention of his 36 years of dictatorial rule.

President Ford edpressed "deepest sympathy" for Franco's family, but referred to him only as the man "who led his country for almost four decades through a significant era in Spanish history."

"We wish the Spanish people and the government of Spain well in the period ahead. The United States for its part will continue to pursue the policy of friendship and cooperation which has formed the touchstone for the excellent relations existing between our two countries."

Canadian oil cuts met by FEA

The Federal Energy Administration met sharp cuts in Canadian crude oil exports Thursday with a proposed new allocation system will slash its exports next year even more drastically than pre- that could make some U.S. refiners look elsewhere next year for almost half the oil they now get from Canada. Canada announced it viously planned and will shut off the flow entirely by 1981. An FEA spokesman said the new U.S. allocation proposal is designed to cushion the impact of Canada's cutback by hitting hardest those refiners who are capable of replacing their Canadian supplies with oil from other sources.

N.Y. legislature struggles to hike taxes

The legislature struggled Thursday to raise New York City taxes by $200 million and satisfy President Ford's condition for more self-help before Washington steps in to save the city from financial collapse. To speed action, Gov. Hugh L. Carey reportedly agreed to delay a $872 million state tax package and concentrate instead on higher taxes just for New York City to prevent default.

Israeli, Palestinian troops clash

Israeli troops and Palestinian guerrillas clashed with rifles, bazookas and machineguns Thursday in a flareup of fighting along the Lebanese frontier. A Palestinian spokesman in Beirut said the guerrillas ambushed an Israeli patrol near the border, destroying a vehicle and killing or wounding all its occupants.

The militay command in Tel Aviv said there were no casualties.

Evidence of IRA guns on Queen Elizabeth 2

The Queen Elizabeth 2 sailed from England for New York Thursday with several hundred passengers. Police had disclosed they had evidence the transatlantic liner smuggled IRA guns and explosives from New York to Britain. Southampton police sources said a two-day search of the vessel this week proved their suspicions that it was a key carrier of IRA war material to the United Kingdom.

Donald Rumsfeld sworn in as Secretary of Defense

• Donald Rumsfeld was sworn in as defense secretary Thursday and his boss, President Ford, said both men agree that although strong military defense and foreign policy is costly, "it is a price that must be paid." Rumsfeld, former White House chief of Staff, was nominated after Ford dismissed James R. Schlesinger in a major shake-up of the national security establishment at the height of a battle with Congress over the size of the defense budget.

• Mayor Richard J. Daley said Thursday he thinks his telephone has been tapped "by a lot of people for a good many years," but he doesn't mind. "What I do is an open book," the mayor said, laughing. "I'm no saint and no sinner. Anybody can listen to my conversations." Though he considers phone taps a violation of his rights, Daley said: "In public office a lot of things happen to your rights."

Zone hearings planned for golf course, home

The Cook County Zoning Board acted Thursday to ensure full-scale zoning hearings before allowing development on the Rob Roy Golf Course in Wheeling Township and the Magnus farm in unincorporated Elk Grove Township.

The board agreed to recommend to the Cook County Board that the golf course retain its present, single-family zoning when the county board adopts new zoning maps, despite earlier requests from the golf course owner, Patrick B. McDonald, that the land be zoned to allow apartment development.

In a victory for Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect, the zoning board also agreed to recommend zoning on Magnus Farm, a convalescent home between Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights on Central Road, which will not allow the owner to put apartments on the land without further zoning hearings.

ON THE ROB ROY case, neighboring homeowners had asked that the zoning remain single-family after seeing a proposal which would have allowed an apartment development to be built around an 18-hole golf course.

Zoning board chairman Alex Seith said, "We've heard an enormous amount on Rob Roy, all of which has convinced me that if there is going to be development, there ought to be hearings on it."

Seith also revealed that the Rob Roy owner had sent a letter to the zoning board saying if apartment developments were not allowed on the land he will ask for rezoning to allow a single-family subdivision with smaller lots than are presently allowed under the golf course zoning.

Seith said a recommendation that Rob Roy zoning not be changed "will encourage someone to come in with a plan of what they want to do with the land. If this land owner thinks the land ought to be all single-family with smaller lots he can come in to us and make his case."

IN THE CASE of Magnus Farm, the owner, Alexander Magnus, had asked the land be zoned to allow 17 multi-family units per acre with a special-use permit to restrict the apartments to retirement homes.

The villages of Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights had objected to that plan on the grounds that the land is currently governed by a covenant which restricts its use to nursing homes and would not allow any kind of apartment development.

Seith said he understands that Magnus claims he could put apartments on the land under the terms of the 1965 covenant, however, he said, "It is my view that in 1965 the zoning board did not contemplate allowing high-rise, multi-family apartments.

Seith said that by granting a low-density zoning on the land with a special-use permit to allow the continued operation of the nursing home, "We are giving the owner essentially what he has now. He can come in to us with a proposal if he wants to change that."

Druggist still filling orders — 25 years later

by JOANN VAN WYE

The Harris Pharmacy in Arlington Heights is truly a "family pharmacy" with roots dating back 90 years and spanning three and a half generations.

When George Harris graduated from high school it was only natural that he enroll in pharmacy school carrying on a tradition that started with his grandfather who came to Illinois in the 1880's from Canada where he had been a teacher. He became a pharmacist's apprentice and in 1885 he bought his own pharmacy near Kinzie and Cicero avenues in what was then Moreland,Ill. for $3,000.

Moreland became Austin and finally part of Chicago but the family business remained basically unchanged with Harris' father taking over from his father.

HARRIS SPENT a couple of years working in the family store, which finally closed 10 years ago, but the big city wasn't for him.

"I always wanted a store in a small town," Harris said.

Recently married to one of three women in his pharmacy class he was anxious to settle down. On his days off he would hop in his car with his wife, Marion, in search of the small town.

It was on a trek to Crystal Lake that the two "stumbled" across Arlington Heights. Three months later in 1950 they opened their first pharmacy in Arlington Heights at Vail Avenue and Davis Street.

HARRIS AND Marion worked together in the store from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. to make it go. Marion, who also comes from a family of pharmacists, has since retired but maintains her pharmacist's license.

The popularion of Arlington Heights was listed as 8,000 in 1950 and Harris says that even seems high. He was the third pharmacist in town.

Harris moved the pharmacy into the Dunton Court Shopping Center in 1956 to have more room and has since opened a second pharmacy at 1430 N. Arlington Heights Rd.

In the early days the soda fountain at the Harris pharmacy was the village meeting place but it was taken out about four years ago when the store was remodeled.

"We just couldn't make any money on the fountain," Harris said, remembering how cones used to cost him 8 cents and the customers 10 cents. Harris also said the types of goods he sells in the store have changed and are more limited today than they were 25 years ago when he was practically running a hardware store.

HARRIS' BROTHER, Kenneth, works with him in the store now, and his son, Bill, is in a prepharmacy program at Harper College.

Although Arlington Heights didn't turn out to be quite as small as he hoped, Harris has never regretted the move here. During the 25 years he has been in the village he has been active in the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club and served on the Arlington Heights Dist. 25 Board of Education.

To thank all his friends and patrons for 25 years in Arlington Heights, Harris is having a special celebration today and Saturday complete with prizes, cake, coffee and lots of friendly talk.

Talks set today on rate hike for refuse service

Discussions on possible refuse rate increases will begin today between the Village of Arlington Heights and the Laseke Disposal Co.

The meeting will be between representatives of the disposal company, which has the exclusive hauling service contract in the village, and members of the village administration.

The disposal company is seeking a rate increase above the 5 per cent annual increase guaranteed in the village contract because of increased labor and fuel costs and dumping fees at the Wauconda landfill.

It is not known at this time how much of an increase Laseke is seeking, Health Director George Weinand said.

If the rate increase is granted, it would take effect Jan. 1, 1976.

After the review by the administrative team, the Laseke request will be considered by the finance committee in early December prior to board action. Laseke is completing the second year of a five-year contract with the village. The contract was signed in October 1973 after extended negotiations with the disposal company.

Robber gets $650 from Ponderosa

A man, armed with a small-caliber pistol, robbed the Ponderosa Steak House, Golf and Algonquin roads, Arlington Heights, Thursday night. He fled with between $600 and $650 in cash.

Arlington Heights police said the robber entered the restaurant about 8:45 p.m., shortly before closing, and demanded cash from the managers at gunpoint.

The man then fled north bound on foot, police said.

The bandit was described as about 6-feet tall with blond hair wearing a tan jacket and brown sweater. He had a ruddy complexion, police said.

Druggist still filling orders — 25 years later

by JOANN VAN WYE

The Harris Pharmacy in Arlington Heights is truly a "family pharmacy" with roots dating back 90 years and spanning three and a half generations.

When George Harris graduated from high school it was only natural that he enroll in pharmacy school carrying on a tradition that started with his grandfather who came to Illinois in the 1880's from Canada where he had been a teacher. He became a pharmacist's apprentice and in 1885 he bought his own pharmacy near Kinzie and Cicero avenues in what was then Moreland,Ill. for $3,000.

Moreland became Austin and finally part of Chicago but the family business remained basically unchanged with Harris' father taking over from his father.

HARRIS SPENT a couple of years working in the family store, which finally closed 10 years ago, but the big city wasn't for him.

"I always wanted a store in a small town," Harris said.

Recently married to one of three women in his pharmacy class he was anxious to settle down. On his days off he would hop in his car with his wife, Marion, in search of the small town.

It was on a trek to Crystal Lake that the two "stumbled" across Arlington Heights. Three months later in 1950 they opened their first pharmacy in Arlington Heights at Vail Avenue and Davis Street.

HARRIS AND Marion worked together in the store from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. to make it go. Marion, who also comes from a family of pharmacists, has since retired but maintains her pharmacist's license.

The popularion of Arlington Heights was listed as 8,000 in 1950 and Harris says that even seems high. He was the third pharmacist in town.

Harris moved the pharmacy into the Dunton Court Shopping Center in 1956 to have more room and has since opened a second pharmacy at 1430 N. Arlington Heights Rd.

In the early days the soda fountain at the Harris pharmacy was the village meeting place but it was taken out about four years ago when the store was remodeled.

"We just couldn't make any money on the fountain," Harris said, remembering how cones used to cost him 8 cents and the customers 10 cents. Harris also said the types of goods he sells in the store have changed and are more limited today than they were 25 years ago when he was practically running a hardware store.

HARRIS' BROTHER, Kenneth, works with him in the store now, and his son, Bill, is in a prepharmacy program at Harper College.

Although Arlington Heights didn't turn out to be quite as small as he hoped, Harris has never regretted the move here. During the 25 years he has been in the village he has been active in the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club and served on the Arlington Heights Dist. 25 Board of Education.

To thank all his friends and patrons for 25 years in Arlington Heights, Harris is having a special celebration today and Saturday complete with prizes, cake, coffee and lots of friendly talk.

Talks set today on rate hike for refuse service

Discussions on possible refuse rate increases will begin today between the Village of Arlington Heights and the Laseke Disposal Co.

The meeting will be between representatives of the disposal company, which has the exclusive hauling service contract in the village, and members of the village administration.

The disposal company is seeking a rate increase above the 5 per cent annual increase guaranteed in the village contract because of increased labor and fuel costs and dumping fees at the Wauconda landfill.

It is not known at this time how much of an increase Laseke is seeking, Health Director George Weinand said.

If the rate increase is granted, it would take effect Jan. 1, 1976.

After the review by the administrative team, the Laseke request will be considered by the finance committee in early December prior to board action. Laseke is completing the second year of a five-year contract with the village. The contract was signed in October 1973 after extended negotiations with the disposal company.

Dow drops four points; trading closes at 843

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices fell for the third consecutive day in light trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

A 0.7 per cent rise in the Consumer Price Index and the uncertainty surrounding New York City overshadowed the news of a third quarter surge in the Gross National Product and corporate profits, and prompted profit taking.

After fluctuating much of the day, the Dow Jones industrial average, a 7-point loser Wednesday, dropped another 4.73 points to 843.51, bringing its three-day loss to 13.15 points.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index lost 0.34 to 89.64 and the average price of an NYSE common share decreased by 12 cents.

Of the 1,822 issues crossing the tape, 790 declined, 572 advanced and 460 remained unchanged.

Volume slowed to 16,460,000 shares from the 16,820,000 traded Wednesday.

Analysts said the Consumer Price Index rise was expected since the Wholesale Price Index rose 1.8 per cent in October. Both indicated inflation is a major obstacle to the economic recovery which got under way in the third quarter.

The government's revised figures showed the Gross National Product rose 13.2 per cent in the third period instead of 11.2 per cent as reported earlier, and that corporate profits soared 17 per cent. The gains were the best in 25 years.

Suits filed over new abortion law

by KAREN BLECHA

Lawsuits charging that the new restrictive Illinois abortion law is unconstitutional were filed in Chicago Thursday as hospitals, abortion clinics and pregnancy counseling services remained confused as to when the law takes effect.

The law requires a married woman to have her husband's written consent and an unmarried woman, under age 18, both her parents' written consent before obtaining an abortion. The law also prohibits use of saline abortions and fetal experiments.

Requests were made to the office of Gov. Daniel Walker Thussday as to when the bill would become law. There is question whether the law takes effect immediately or next year.

OFFICIALS AT Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge, the only Northwest suburban hospital allowing nontherapeutic abortions in the first trimester of pregnancy, said they did not know how the bill would affect the hospital. They pointed out that the hospital already requires written consent of parents or husband.

The two suits were filed in Federal District Court by the American Civil Liberties Union on behalf of three Chicago doctors and by the Midwest Population Center, Chicago, which performs 175 to 200 abortions a month without requiring consent.

Both suits seek an immediate order halting implementation of the law until a court rules on its constitutionality. It is no known when eiher suit will be heard.

David Hamlin, ACLU executive director, said the new law contradicts the U.S. Supreme Court ruling that an abortion is a private matter between a woman and her doctor.

BARBARA MICHELIN, director of Crossroads Clinic, Palatine, which provides pregnancy counseling, called the new law "terrible." She said minors will lie about their age and married women say they are unmarried just to get an abortion.

"This may bring back backroom abortions," she said.

Marcy Sneed, Arlington Heights resident and vice president of the Illinois Right to Life Committee, said she was "thrilled" with the new law. She believes requiring consent may prevent some abortions and that saline abortions are medically unsafe.

The new law was passed Wednesday when the Illinois Senate voted to override the governor's veto. The House passed an override veto several weeks before.

Illinois Bell urged to cut phone rates for elderly

Elderly and handicapped telephone customers deserve a rate reduction, a group of senior citizens testified at an Illinois Commerce Commission hearing Thursday in Chicago.

The senior citizens' request for lower telephone rates was made at a hearing on Illinois Bell Telephone Company's bid for a $178 million rate increase.

"If only one elderly or handicapped person dies as a result of not being able to call for help because of phone rate increases, I assure you that the death of that person will haunt officials of Illinois Bell and the Illinois Commerce Commission," said Allen Morrow, vice president of the United Senior Citizens of Jane Addams Hull House, Chicago.

"Right now, many old people are having their phones disconnected because they cannot afford the higher rates," testified Margentile Pollard, 72.

Average residential customer bills would increase $2 a month and directory-assistance charges would be levied if the Illinois Bell rate increase is granted. The commission must rule on the case by February, 1976. Hearings continue today at 10 a.m. in the State of Illinois Building, Chicago.

GOP hopeful, slatemakers to meet

Joan Anderson, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, will discuss her campaign and election issues Saturday at 8 a.m. with Republican township committeemen from the North and Northwest suburbs.

The breakfast meeting will be at the Rolling Green Country Club in Arlington Heights. The meeting will include committeemen from the 10th and 12th Congressional Districts.

Mrs. Anderson is the only Republican on the Metropolitan Sanitary District board of trustees.

Financial doldrums seen with declining enrollment

by KATHERINE BOYCE

The closing of at least four schools in Arlington Heights Dist. 25 seems likely over the next 9 years as enrollment is forecast to drop 31 per cent.

According to a planning study prepared by management consultants Booz, Allen and Hamilton, enrollment in the district is projected to drop from 7,938 students this year to 5,218 by 1984. The decline spells financial doom for the district as expenses rise slightly with inflation and revenue drops sharply with the resulting cutback in state aid. The financial deficit in the district is estimated at $3.9 million by 1984.

The consultants prepared three staff reduction plans and five plans calling for the closing of a minimum of four schools. No decision on whether to close any schools will be made by the board of education until after it reviews the study and meets with residents in a series of eight public sessions in December and January.

ENROLLMENT IN Dist. 25 peaked in 1969 with 10,000 students in 19 schools. Dwyer School was closed shortly thereafter when enrollments dropped.

Between 1975 and 1984 enrollment is projected to drop 46 per cent at Miner, 35 per cent at Rand, 33 per cent at South and 41 per cent at Thomas junior high schools. Enrollment is projected to drop 38 per cent in the Berkley and Ivy Hill schools area, 27 per cent in the Greenbrier and Patton schools area, 30 per cent in the Olive and Wilson schools area, 31 per cent in the North and Ridge schools area, 31 per cent in the Kensington and Windsor schools area, 28 per cent in the Park and Westgate schools area, 29 per cent in the Dryden and dunton schools area.

Consultants suggested that the district update the enrollment figures annually.

District revenue will drop as enrollment declines. Revenue is expected to drop from about $11.5 million this year to about $8.25 million by 1984. Expenses will increase with inflation from about $11.5 million this year to about $12.25 by 1984.

The state now figures per pupil costs for elementary schools at between, $1,260 and $1,400. As enrollment declines the state, under its schools-aid formula, reduces district revenue by $1,260 to $1,400 for each child the district loses.

An increase in taxes is one option considered by consultants in their report. The district now levies at about $2.30 per $100 assessed valuation. The state will allow the district to levy 42 cents higher to $2.72 with a referendum.

OTHER OPTIONS considered by the consultants were cutbacks in educational programs, increasingly stringent control of district compensation, purchasing and contractual services, school closings, and increases in class size.

The consultants recommended that before any cuts in educational programs are considered, the district should exhaust all efforts to improve use of facilities and staff.

By closing a school the district would save between $29,000 and $100,000 in addition to the savings that would result from staff and administrative reductions.

There has been no discussion on the possible uses of the empty schools, however, the district would probably sell or lease the buildings to another public agency.

The district has no plans for reduction in staff other than that provided under state law, which says all nontenured teachers would be released from service first.

The consultant's three alternatives for increased staff effectiveness are:

- Plan A. Increase the average class size from 25 to 30 students.
- Plan B. Eliminate staff positions as schools are closed.
- Plan C. Eliminate staff and district-wide special programs and administrative services.

THE CONSULTANT'S five alternatives for building use are:

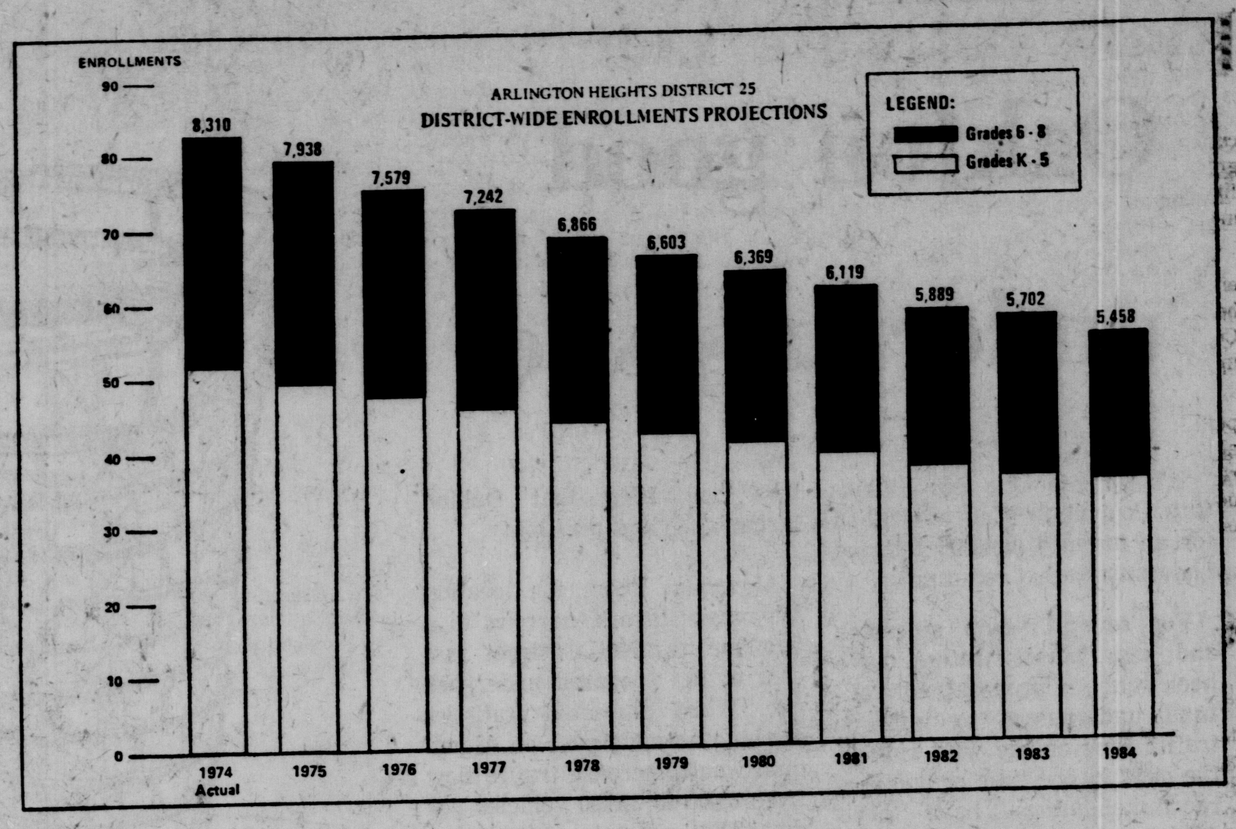
- Plan 1. Close North School in 1976 and Wilson, Dryden and Windsor schools in 1977. Operate Miner Junior High School as a kindergarten-through-eighth-grade school from 1977 on and close Kensington in 1982 or 1983 and Westgate or Greenbrier schools before June 1984. There would be a moderate increase in bussing costs.
- Plan 2. Close North school in 1976 and South and Thomas junior high schools in 1979. Beginning in 1979, operate Miner and Windsor schools as a single junior high and send Windsor's kindergarten-through-fifth-grade students to Kensington and Olive schools. Close Wilson school in 1981. Thomas would be easy to lease or sell due to its location the report said, but the district would be eliminating an excellent facility. Busing costs would increase significantly.
- Plan 3. Close Thomas and South junior high schools in 1977 and return sixth graders to elementary schools. Close North school in 1980 and Kensington School in 1981 or 1982. This would result in the fewest school closings and would not increase busing significantly.
- Plan 4. Close North, Wilson, Kensington and Dryden schools in 1977 and operate South, Miner and Thomas junior high schools with fifth-through-eighth graders. Close Westgate, Dunton, Greenbrier and Ivy Hill schools in 1984 and operate Rand junior high school with fifth through eighth graders. This is the most cost-effective plan, but would involve a great deal of busing.
- Plan 5. Close South, North and Kensington schools in 1976 or 1977. Close Wilson and Dryden schools in 1980 and Greenbrier or Windsor schools in 1984. Busing would increase significantly.

Dist. 25 plans talks on enrollments

Citizens will have the opportunity to respond to a report on declining enrollment in Arlington Heights Dist. 25 in a series of eight public meetings scheduled by the board of education.

All meetings will begin at 7:30 p.m. on:

- DEC. 3 AT DRYDEN SCHOOL
- DEC. 4 AT RAND JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL
- DEC. 8 AT MINER JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL
- DEC. 10 AT THOMAS JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL
- DEC. 15 AT NORTH SCHOOL
- DEC. 16 AT WILSON SCHOOL
- JAN. 6 AT IVY HILL SCHOOL
- JAN. 12 AT SOUTH JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL



Northwest Jews rally at UN protest

By KURT BAER

Jews from the Northwest suburbs massed with a thousand supporters at Chicago's Civic Center plaza Thursday to demonstrate their outrage over the United Nation's resolution equating Zionism with racism.

A group of 33 Jews boarded a bus at Buffalo Grove's Ranch Mart Shopping Center for the rally. They went out of a deeply-felt conviction that 35 miles and a rain-riddled wind would not keep them from standing up for Israel. Theirs was one of several buses from the area chartered for the protest.

"I'm going to show strength — to stand up and be counted," said Joyce Jacobson of Arlington Heights. "We know what happened to the Jews in Germany and we won't take it again. We've learned from our experience."

TO THESE JEWS, Zionism asserts the right to exist for the Jewish state of Israel. The UN resolution, passed last week over the strong objections of the United States, is laden with anti-Semitism that leads their minds back to Nazi Germany's extermination of six million European Jews.

"People are very afraid that what happened in Germany could happen again. Many of us feel that because we live in the United States we're assimilated. And we are very assimilated in Arlington Heights and Buffalo Grove. But we're concerned about the rest of the world, too," said Sara Kalina of Arlington Heights.

Aboard the bus a chorus of "Havah Nagilah," led by five teen-agers from the area Shalom El Amiee B'nai B'rith Youth Organization, helped pass the miles.

"We've heard both sides of the UN resolution and we want to help support our fellow Jews," said 15-year-old Noreen Weiner of Buffalo Grove, who admitted the trip to the Loop was something of an inconvenience for her. "But if you really want do to something you do it — no matter what it takes. And we want to show our spirit as Jews."

CARRYING PLACARDS that read: "Buffalo Grove and Arlington Heights Jews Stand Up for Zionism" and "Zionism is a Badge of Honor," the group made their way to the crowded Civic Center Plaza where they heard Jewish leaders, Gov. Dan Walker and other speakers denounce the U.N. resolution.

Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, who was expected to attend, did not. He sent Deputy Mayor Kenneth Sain to stand in. There was speculation that Daley had refused to share the speakers platform with Walker.

"We may be force to import Arabian oil, but we should not give in to importing Arabian hatred as well," Walker told the cheering throng.

"Let's keep raising our voices to let the whole world know where America stands on this issue. We are not going to rest until we put that resolution where it belongs — out of sight and dead."

Walker said the UN's Zionism resolution was "an outrageous lie, an insult to U.S. taxpayers who help support the UN and in insult to freedom-loving people around the world."

SAIN TOLD the demonstrators Daley "has always stood up for Israel."

Financial doldrums seen with declining enrollment

by KATHERINE BOYCE

The closing of at least four schools in Arlington Heights Dist. 25 seems likely over the next 9 years as enrollment is forecast to drop 31 per cent.

According to a planning study prepared by management consultants Booz, Allen and Hamilton, enrollment in the district is projected to drop from 7,938 students this year to 5,218 by 1984. The decline spells financial doom for the district as expenses rise slightly with inflation and revenue drops sharply with the resulting cutback in state aid. The financial deficit in the district is estimated at $3.9 million by 1984.

The consultants prepared three staff reduction plans and five plans calling for the closing of a minimum of four schools. No decision on whether to close any schools will be made by the board of education until after it reviews the study and meets with residents in a series of eight public sessions in December and January.

ENROLLMENT IN Dist. 25 peaked in 1969 with 10,000 students in 19 schools. Dwyer School was closed shortly thereafter when enrollments dropped.

Between 1975 and 1984 enrollment is projected to drop 46 per cent at Miner, 35 per cent at Rand, 33 per cent at South and 41 per cent at Thomas junior high schools. Enrollment is projected to drop 38 per cent in the Berkley and Ivy Hill schools area, 27 per cent in the Greenbrier and Patton schools area, 30 per cent in the Olive and Wilson schools area, 31 per cent in the North and Ridge schools area, 31 per cent in the Kensington and Windsor schools area, 28 per cent in the Park and Westgate schools area, 29 per cent in the Dryden and dunton schools area.

Consultants suggested that the district update the enrollment figures annually.

District revenue will drop as enrollment declines. Revenue is expected to drop from about $11.5 million this year to about $8.25 million by 1984. Expenses will increase with inflation from about $11.5 million this year to about $12.25 by 1984.

The state now figures per pupil costs for elementary schools at between, $1,260 and $1,400. As enrollment declines the state, under its schools-aid formula, reduces district revenue by $1,260 to $1,400 for each child the district loses.

An increase in taxes is one option considered by consultants in their report. The district now levies at about $2.30 per $100 assessed valuation. The state will allow the district to levy 42 cents higher to $2.72 with a referendum.

OTHER OPTIONS considered by the consultants were cutbacks in educational programs, increasingly stringent control of district compensation, purchasing and contractual services, school closings, and increases in class size.

The consultants recommended that before any cuts in educational programs are considered, the district should exhaust all efforts to improve use of facilities and staff.

By closing a school the district would save between $29,000 and $100,000 in addition to the savings that would result from staff and administrative reductions.

There has been no discussion on the possible uses of the empty schools, however, the district would probably sell or lease the buildings to another public agency.

The district has no plans for reduction in staff other than that provided under state law, which says all nontenured teachers would be released from service first.

The consultant's three alternatives for increased staff effectiveness are:

- Plan A. Increase the average class size from 25 to 30 students.
- Plan B. Eliminate staff positions as schools are closed.
- Plan C. Eliminate staff and district-wide special programs and administrative services.

THE CONSULTANT'S five alternatives for building use are:

- Plan 1. Close North School in 1976 and Wilson, Dryden and Windsor schools in 1977. Operate Miner Junior High School as a kindergarten-through-eighth-grade school from 1977 on and close Kensington in 1982 or 1983 and Westgate or Greenbrier schools before June 1984. There would be a moderate increase in bussing costs.

- Plan 2. Close North school in 1976 and South and Thomas junior high schools in 1979. Beginning in 1979, operate Miner and Windsor schools as a single junior high and send Windsor's kindergarten-through-fifth-grade students to Kensington and Olive schools. Close Wilson school in 1981. Thomas would be easy to lease or sell due to its location the report said, but the district would be eliminating an excellent facility. Busing costs would increase significantly.

- Plan 3. Close Thomas and South junior high schools in 1977 and return sixth graders to elementary schools. Close North school in 1980 and Kensington School in 1981 or 1982. This would result in the fewest school closings and would not increase busing significantly.

- Plan 4. Close North, Wilson, Kensington and Dryden schools in 1977 and operate South, Miner and Thomas junior high schools with fifth-through-eighth graders. Close Westgate, Dunton, Greenbrier and Ivy Hill schools in 1984 and operate Rand junior high school with fifth through eighth graders. This is the most cost-effective plan, but would involve a great deal of busing.

- Plan 5. Close South, North and Kensington schools in 1976 or 1977. Close Wilson and Dryden schools in 1980 and Greenbrier or Windsor schools in 1984. Busing would increase significantly.

Dist. 25 plans talks on enrollments

Citizens will have the opportunity to respond to a report on declining enrollment in Arlington Heights Dist. 25 in a series of eight public meetings scheduled by the board of education.

All meetings will begin at 7:30 p.m. on:

- DEC. 3 AT DRYDEN SCHOOL
- DEC. 4 AT RAND JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL
- DEC. 8 AT MINER JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL
- DEC. 10 AT THOMAS JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL
- DEC. 15 AT NORTH SCHOOL
- DEC. 16 AT WILSON SCHOOL
- JAN. 6 AT IVY HILL SCHOOL
- JAN. 12 AT SOUTH JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Northwest Jews rally at UN protest

By KURT BAER

Jews from the Northwest suburbs massed with a thousand supporters at Chicago's Civic Center plaza Thursday to demonstrate their outrage over the United Nation's resolution equating Zionism with racism.

A group of 33 Jews boarded a bus at Buffalo Grove's Ranch Mart Shopping Center for the rally. They went out of a deeply-felt conviction that 35 miles and a rain-riddled wind would not keep them from standing up for Israel. Theirs was one of several buses from the area chartered for the protest.

"I'm going to show strength — to stand up and be counted," said Joyce Jacobson of Arlington Heights. "We know what happened to the Jews in Germany and we won't take it again. We've learned from our experience."

TO THESE JEWS, Zionism asserts the right to exist for the Jewish state of Israel. The UN resolution, passed last week over the strong objections of the United States, is laden with anti-Semitism that leads their minds back to Nazi Germany's extermination of six million European Jews.

"People are very afraid that what happened in Germany could happen again. Many of us feel that because we live in the United States we're assimilated. And we are very assimilated in Arlington Heights and Buffalo Grove. But we're concerned about the rest of the world, too," said Sara Kalina of Arlington Heights.

Aboard the bus a chorus of "Havah Nagilah," led by five teen-agers from the area Shalom El Amiee B'nai B'rith Youth Organization, helped pass the miles.

"We've heard both sides of the UN resolution and we want to help support our fellow Jews," said 15-year-old Noreen Weiner of Buffalo Grove, who admitted the trip to the Loop was something of an inconvenience for her. "But if you really want do to something you do it — no matter what it takes. And we want to show our spirit as Jews."

CARRYING PLACARDS that read: "Buffalo Grove and Arlington Heights Jews Stand Up for Zionism" and "Zionism is a Badge of Honor," the group made their way to the crowded Civic Center Plaza where they heard Jewish leaders, Gov. Dan Walker and other speakers denounce the U.N. resolution.

The way we see it

Oakton good underpass site

It's time for the Des Plaines City Council to pick a location for an urgently needed railroad underpass in that community.

For several years aldermen and city administrators have been studying proposals for railroad underpasses to improve traffic flow on the west side of the city. At one time or another, recommendations have been made and withdrawn for locations on Thacker Street, Algonquin Road and Oakton Street.

While the studies and arguing go on, thousands of commuters sit at railroad crossings and fume as commuter and 100-car freight trains drag their way through the city.

Des Plaines is locked in by railroad tracks. Every major thoroughfare in the city is blocked at some point by either Chicago and North Western Ry. or Soo Line train tracks. And nine times out of 10 when you want to cross the tracks there's a train on them.

Not only are the busy crossings an inconvenience and source of aggravation for motorists but they all too frequently delay emergency vehicles from reaching their destinations.

This week Ald. Richard Ward and the council's streets and traffic committee presented the council with a recommendation to build a $3 million underpass on Oakton Street at the North Western's Outer Belt tracks. Again the recommendation was deferred for further study after aldermen and the mayor said they preferred other locations.

There is no perfect location for an underpass in Des Plaines, but we have to agree with Ward and his committee that Oakton Street is the best possibility.

Algonquin Road, the location the mayor favors, narrows to a two-lane residential street just east of the proposed underpass site. Ward presented statistics showing an underpass on Algonquin would increase traffic flow from 8,000 to 24,000 vehicles per day. That's just too many cars to channel past the homes, churches and schools that line Algonquin Road.

A similar situation exists on Thacker Street, another alternative tossed about periodically by aldermen. For the most part Thacker is a quiet residential street with its share of churches and schools. Residents along Thacker have protested that the street is not suited for a major thoroughfare, and we agree.

On the other hand, Oakton already has been expanded to a four-lane highway which is used by 23,000 vehicles a day. Ward's figures show that an underpass on Oakton would increase traffic flow by 20 per cent to 28,000 vehicles per day. Once motorists have maneuvered the railroad crossing on Oakton they have access to Touhy Avenue, Algonquin, Thacker, Golf Road and other main roads by using Rte. 83 as a connector.

The underpass controversy in Des Plaines has gone on too long. Ward's committee has made a good decision in recommending an Oakton Street underpass, and aldermen should support it. The sooner an underpass is completed the happier 23,000 — or maybe 28,000 — drivers will be.

Decision in good hands

After years of controversy, study and court fights, the residents of Prospect Heights, finally on Jan. 31, may have the opportunity to vote on incorporation.

Such a vote has been too long coming. We are pleased that residents of one of the last large pockets of unincorporated community finally will have a chance to vote on their own future.

The history of the incorporation battle is a long one. The Prospect Heights Improvement Assn. has carried on the effort to make the area a city through innumerable debates and court hearings. Neighboring communities have objected to the incorporation and have made efforts to annex the area.

Now, a Cook County Circuit Court judge has ruled that residents of Prospect Heights will be able to vote on the issue.

The vote, which tentatively has been scheduled for Jan. 31, will give residents the power to decide their own destiny.

It may be soon we will be welcoming the City of Prospect Heights into the Northwest suburban community, or the vote may lay to rest forever such a prospect.

Whatever happens, the decision is in the proper hands.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21 — Martha Washington arrived in the city en route to join her husband in Cambridge, Mass. In Congress, Rhode Island delegate Samuel Ward blamed the concept of a continental army for the decline in recruitment.

Drops UNICEF support

I usually purchase UNICEF cards throughout the year, and especially for the holiday season. But instead of an order, the UNICEF center received a letter from me stating that due to the recent resolution passed by the UN, equating Zionism with racism, I feel I can no longer support UN fund-raising activities.

In a quote in the Nov. 12 Herald, "President Ford reaffirmed that the United States deplores the characterization of Zionism as a form of racism and believes that the adoption of this resolution undermines the principles on which the United Nations is based."

This is a very serious issue. I urge all of you who are concerned to voice your opinions and let the world know how we feel about perpetuating these anti-Semitic beliefs.

I also urge you to boycott the sale of UNICEF cards. Instead of a check, send a letter and let the committee know that you will not support the UN resolution equating Zionism with racism.

Biesterfield access backed

(Following is a copy of a letter to Elk Grove Village Pres. Charles J. Zettek):

I was pleased when I read the Nov. 5 Herald and learned the vast majority of village trustees would continue to support the I-90/Biesterfield Road interchange as well as the proposed widening and extension of Biesterfield Road to Meacham Road.

The interchange will provide more efficient access to our commercial community, but more importantly to Alexian Brothers Medical Center's life-saving facilities not only for the extreme west portion of Elk Grove Village, but for all communities west of Elk Grove. I am sure you can appreciate, an entrance off Higgins Road to the Forest Preserve's recreational facility is not a solution, only a temporary diversion.

Mr. Zettek, I can assure you these projects are of the utmost concern to the industrial and commercial community of Elk Grove Village and have our full support. We are most anxious for their speedy completion and trust we will be working with the village officials toward this goal in the months ahead.

Likes one-piece cyclists

The writer of the Nov. 12 letter, "Cyclist criticizes helmet laws," should do some realistic thinking before so gallantly stating, "Basically, the care of my skull is my responsibility no matter what anyone says. If I want to take a risk with it, that's my business."

A friend of my family's was in a fatal motorcycle accident that could have and would have cost him his life, if he hadn't been wearing his helmet.

If a motorcycle rider is really into motorcycling and really understands it, then he should be able to recognize the potential danger (perhaps the difference of life or death) of riding without a helmet.

IT SEEMS TO me that an aware and mature motorcyclist would wear his helmet without a second thought.

As for the writer of the other article who would prefer a guy to come hurdling through the air at him, without a helmet on, I hope that he'd stick around long enough to pick up all the pieces of the broken skull.

As for me, I'd rather pick up the motorcyclist, with his helmet on, in one piece.

Couldn't withhold payment

My sympathies go out to Gerald Marcy as I know how frustrated he must be in dealing with Laseke Disposal.

I have a small family and many times put my garbage out only once a week.

About a month and a half ago Laseke missed picking it up. I called to complain and was told it wasn't a "legitimate" complaint. I haven't figured out what's illegitimate about it. I told them that many collection days my garbage isn't put out and I never call on those days. I don't have an excessive amount to try and con Laseke into an extra pick-up.

Laseke wouldn't send anyone back because his men had written that it wasn't out.

This was on Friday. On Monday I talked to the supervisor and told him that I wasn't going to pay for this collection. I was told that he would not "allow" me not to pay.

I reported it to the Health Dept. and then decided it wasn't worth getting upset about, so I didn't pursue it.

You are not alone, George Marcy.

San Clemente note 'perfectly clear'

by TOM TIEDE

Editor's Note: The following letter from Richard Nixon to Gerald Ford was inadvertantly dropped on the White House lawn by a postman who tripped over a newly erected monument to post-Watergate morality.

My dear Jerry: Since I had made it perfectly clear when I left office that I was giving the world over to you, and would not try to influence you from the grandstands, I nevertheless must pass on my appreciation to you for what I feel to be your increasing maturity in office.

God knows it would be the easy thing for me to let this matter go, because as you know, I am being hounded by popular demand to spend day and night toward the completion of my important new book, which will once and for all clear up any misunderstanding of the regrettable things done by subordinates in my name during my administration.

But as I said to Chou En-lai when I reestablished relationships with China after 23 years, and as I have said to world greats in many other capitals, including Berlin, Moscow and Windhoek, I must speak out on that which affects America.

I HAVE NEVER doubted for a moment that you understood the importance of presidential leadership. We have both learned this through long years of trial, I, as a congressman, senator, vice president and president, and you in two of the same capacities. Nothing could please the Kremlin more than a second-rate president. That is why I fought so strenuously against overreaction during the Watergate affair, that is why I made my historic stand against judicial encroachment on the office of the presidency. I note now that the American people may at last be realizing this fact also, since polls indicate I'm gaining popularity in such places as Alabama and parts of Vermont.

I must say in all candor, Jerry, there were times I have quietly questioned your decisions. I was never fascinated by Nelson Rockefeller, with his fancy homes, oil wells and half-hearted support of my 1960 candidacy. Some say this is too harsh an assessment, but I've always played hardball opinion.

Had you asked me at the time, Jerry, I would have counseled against his choice as vice president, and because I have served that capacity myself, for two terms you'll recall, in spite of those of the Eastern line who worked against me, I could have advised you from benefit of experience.

While I am at it, I might also mention that some of the comments of your family members have shocked Mrs. Nixon and myself, though I would not for a minute be surprised if this has been distorted by the leftist press. My concern in this area is the effect on the public, our children having let their moral fiber weaken enough as it is.

AMERICA IS A great nation, however, and those who doubt it conveniently overlook the fact that we have built the largest shopping centers in the world, as well as automobiles with the roomiest trunk compartments. Forgive me if I sound as if I am campaigning here (I will not run for any office in 1976, you can rest assured, and that is that).

Let me add quickly and parenthetically that I am completely happy in retirement, after 26 years in public life, from 1946 to 1974, inclusive. Stories that I am disappointed because large crowds no longer gather to greet my strolls on the beach are false. I am swamped with work on my book, which will reveal many things about my administration that were never reported by the media stooges. Besides this, I have Mrs. Nixon; we chuckle often over old times. And Ron Ziegler comes to visit occasionally on a motorbike now, which is odd, but I learned long ago not to be surprised at America's young. Ron says his hog has stars and stripes on the sissy bars and that's good enough for me.

But I have digressed from the purpose of this correspondence, to be duplicated of course, for inclusion in the Nixon Archives which I understand will be at either the University of California or the Whittier High School library. My intent, earlier on, was to congratulate your firm handling of James Schlesinger. If a man will not kowtow he is not to be trusted. And never mind the (expletive) criticism. I want you to know I would have handled it exactly the same way.

Mrs. Nixon and I send our best to you and your family, except for young Jack, for I can't forgive marijuana. I am enclosing a copy of Six Crises, which I've always found to be of comfort in the loneliness of leadership. — Dick.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21 — Martha Washington arrived in the city en route to join her husband in Cambridge, Mass. Given an honor escort from Schuykill Ferry, she was hailed by cheering throngs on Chestnut Street. In Congress, Rhode Island delegate Samuel Ward blamed the concept of a continental army for the decline in recruitment.

Drops UNICEF support

I usually purchase UNICEF cards throughout the year, and especially for the holiday season. But instead of an order, the UNICEF center received a letter from me stating that due to the recent resolution passed by the UN, equating Zionism with racism, I feel I can no longer support UN fund-raising activities.

In a quote in the Nov. 12 Herald, "President Ford reaffirmed that the United States deplores the characterization of Zionism as a form of racism and believes that the adoption of this resolution undermines the principles on which the United Nations is based."

This is a very serious issue. I urge all of you who are concerned to voice your opinions and let the world know how we feel about perpetuating these anti-Semitic beliefs.

I also urge you to boycott the sale of UNICEF cards. Instead of a check, send a letter and let the committee know that you will not support the UN resolution equating Zionism with racism.

Biesterfield access backed

(Following is a copy of a letter to Elk Grove Village Pres. Charles J. Zettek):

I was pleased when I read the Nov. 5 Herald and learned the vast majority of village trustees would continue to support the I-90/Biesterfield Road interchange as well as the proposed widening and extension of Biesterfield Road to Meacham Road.

The interchange will provide more efficient access to our commercial community, but more importantly to Alexian Brothers Medical Center's life-saving facilities not only for the extreme west portion of Elk Grove Village, but for all communities west of Elk Grove. I am sure you can appreciate, an entrance off Higgins Road to the Forest Preserve's recreational facility is not a solution, only a temporary diversion.

Mr. Zettek, I can assure you these projects are of the utmost concern to the industrial and commercial community of Elk Grove Village and have our full support. We are most anxious for their speedy completion and trust we will be working with the village officials toward this goal in the months ahead.

Likes one-piece cyclists

The writer of the Nov. 12 letter, "Cyclist criticizes helmet laws," should do some realistic thinking before so gallantly stating, "Basically, the care of my skull is my responsibility no matter what anyone says. If I want to take a risk with it, that's my business."

A friend of my family's was in a fatal motorcycle accident that could have and would have cost him his life, if he hadn't been wearing his helmet.

If a motorcycle rider is really into motorcycling and really understands it, then he should be able to recognize the potential danger (perhaps the difference of life or death) of riding without a helmet.

IT SEEMS TO me that an aware and mature motorcyclist would wear his helmet without a second thought.

As for the writer of the other article who would prefer a guy to come hurdling through the air at him, without a helmet on, I hope that he'd stick around long enough to pick up all the pieces of the broken skull.

As for me, I'd rather pick up the motorcyclist, with his helmet on, in one piece.

Couldn't withhold payment

My sympathies go out to Gerald Marcy as I know how frustrated he must be in dealing with Laseke Disposal.

I have a small family and many times put my garbage out only once a week.

About a month and a half ago Laseke missed picking it up. I called to complain and was told it wasn't a "legitimate" complaint. I haven't figured out what's illegitimate about it. I told them that many collection days my garbage isn't put out and I never call on those days. I don't have an excessive amount to try and con Laseke into an extra pick-up.

Laseke wouldn't send anyone back because his men had written that it wasn't out.

This was on Friday. On Monday I talked to the supervisor and told him that I wasn't going to pay for this collection. I was told that he would not "allow" me not to pay.

I reported it to the Health Dept. and then decided it wasn't worth getting upset about, so I didn't pursue it.

You are not alone, George Marcy.

San Clemente note 'perfectly clear'

by TOM TIEDE

Editor's Note: The following letter from Richard Nixon to Gerald Ford was inadvertantly dropped on the White House lawn by a postman who tripped over a newly erected monument to post-Watergate morality.

My dear Jerry: Since I had made it perfectly clear when I left office that I was giving the world over to you, and would not try to influence you from the grandstands, I nevertheless must pass on my appreciation to you for what I feel to be your increasing maturity in office.

God knows it would be the easy thing for me to let this matter go, because as you know, I am being hounded by popular demand to spend day and night toward the completion of my important new book, which will once and for all clear up any misunderstanding of the regrettable things done by subordinates in my name during my administration.

But as I said to Chou En-lai when I reestablished relationships with China after 23 years, and as I have said to world greats in many other capitals, including Berlin, Moscow and Windhoek, I must speak out on that which affects America.

I HAVE NEVER doubted for a moment that you understood the importance of presidential leadership. We have both learned this through long years of trial, I, as a congressman, senator, vice president and president, and you in two of the same capacities. Nothing could please the Kremlin more than a second-rate president. That is why I fought so strenuously against overreaction during the Watergate affair, that is why I made my historic stand against judicial encroachment on the office of the presidency. I note now that the American people may at last be realizing this fact also, since polls indicate I'm gaining popularity in such places as Alabama and parts of Vermont.

I must say in all candor, Jerry, there were times I have quietly questioned your decisions. I was never fascinated by Nelson Rockefeller, with his fancy homes, oil wells and half-hearted support of my 1960 candidacy. Some say this is too harsh an assessment, but I've always played hardball opinion.

Had you asked me at the time, Jerry, I would have counseled against his choice as vice president, and because I have served that capacity myself, for two terms you'll recall, in spite of those of the Eastern line who worked against me, I could have advised you from benefit of experience.

While I am at it, I might also mention that some of the comments of your family members have shocked Mrs. Nixon and myself, though I would not for a minute be surprised if this has been distorted by the leftist press. My concern in this area is the effect on the public, our children having let their moral fiber weaken enough as it is.

AMERICA IS A great nation, however, and those who doubt it conveniently overlook the fact that we have built the largest shopping centers in the world, as well as automobiles with the roomiest trunk compartments. Forgive me if I sound as if I am campaigning here (I will not run for any office in 1976, you can rest assured, and that is that).

Let me add quickly and parenthetically that I am completely happy in retirement, after 26 years in public life, from 1946 to 1974, inclusive. Stories that I am disappointed because large crowds no longer gather to greet my strolls on the beach are false. I am swamped with work on my book, which will reveal many things about my administration that were never reported by the media stooges. Besides this, I have Mrs. Nixon; we chuckle often over old times. And Ron Ziegler comes to visit occasionally on a motorbike now, which is odd, but I learned long ago not to be surprised at America's young. Ron says his hog has stars and stripes on the sissy bars and that's good enough for me.

But I have digressed from the purpose of this correspondence, to be duplicated of course, for inclusion in the Nixon Archives which I understand will be at either the University of California or the Whittier High School library. My intent, earlier on, was to congratulate your firm handling of James Schlesinger. If a man will not kowtow he is not to be trusted. And never mind the (expletive) criticism. I want you to know I would have handled it exactly the same way.

Mrs. Nixon and I send our best to you and your family, except for young Jack, for I can't forgive marijuana. I am enclosing a copy of Six Crises, which I've always found to be of comfort in the loneliness of leadership. — Dick.

Arlington asks 150 racing days

Arlington Park Race Track officials Thursday asked the Illinois Racing Board for 150 race dates - from May 3 to Oct. 23 - to boost state thoroughbred racing to national prominence.

Illinois' new racing law and deterioration of racing conditions in the East provide "a golden opportunity to upgrade the quality of racing at Arlington . . . enhance the image of all Illinois racing and . . . increase attendance, handle and revenue to the state," said John F. Loome, president of Arlington Park-Washington Park Race Tracks Corp.

Loome told the seven-member racing board prominent trainers and jockeys will race in Illinois if the thoroughbred season begins when Florida tracks close in May.

"WE MUST LOCK them into a circuit opening at Arlington with the closing of Gulfstream Park (in Florida)," Loome said. "Horsemen would like to come to Chicago. They cannot lay up until June and will not race for cheap purses at Churchill Downs until Arlington opens."

A series of four race date applications from corporations which control Arlington and Washington parks request 75 racing days from May 3 to July 28 and 75 racing days from July 29 to Oct. 23, 1976. Arlington Park received 94 racing dates in 1975.

The racing board is expected to announce 1975, 1976 and 1977 racing dates after a public meeting Saturday in Chicago.

Loome told the board, "The choice of whether Illinois and the entire Midwest will have top quality racing, and whether optimum benefits will be derived from the new racing bill, depends on the racing dates awarded to Arlington Park."

Officials of the track told The Herald their application goal is a 120-day season in 1976. Arlington Park's financial report for 1975 showed a net profit of $68,000.

TOTAL MUTUEL HANDLE in 1975 at Arlington Park was $158 million, and Illinois received $15 million in racing taxes, Loome said.

The race track corporation will spend $1.5 million to build an additional backstretch dormitory, improve seating and install sprinklers and other fire safety devices before the 1976 season begins, Loome said. "There will be no backstretch personnel living in barns," he added.

Loome called recent improvements in the backstretch area — including construction, education and recreation programs, medical and counseling services and a community center — a "program that could serve as a model for the rest of the country."

Arlington Park General Manager William A. Thayer Jr. told the board the track will schedule Bicentennial races in 1976, is negotiating for the return of the $100,000 Pontiac Grand Prix and is "doing missionary work" to schedule an international race which would join with similar races in Canada and Washington, D.C.

Track officials filed four applications to avoid a loss of racing dates under a proposed Illinois racing law. The legislation, which was approved by the General Assembly, is blocked by Gov. Daniel Walker's amendatory veto. An override vote is expected this week.

THE NEW LAW does not mention transfer of racing dates by tracks that are owned by the same person or corporation.

Madison Square Garden Corp. is the "parent" of the Arlington Park-Washington Park Race Tracks Corp., which controls racing at both tracks. Arlington Park officials previously have received harness racing dates which were exchanged for Washington Park thoroughbred dates under a law which allowed only 60 racing dates.

The new legislation, according to racetrack officials, may permit assignment of racing dates to both a "parent" corporation and to a subsidiary. Madison Square Garden Corp. formed two racing associations to receive winter racing dates for Washington Park, and two associations to apply for Arlington Park summer dates.

The racing board will announce its interpretation of the new legislation at Saturday's meeting, chairman Anthony Scariano said.

Foes agree for once

Criminals who use guns —'lock 'em up,' they say

An advocate and an opponent of gun control found one area of agreement during a debate in Palatine Townshp Wednesday — strict laws should be passed to send criminals who use guns to jail.

The agreement was the only one reached during the debate between Pat Koldyke of the Committee for Handgun Control and James Valentino Jr. of the Illinois Rifle Assn.

The two disagreed on the need for laws to eliminate Saturday-night specials, on the need and value of registration and on the potential effectiveness of another gun-control measure. The debate, sponsored by the Palatine Township Democratic Organization, drew about 30 persons.

BY THE END OF the two-hour meeting the debaters reached their agreement on a statement by Valentino who said, "I would like to see support for mandatory sentences for crimes involving guns, the best thing that could happen would be if everyone left this meeting tonight and wrote their legislators for that."

Mrs. Koldyke said her organization concerns itself with control of handguns, not of all guns.

"We aren't too enthusiastic about Saturday-night special laws which outlaw guns that melt at a certain temperature because I don't think it would make much difference to me what a gun's melting point was if it were pointed at me," she said.

Saturday-night specials are cheap handguns made of a metal that melts at a relatively low termperature. Laws banning the guns based on the melting point of the metal have been proposed or passed in many states.

MRS. KOLDYKE SAID the Handgun Control Committee wants to see federal controls on the number of handguns manufacutred.

"We firmly believe that laws can be written to allow legitimate use of guns for target shooting and hunting," she said.

"We feel that those who want to get their rifles and long guns must join to work for the elimination of the concealable weapon."

She said she agrees with opponents of gun control who say there must be changes in the court system to reduce crime. However, she said, "While the opponents list all the other causes of crime which we agree with, they won't recognize guns as part of the problem."

Valentino, a former president of the Illinois Rifle Assn., said he does not believe gun control, even a total ban on handguns, can be effective.

"With education you begin to realize there are certain things the law can do and certain things the law can't do," he said. "Possession of burglar tools has been outlawed for 40 years and that means that if you or I lock ourselves out of the house we can't get tools to get in, but burglars seem to have no problem getting them."

VALENTINO COMPARED gun-control laws to prohibition in the 1920s.

"There is no law that can ever prevent anyone from obtaining any substance they want," he said. "All a ban would do is drive it underground. A ban would stop the honest manufacturer and the honest retailer, not the underworld."

He said he supports laws outlawing cheap handguns such as Saturday-night specials.

"The reason the Illinois Rifle Assn. supports such a bill as those banning Saturday-night specials is as a kind of quality control. If you are going to rely on a handgun for protection — and I'm not saying you have to, just that you have the right — if a cheap gun fires four times out of six it may not be good enough."

$35 million pact awarded by MSD

The Metropolitan Sanitary District Board of Commissioners Thursday unanimously approved a $35.7 million contract for construction of flood-water tunnels to be built under Des Plaines and Mount Prospect.

Construction may start as early as next month on the first tunnel shaft to be located on MSD property south of the Northwest Tollway and west of Elmhurst Road in Elk Grove Township.

The three-year contract calls for 4.2 miles of tunnels and five additional shafts in the Mount Prospect-Des Plaines area. The tunnels will be connected to the O'Hare sewage treatment plant to be built in Des Plaines.

The $35.7 million joint contract was awarded to three contractors. The contractors are F. A. Healy Co., Greenfield Construction Co. and Gordon H. Ball Inc.

Foes agree for once

Criminals who use guns —'lock 'em up,' they say

An advocate and an opponent of gun control found one area of agreement during a debate in Palatine Townshp Wednesday — strict laws should be passed to send criminals who use guns to jail.

The agreement was the only one reached during the debate between Pat Koldyke of the Committee for Handgun Control and James Valentino Jr. of the Illinois Rifle Assn.

The two disagreed on the need for laws to eliminate Saturday-night specials, on the need and value of registration and on the potential effectiveness of another gun-control measure. The debate, sponsored by the Palatine Township Democratic Organization, drew about 30 persons.

BY THE END OF the two-hour meeting the debaters reached their agreement on a statement by Valentino who said, "I would like to see support for mandatory sentences for crimes involving guns, the best thing that could happen would be if everyone left this meeting tonight and wrote their legislators for that."

Mrs. Koldyke said her organization concerns itself with control of handguns, not of all guns.

"We aren't too enthusiastic about Saturday-night special laws which outlaw guns that melt at a certain temperature because I don't think it would make much difference to me what a gun's melting point was if it were pointed at me," she said.

Saturday-night specials are cheap handguns made of a metal that melts at a relatively low termperature. Laws banning the guns based on the melting point of the metal have been proposed or passed in many states.

MRS. KOLDYKE SAID the Handgun Control Committee wants to see federal controls on the number of handguns manufacutred.

"We firmly believe that laws can be written to allow legitimate use of guns for target shooting and hunting," she said.

"We feel that those who want to get their rifles and long guns must join to work for the elimination of the concealable weapon."

She said she agrees with opponents of gun control who say there must be changes in the court system to reduce crime. However, she said, "While the opponents list all the other causes of crime which we agree with, they won't recognize guns as part of the problem."

Valentino, a former president of the Illinois Rifle Assn., said he does not believe gun control, even a total ban on handguns, can be effective.

"With education you begin to realize there are certain things the law can do and certain things the law can't do," he said. "Possession of burglar tools has been outlawed for 40 years and that means that if you or I lock ourselves out of the house we can't get tools to get in, but burglars seem to have no problem getting them."

VALENTINO COMPARED gun-control laws to prohibition in the 1920s.

"There is no law that can ever prevent anyone from obtaining any substance they want," he said. "All a ban would do is drive it underground. A ban would stop the honest manufacturer and the honest retailer, not the underworld."

He said he supports laws outlawing cheap handguns such as Saturday-night specials.

"The reason the Illinois Rifle Assn. supports such a bill as those banning Saturday-night specials is as a kind of quality control. If you are going to rely on a handgun for protection — and I'm not saying you have to, just that you have the right — if a cheap gun fires four times out of six it may not be good enough."

$35 million pact awarded by MSD

The Metropolitan Sanitary District Board of Commissioners Thursday unanimously approved a $35.7 million contract for construction of flood-water tunnels to be built under Des Plaines and Mount Prospect.

Construction may start as early as next month on the first tunnel shaft to be located on MSD property south of the Northwest Tollway and west of Elmhurst Road in Elk Grove Township.

The three-year contract calls for 4.2 miles of tunnels and five additional shafts in the Mount Prospect-Des Plaines area. The tunnels will be connected to the O'Hare sewage treatment plant to be built in Des Plaines.

The $35.7 million joint contract was awarded to three contractors. The contractors are F. A. Healy Co., Greenfield Construction Co. and Gordon H. Ball Inc.

Abraham Lincoln doll by artisan Faith Wick.

Character doll by Simon Halbig of Germany.

Doll exhibit

"Five thousand baby steps taken one at a time" is Mrs. Charles Klehm's apt description of the endless long hours of preparation, a whole year's worth, behind the opening of her Doll and Mini Museum.

Smudged tin heads on worn leather bodies, delicate, smooth porcelain faces and wrinkled apple-carved figures stare unblinking from lighted glass cases stacked floor to ceiling in the upstairs complex of the Pink Peony that originally contained antiques.

It's a private doll collection that Mrs. Klehm has amassed over the last seven years. She herself cannot even safely estimate how many hundreds of dolls are on display.

What's to see? Dolls a century old and some made just yesterday. Three-foot high ones in elaborate period costumes and others no bigger than a child's thumb assembled with tweezers and toothpicks. Recognizable characters, too — Betty Boop, Howdy Doody and a slew of Shirley Temples.

Located adjacent to Charles Klehm & Son's Nursery, corner of Arlington Heights and Algonquin Roads in Arlington Heights, the museum also features huge three-story doll houses furnished with intricate, unusual miniatures. One can peak at tiny Tiffany-like chandeliers and three-inch brass beds through the windows of the Colorado street scene.

The museum officially opens Monday just in time for the holiday season. Hours are 9-5 Monday through Friday, 9-6 Saturday and 9:30-5 Sunday until Christmas. Admission, Adults, $1; Children, 50 cents.

Doll house looks like real home

Doll house carpenter Al Heuer enjoys tackling the unusual. Consequently he didn't hesitate to say "yes" when Mrs. Jeanne Schultheis came to him with a picture of an old house built in 1888 and asked him to build one just like it in miniature. It was, in fact, the house in which she grew up.

Working from old pictures the Arlington Heights woman had saved over the years and new ones taken as the house now stands, several face lifts later, on the north side of Chicago, Al came up with a replica scaled down to one inch to one foot.

He used hand-cut tiny strips of pine for siding, real glass in all the double-hung sash windows and "grain of wheat bulbs" that actually turn on and off.

MRS. SCHULTHEIS, president of the Fireside Doll Club, plans to furnish the house as she remembers it during the Depression years.

Warm memories of the house, where three generations of her family resided, prompted Mrs. Schultheis to commission the miniature replica.

Nostalgia is a primary reason why many women seek out the now retired Heuer, who is building doll houses and grandfather clocks full-time. Usually they settle for Heuer's own suburban and townhouse models which they painstakingly decorate in small miniatures and real fabrics. These doll houses are not to be played with, only displayed.

SOMETIMES AL is asked to repair an antique doll house that has been rescued from the attic and dusted off for a new generation of use.

Doll houses have run the full circuit from fine-crafted wooden ones to plastic and metal manufactured ones, back to those turned out by real artisans. But one like the house you grew up in has to be the best kind of doll house of all.

AL HEUER of Arlington Heights considers this the most challenging project of all his doll houses. Mrs. Jeanne Schultheis supplied the floor plan by memory. Originally a florist operated in the first floor of the house. Both the roof and the sides of the doll house open. So do all the doors and windows.

Rock star cuts second album with band backup

Playback
by Tom Von Malder

Reck's studio Wunderkind, Todd Rundgren, has stepped back a bit from his ever-increasing electronic based music to present a live album, "Another Live" (Bearsville records).

The album is Rundgren's second with his new Utopia band and reflects a desire to be a member of a band rather than handle everything by himself as on his studio albums.

The album is his most enjoyable since 1973's "A Wizard/A True Star" (also Bearsville). Utopia is a strong, working band, particularly the keyboard and synthesizer work.

The vocals are the weakest element. An example is Rundgren's uneasy sounding work on "Something's Coming" from "West Side Story." Musically, though, it is a strong cut.

A COUPLE OF older Rundgren songs and a good version of the

Todd Rundgren

Move's "Do Ya" are on the album's second side, while the first features three new songs which are heavily into mysticism as has been most of Rundgren's recent work. The opening "Another Life" deals with reincarnation, for example.

It's been a long road from Runt to Utopian, but Rundgren still proves that when he wants to, he can be one of rock's more entertaining performers.

Other new rock releases include:

"Elysian Encounter" by Baker Gurvitz Army (Atco records). Ginger Baker (Cream, Blind Faith, Air Force) remains one of rock's most exciting performers and a fine band complements his drumming. The band is highlighted by guitarist Adrian Gurvitz, who handles much of the songwriting, too. The band was a trio on last year's first release, but now is a quintet.

THE ALBUM IS a skillful mix of frenetic rock and softer, more melodic interludes. Two ballads, "The Gambler" and "The Key," are outstanding, with the latter containing traces of Baker's fascination with African rhythms and chants. I strongly recommend this album for those looking for the best in rock music.

"Kick Off Your Muddy Boots" by the Graeme Edge Band (Threshold). Gurvitz also plays a domineering role on this third solo effort from the Moody Blues. He sings lead, handles the arrangements, co-produces and performs an often superb, blistering guitar attack.

The forgotten man seems to be drummer Edge. The music ranges from fair to pretty good and the Moody touches are restricted to segues, filler orchestration and the final "Somethin' We'd Like to Say." The orchestration of "In Dreams" and Gurvitz' bluesy vocal and nasty guitar work on "My Life's Not Wasted" are the best moments. Edge's own songs are more melodic, such as the good "Lost In Space" and "Have You Ever Wondered."

"THE BAND PLAYS On" by Back Street Crawler (Atco). This is the long-awaited new band by former Free guitarist Paul Kossoff. Like the other Free alumni band, Bad Company, the emphasis is on simple, basic rock, heavily tinged with the British blues tradition.

The rhythm section is American, with Mike Montgomery (keyboards) doing the bulk of the writing. There is fine vocal work by Terry Slesser and Montgomery gets a chance to sound like Mick Jagger on "Survivor," the album's best cut.

"Back Street Crawler" by Paul Kossoff (Island). This album, recorded in late 1973 but released here only recently, explains where Kossoff got the name for his new band. The album mainly is a chance for Kossoff to show off his playing techniques — one cut is 17½ minutes — but he gets some good backup help, too, including a re-united Free on "Molten Gold."

KOSSOFF SUFFERED heart arrest — it stopped for 35 minutes — a few weeks back but is near full recovery. He hopes to get his band on the road as soon as possible.

The comedy pair recently released an album "What This Country Needs" and are featured on the latest Firesign Theatre release "In the Next World, You're On Your Own" (both Columbia records).

Two sides of Chuck Percy examined in perspective

"CHARLES H. PERCY: A POLITICAL PERSPECTIVE" BY ROBERT R. HARTLEY
Rand McNally & Co., $8.95

Reading about Chuck Percy of Illinois brings back, in this reviewer's mind, a savage cartoon of Robert F. Kennedy, drawn by the rapier-like pen of cartoonist-satirist Jules Feiffer.

In the turmoil of early 1968, when Kennedy was mulling a Presidential challenge to Lyndon B. Johnson, Feiffer drew a panel which consisted of a debate between "Good Bobby" and "Bad Bobby."

Good Bobby was the embodiment of Kennedy's empathy with the downtrodden and the anti-war sentiment then sweeping across this nation. He represented the more commendable of the late Senator's achievements and philosophy.

Alas, however, Bad Bobby was the political side, the scheming, opportunistic Kennedy who put principle aside and had refused to take on LBJ. As usual, Feiffer was right on target.

There's no comparable portrait of Percy; there's no Good Chuck and Bad Chuck. But there are two Charles Percys, as Hartley points out, which attract separate loyalties or disloyalties.

FIRST, THERE IS Percy the Public Official, an issue-oriented moderate who has tackled a variety of issues with the vigor of a man building towards an eventual presidential campaign.

And then there is Percy the Politician, a moderate out of step in the conservative backwater of the Illinois GOP — but, nonetheless, a moderate — who has become a leader, in part by default, in Illinois.

Hartley, editor of the Lindsay-Schaub newspaper chain which circulates heavily in downstate Illinois, does not attempt to thrust the above thesis at the reader. Rather, his account is a step-by-step account of Percy's development as a public official and a politician.

BUT THE CONCLUSION about the two sides of Percy's development is obvious to anyone considering the problems besetting the man who would dearly love to rise above his current role as U. S. Senator.

The problem, ever since Percy ran and lost against Gov. Otto Kerner in 1964, has been politics. The party of Everett Dirksen, Les Arends, William J. Scott and, finally, Richard M. Nixon, has not looked kindly on this upstart.

But Percy has triumphed despite the backbiting. In 1972, when he swamped Democrat Roman Pucinski to gain reelection as Senator — in a year which speeded the present demise of the state GOP — Percy washed away the popular sentiment that he was "too liberal" for Illinois.

BUT PERCY THE Public Official is another matter. He's taken strong stands on such issues as the needs of the elderly and the nation's economy, but his positions have failed to mark him as a national leader. To many, the name of Charles Percy evokes a sense of squeaky-clean moderate or liberal Republicanism, without any clearly defined outlines.

Whatever your attitude toward the political or public record of Percy, Hartley's book is a well-reasoned tool toward understanding the man. Although it's somewhat encyclopedic in discussing this man's rise in political stature, it's a volume which any thoughtful student of Illinois — and national — politics will need, particularly if Percy emerges to challenge Gerald Ford in the next few months.

"VALLEY FORGE," BY MacKINLAY KANTOR
Evans, $8.95

Kantor, with immense skill and imagination, recreates the terrible winter of the Revolutionary War when George Washington's army seemed doomed. Taking the viewpoint of the participants, from foot soldier to general, he catches the humor and the horror of the struggle for survival as no straight history could. The book is a robust, resounding success.

Rock star cuts second album with band backup

Playback

by Tom Von Malder

Reck's studio Wunderkind, Todd Rundgren, has stepped back a bit from his ever-increasing electronic based music to present a live album, "Another Live" (Bearsville records).

The album is Rundgren's second with his new Utopia band and reflects a desire to be a member of a band rather than handle everything by himself as on his studio albums.

The album is his most enjoyable since 1973's "A Wizard/A True Star" (also Bearsville). Utopia is a strong, working band, particularly the keyboard and synthesizer work.

The vocals are the weakest element. An example is Rundgren's uneasy sounding work on "Something's Coming" from "West Side Story." Musically, though, it is a strong cut.

A COUPLE OF older Rundgren songs and a good version of the

Todd Rundgren

Move's "Do Ya" are on the album's second side, while the first features three new songs which are heavily into mysticism as has been most of Rundgren's recent work. The opening "Another Life" deals with reincarnation, for example.

It's been a long road from Runt to Utopian, but Rundgren still proves that when he wants to, he can be one of rock's more entertaining performers.

Other new rock releases include:

"Elysian Encounter" by Baker Gurvitz Army (Atco records). Ginger Baker (Cream, Blind Faith, Air Force) remains one of rock's most exciting performers and a fine band complements his drumming. The band is highlighted by guitarist Adrian Gurvitz, who handles much of the songwriting, too. The band was a trio on last year's first release, but now is a quintet.

THE ALBUM IS a skillful mix of frenetic rock and softer, more melodic interludes. Two ballads, "The Gambler" and "The Key," are outstanding, with the latter containing traces of Baker's fascination with African rhythms and chants. I strongly recommend this album for those looking for the best in rock music.

"Kick Off Your Muddy Boots" by the Graeme Edge Band (Threshold). Gurvitz also plays a domineering role on this third solo effort from the Moody Blues. He sings lead, handles the arrangements, co-produces and performs an often superb, blistering guitar attack.

The forgotten man seems to be drummer Edge. The music ranges from fair to pretty good and the Moody touches are restricted to segues, filler orchestration and the final "Somethin' We'd Like to Say." The orchestration of "In Dreams" and Gurvitz' bluesy vocal and nasty guitar work on "My Life's Not Wasted" are the best moments. Edge's own songs are more melodic, such as the good "Lost In Space" and "Have You Ever Wondered."

"THE BAND PLAYS On" by Back Street Crawler (Atco). This is the long-awaited new band by former Free guitarist Paul Kossoff. Like the other Free alumni band, Bad Company, the emphasis is on simple, basic rock, heavily tinged with the British blues tradition.

The rhythm section is American, with Mike Montgomery (keyboards) doing the bulk of the writing. There is fine vocal work by Terry Slesser and Montgomery gets a chance to sound like Mick Jagger on "Survivor," the album's best cut.

"Back Street Crawler" by Paul Kossoff (Island). This album, recorded in late 1973 but released here only recently, explains where Kossoff got the name for his new band. The album mainly is a chance for Kossoff to show off his playing techniques — one cut is 17½ minutes — but he gets some good backup help, too, including a re-united Free on "Molten Gold."

KOSSOFF SUFFERED heart arrest — it stopped for 35 minutes — a few weeks back but is near full recovery. He hopes to get his band on the road as soon as possible.

Firesign Theatre members Philip Proctor and Peter Bergman will be at Uncle Albert's record store, 123 E. Davis St., Arlington Heights, from 5 to 6 p.m Saturday.

The comedy pair recently released an album "What This Country Needs" and are featured on the latest Firesign Theatre release "In the Next World, You're On Your Own" (both Columbia records).

Two sides of Chuck Percy examined in perspective

"CHARLES H. PERCY: A POLITICAL PERSPECTIVE"
BY ROBERT R. HARTLEY
Rand McNally & Co., $8.95

Reading about Chuck Percy of Illinois brings back, in this reviewer's mind, a savage cartoon of Robert F. Kennedy, drawn by the rapier-like pen of cartoonist-satirist Jules Feiffer.

In the turmoil of early 1968, when Kennedy was mulling a Presidential challenge to Lyndon B. Johnson, Feiffer drew a panel which consisted of a debate between "Good Bobby" and "Bad Bobby."

Good Bobby was the embodiment of Kennedy's empathy with the downtrodden and the anti-war sentiment then sweeping across this nation. He represented the more commendable of the late Senator's achievements and philosophy.

Alas, however, Bad Bobby was the political side, the scheming, opportunistic Kennedy who put principle aside and had refused to take on LBJ. As usual, Feiffer was right on target.

There's no comparable portrait of Percy; there's no Good Chuck and Bad Chuck. But there are two Charles Percys, as Hartley points out, which attract separate loyalties or disloyalties.

FIRST, THERE IS Percy the Public Official, an issue-oriented moderate who has tackled a variety of issues with the vigor of a man building towards an eventual presidential campaign.

And then there is Percy the Politician, a moderate out of step in the conservative backwater of the Illinois GOP — but, nonetheless, a moderate — who has become a leader, in part by default, in Illinois.

Hartley, editor of the Lindsay-Schaub newspaper chain which circulates heavily in downstate Illinois, does not attempt to thrust the above thesis at the reader. Rather, his account is a step-by-step account of Percy's development as a public official and a politician.

BUT THE CONCLUSION about the two sides of Percy's development is obvious to anyone considering the problems besetting the man who would dearly love to rise above his current role as U. S. Senator.

The problem, ever since Percy ran and lost against Gov. Otto Kerner in 1964, has been politics. The party of Everett Dirksen, Les Arends, William J. Scott and, finally, Richard M. Nixon, has not looked kindly on this upstart.

But Percy has triumphed despite the backbiting. In 1972, when he swamped Democrat Roman Pucinski to gain reelection as Senator — in a year which speeded the present demise of the state GOP — Percy washed away the popular sentiment that he was "too liberal" for Illinois.

BUT PERCY THE Public Official is another matter. He's taken strong stands on such issues as the needs of the elderly and the nation's economy, but his positions have failed to mark him as a national leader. To many, the name of Charles Percy evokes a sense of squeaky-clean moderate or liberal Republicanism, without any clearly defined outlines.

Whatever your attitude toward the political or public record of Percy, Hartley's book is a well-reasoned tool toward understanding the man. Although it's somewhat encyclopedic in discussing this man's rise in political stature, it's a volume which any thoughtful student of Illinois — and national — politics will need, particularly if Percy emerges to challenge Gerald Ford in the next few months.

"VALLEY FORGE,"
BY MacKINLAY KANTOR
Evans, $8.95

Kantor, with immense skill and imagination, recreates the terrible winter of the Revolutionary War when George Washington's army seemed doomed. Taking the viewpoint of the participants, from foot soldier to general, he catches the humor and the horror of the struggle for survival as no straight history could. The book is a robust, resounding success.

LOOKING FORWARD to the 85th season of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, members of Countryside Committee of the Chicago Symphony Women's Association had luncheon at Inverness Golf Club recently to discuss methods of fund-raising. Mrs. Mary Coates, Inverness; Mrs. Betty Doemland, Des Plaines; and Mrs. Rae Inman, Arlington Heights, were among guests of Mrs. Gilbert McIntosh, chairman, who hosted the luncheon.

Women's goal $600,000 for Chicago Symphony

With a goal of raising $600,000 toward the 1975-76 sustaining fund for the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, the Symphony Women's Association is getting an early start contacting contributors.

Members of Countryside Committee of the Association were recently invited to a luncheon at Inverness Golf Club by their chairman, Mrs. Gilbert McIntosh of Inverness, to discuss raising their share of the goal.

On the committee are Mrs. Edward Benninghoven, Barrington, co-chairman; Mrs. Forrest Borngrebe, Mrs. H. A. P. Doree, Mrs. Charles Foxgrover Jr., Mrs. John Golitz, Mrs. Hugh Latimer, Mrs. Lee Milligan Jr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Smith, all of Barrington; Mrs. John Coates, Mrs. John Gow and Mrs. Henry Howland, all of Inverness; Mrs. Robert Coffin of Long Grove.

ALSO, MRS. HENRY Doemland and Mrs. Rudolph Schaefer, Des Plaines; Mrs. W. Richard Impey and Mrs. Wilbur Inman, Arlington Heights; and Mrs. Gene Davis, Mrs. Michael Kelly and Mrs. Alexander B. Scharpe, Woodstock.

Those who contribute receive news letters concerning the orchestra and the youth concerts which are sponsored by the Women's Association. Programs of the popular concerts and chamber music concerts are also sent, and donors are invited to an open rehearsal.

Jewish art exhibit

The Jewish Museum in New York City has opened a permanent exhibition entitled "Celebration of Jewish Life — of Days and Seasons, of Time and its Passage," as the first stage in its new installation of its extensive Judaica collection. The exhibition displays articles in the context of their role in Jewish life, including categories such as Sabbath, Passover, Hanukkah, birth, marriage and death. (UPI)

Museum prepares for Christmas

Preparation is underway for the 34th annual "Christmas Around the World" festival taking place at the Museum of Science and Industry Nov. 28 through Jan. 1.

Thirty-one ethnic groups will set off the festivities by arriving the first day to trim 26 giant Christmas trees in the Rotunda. Iceland will be represented for the first time.

Adding to the mood of the holidays, choral groups from Chicago-area schools and churches will take turns presenting daily concerts in the Christmas display area Dec. 1-24.

Internationally flavored theater programs will also be presented in the auditorium daily. The holiday pageants are being performed by various ethnic groups in cooperation with Chicago school and professional dance and drama teams.

HOLIDAY DINNERS featuring dishes typical of the nationality or ethnic group presenting that day's theater program will be served in the Museum's dining rooms Nov. 28 through Dec. 15. Dinner reservations and additional information are available through the Museum's Christmas desk, MU-4-1414.

Admission to the Museum and Christmas festival is free. Located at 57th street and Lake Shore Drive, the Museum is open from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays and from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. During the pageant period, Christmas display areas will remain open until 8 p.m. The Museum is closed on Christmas Day.

Entr'acte

The Park Ridge Symphony Orchestra will perform the "3 a.m." section from the "Randolph and Dearborn Suite" by David M. Jacobson of Palatine when it presents its annual concert tonight at the Hyatt Regency O'Hare.

THE 80-PIECE symphony orchestra is conducted by Frank York.

The "Randolph and Dearborn Suite" for symphony orchestra depicts the well-known Chicago intersection when it was the center of Chicago's night life and entertainment. The suite is divided into five parts: "Fanfare," "Open For Business," "Rush Hour," "Night Life" and "3 a.m."

Jacobson has written other concert works as well as songs and topical material for night club revues.

The benefit for the Park Ridge Fine Arts Society begins with cocktails and a sculpture display at 6 p.m., followed by dinner with music at 7:30, the concert at 8:30 and dance music at 9:30.

Musicians do anything for dollars

by RICK VAN SANT

Does your car need a tune-up? Just call the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra.

Would you like some homemade bread? Symphony member Judith Martin will put down her viola, run to the kitchen and make you some.

How about someone to share your home movies with you? Someone to go bass fishing with? Even fly a kite with? Just call the symphony.

Fans of the city's orchestra are discovering they can get more than music from their musicians — when they make a financial contribution to the symphony. The musicians have catalogued some of the services they are offering during a fund-raising drive this weekend.

Some offerings from the catalogue:

- Judith Martin of the viola section will bake you a loaf of her famed Swedish Christmas bread. $15 donation.
- Racquetball enthusiasts! Play a one-hour game with principal clarinetist Richard Waller. $25.
- Does your car need a minor tune-up? Have it done by principal French hornish Michael Hatfield. Plugs, points, condenser, etc. $50.

And for the big spenders:

- Command your own performance! A rare and unique opportunity to conduct the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra in concert. After a private conducting lesson and a rehearsal, you conduct either the June 4 or 5 concert. $2,000.
- Have a piece of music composed and dedicated in your honor. Composer Frank Proto will compose a 10- to 15-minute piece and it will be performed for you at a world premiere. All for just a $2,500 donation.

THE GREATEST SHOW IN TOWN.

Lawry's The Prime Rib is not just another great restaurant. It's a show that starts the minute you sit down.

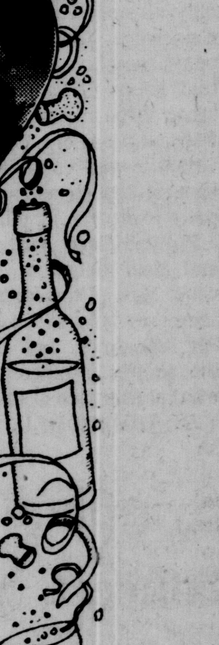
Your waitress arrives with a crisp salad on a bed of ice. As she dresses it, she spins it and tosses it while you watch.

Then the great, gleaming cart wheels up to your table. The Master Carver opens it up for you to see the magnificent prime ribs of Mid-western beef.

The slices are generous—thick or thin, rare or well-done, with bone or without. Then Lawry's famous spinach or buttered garden peas, baked Idaho or mashed potatoes, and Yorkshire pudding.

Prime ribs of beef is Lawry's only entree for dinner. Luncheon, from 11:30 to 2, offers a varied menu with other choices.

In all Chicago, you won't find a better evening. Certainly not one that will please your palate and your pocketbook so much.



Lawry's The Prime Rib, 100 East Ontario at Rush. (312) 787-5000 for reservations.
Dinner every evening. Lunch Monday through Friday.

LOOKING FORWARD to the 85th season of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, members of Countryside Committee of the Chicago Symphony Women's Association had luncheon at Inverness Golf Club recently to discuss methods of fund-raising. Mrs. Mary Coates, Inverness; Mrs. Betty Doemland, Des Plaines; and Mrs. Rae Inman, Arlington Heights, were among guests of Mrs. Gilbert McIntosh, chairman, who hosted the luncheon.

Women's goal $600,000 for Chicago Symphony

With a goal of raising $600,000 toward the 1975-76 sustaining fund for the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, the Symphony Women's Association is getting an early start contacting contributors.

Members of Countryside Committee of the Association were recently invited to a luncheon at Inverness Golf Club by their chairman, Mrs. Gilbert McIntosh of Inverness, to discuss raising their share of the goal.

On the committee are Mrs. Edward Benninghoven, Barrington, co-chairman; Mrs. Forrest Borngrebe, Mrs. H. A. P. Doree, Mrs. Charles Foxgrover Jr., Mrs. John Golitz, Mrs. Hugh Latimer, Mrs. Lee Milligan Jr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Smith, all of Barrington; Mrs. John Coates, Mrs. John Gow and Mrs. Henry Howland, all of Inverness; Mrs. Robert Coffin of Long Grove.

ALSO, MRS. HENRY Doemland and Mrs. Rudolph Schaefer, Des Plaines; Mrs. W. Richard Impey and Mrs. Wilbur Inman, Arlington Heights; and Mrs. Gene Davis, Mrs. Michael Kelly and Mrs. Alexander B. Scharpe, Woodstock.

Those who contribute receive news letters concerning the orchestra and the youth concerts which are sponsored by the Women's Association. Programs of the popular concerts and chamber music concerts are also sent, and donors are invited to an open rehearsal.

Jewish art exhibit

The Jewish Museum in New York City has opened a permanent exhibition entitled "Celebration of Jewish Life — of Days and Seasons, of Time and its Passage," as the first stage in its new installation of its extensive Judaica collection. The exhibition displays articles in the context of their role in Jewish life, including categories such as Sabbath, Passover, Hanukkah, birth, marriage and death. (UPI)

Museum prepares for Christmas

Preparation is underway for the 34th annual "Christmas Around the World" festival taking place at the Museum of Science and Industry Nov. 28 through Jan. 1.

Thirty-one ethnic groups will set off the festivities by arriving the first day to trim 26 giant Christmas trees in the Rotunda. Iceland will be represented for the first time.

Adding to the mood of the holidays, choral groups from Chicago-area schools and churches will take turns presenting daily concerts in the Christmas display area Dec. 1-24.

Internationally flavored theater programs will also be presented in the auditorium daily. The holiday pageants are being performed by various ethnic groups in cooperation with Chicago school and professional dance and drama teams.

HOLIDAY DINNERS featuring dishes typical of the nationality or ethnic group presenting that day's theater program will be served in the Museum's dining rooms Nov. 28 through Dec. 15. Dinner reservations and additional information are available through the Museum's Christmas desk, MU-4-1414.

Admission to the Museum and Christmas festival is free. Located at 57th street and Lake Shore Drive, the Museum is open from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays and from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. During the pageant period, Christmas display areas will remain open until 8 p.m. The Museum is closed on Christmas Day.

Lawry's The Prime Rib is not just another great restaurant. It's a show that starts the minute you sit down.

Your waitress arrives with a crisp salad on a bed of ice. As she dresses it, she spins it and tosses it while you watch.

Then the great, gleaming cart wheels up to your table. The Master Carver opens it up for you to see the magnificent prime ribs of Mid-western beef.

The slices are generous—thick or thin, rare or well-done, with bone or without. Then Lawry's famous spinach or buttered garden peas, baked Idaho or mashed potatoes, and Yorkshire pudding.

Prime ribs of beef is Lawry's only entree for dinner. Luncheon, from 11:30 to 2, offers a varied menu with other choices.

In all Chicago, you won't find a better evening. Certainly not one that will please your palate and your pocketbook so much.

Lawry's The Prime Rib, 100 East Ontario at Rush. (312) 787-5000 for reservations.

LOOKING FORWARD to the 85th season of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, members of Countryside Committee of the Chicago Symphony Women's Association had luncheon at Inverness Golf Club recently to discuss methods of fund-raising. Mrs. Mary Coates, Inverness; Mrs. Betty Doemland, Des Plaines; and Mrs. Rae Inman, Arlington Heights, were among guests of Mrs. Gilbert McIntosh, chairman, who hosted the luncheon.

Women's goal $600,000 for Chicago Symphony

With a goal of raising $600,000 toward the 1975-76 sustaining fund for the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, the Symphony Women's Association is getting an early start contacting contributors.

Members of Countryside Committee of the Association were recently invited to a luncheon at Inverness Golf Club by their chairman, Mrs. Gilbert McIntosh of Inverness, to discuss raising their share of the goal.

On the committee are Mrs. Edward Benninghoven, Barrington, co-chairman; Mrs. Forrest Borngrebe, Mrs. H. A. P. Doree, Mrs. Charles Foxgrover Jr., Mrs. John Golitz, Mrs. Hugh Latimer, Mrs. Lee Milligan Jr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Smith, all of Barrington; Mrs. John Coates, Mrs. John Gow and Mrs. Henry Howland, all of Inverness; Mrs. Robert Coffin of Long Grove.

ALSO, MRS. HENRY Doemland and Mrs. Rudolph Schaefer, Des Plaines; Mrs. W. Richard Impey and Mrs. Wilbur Inman, Arlington Heights; and Mrs. Gene Davis, Mrs. Michael Kelly and Mrs. Alexander B. Scharpe, Woodstock.

Those who contribute receive news letters concerning the orchestra and the youth concerts which are sponsored by the Women's Association. Programs of the popular concerts and chamber music concerts are also sent, and donors are invited to an open rehearsal.

Jewish art exhibit

The Jewish Museum in New York City has opened a permanent exhibition entitled "Celebration of Jewish Life — of Days and Seasons, of Time and its Passage," as the first stage in its new installation of its extensive Judaica collection. The exhibition displays articles in the context of their role in Jewish life, including categories such as Sabbath, Passover, Hanukkah, birth, marriage and death. (UPI)

Museum prepares for Christmas

Preparation is underway for the 34th annual "Christmas Around the World" festival taking place at the Museum of Science and Industry Nov. 28 through Jan. 1.

Thirty-one ethnic groups will set off the festivities by arriving the first day to trim 26 giant Christmas trees in the Rotunda. Iceland will be represented for the first time.

Adding to the mood of the holidays, choral groups from Chicago-area schools and churches will take turns presenting daily concerts in the Christmas display area Dec. 1-24.

Internationally flavored theater programs will also be presented in the auditorium daily. The holiday pageants are being performed by various ethnic groups in cooperation with Chicago school and professional dance and drama teams.

HOLIDAY DINNERS featuring dishes typical of the nationality or ethnic group presenting that day's theater program will be served in the Museum's dining rooms Nov. 28 through Dec. 15. Dinner reservations and additional information are available through the Museum's Christmas desk, MU-4-1414.

Admission to the Museum and Christmas festival is free. Located at 57th street and Lake Shore Drive, the Museum is open from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays and from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. During the pageant period, Christmas display areas will remain open until 8 p.m. The Museum is closed on Christmas Day.

The Park Ridge Symphony Orchestra will perform the "3 a.m." section from the "Randolph and Dearborn Suite" by David M. Jacobson of Palatine when it presents its annual concert tonight at the Hyatt Regency O'Hare.

THE 80-PIECE symphony orchestra is conducted by Frank York.

The "Randolph and Dearborn Suite" for symphony orchestra depicts the well-known Chicago intersection when it was the center of Chicago's night life and entertainment. The suite is divided into five parts: "Fanfare," "Open For Business," "Rush Hour," "Night Life" and "3 a.m."

Jacobson has written other concert works as well as songs and topical material for night club revues.

The benefit for the Park Ridge Fine Arts Society begins with cocktails and a sculpture display at 6 p.m., followed by dinner with music at 7:30, the concert at 8:30 and dance music at 9:30.

Carmela Gabl of Arlington Heights has been elected president of Best Off Broadway players. She will be assisted by Natalie Ferguson of Hoffman Estates, vice president; Tracy Albert of Barrington, treasurer; and Jeanne Haight, also of Barrington, secretary.

Musicians do anything for dollars

by RICK VAN SANT

Does your car need a tune-up? Just call the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra.

Would you like some homemade bread? Symphony member Judith Martin will put down her viola, run to the kitchen and make you some.

How about someone to share your home movies with you? Someone to go bass fishing with? Even fly a kite with? Just call the symphony.

Fans of the city's orchestra are discovering they can get more than music from their musicians — when they make a financial contribution to the symphony. The musicians have catalogued some of the services they are offering during a fund-raising drive this weekend.

Some offerings from the catalogue:

- Judith Martin of the viola section will bake you a loaf of her famed Swedish Christmas bread. $15 donation.
- Racquetball enthusiasts! Play a one-hour game with principal clarinetist Richard Waller. $25.
- Does your car need a minor tune-up? Have it done by principal French hornish Michael Hatfield. Plugs, points, condenser, etc. $50.

And for the big spenders:

- Command your own performance! A rare and unique opportunity to conduct the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra in concert. After a private conducting lesson and a rehearsal, you conduct either the June 4 or 5 concert. $2,000.
- Have a piece of music composed and dedicated in your honor. Composer Frank Proto will compose a 10- to 15-minute piece and it will be performed for you at a world premiere. All for just a $2,500 donation.

"SOMETHING'S AFOOT" opens tonight at the Chateau Mysterie Theatre in the Chateau Louise Resort, Route 31 in Dundee. The musical, mystery comedy replaces Agatha Christie's "The Mousetrap" which ran for over a year at the theater. Several "Mousetrap" cast members have been carried over.

'Cadillac' cast enjoys the ride

by PAT ADAM
(A review)

Expense accounts, stock options, bonuses, a solid gold Cadillac to take you to a plush office. These are the things stockholders dream of and these are the things that "The Solid Gold Cadillac" spoofs in the tongue-in-cheek comedy currently being staged by Masque and Staff.

Of course, only a few stockholders ever achieve them, the big bad directors of the company . . . except, in this case, one little stockholder, by name, Mrs. Laura Partridge, an actress who relies on her horoscope.

As a minority stockholder of 10 shares, Mrs. Partridge asks questions the directors would rather not answer. To quiet her they give her a job, as director of stockholder relations. And that's where they make their mistake. Mrs. Partridge takes her job seriously.

WHEN SHE MEETS up with the company's founder and former president, Edward L. McKeever, now a big wheel in Washington, D. C., where he's learned all about honesty, well, the directors better look to their options.

With a twinkle in her eye and a flick of her foot, Loretta Tomaselli settles into her role as Mrs. Partridge and enjoys every minute of it. she could use a little more inflection in her voice, but otherwise she manages to convey to the audience that she's having a very good time.

But Patrick O'Dea is the real star of the show as the formidable powerhouse, McKeever. Especially as he recites "Spartacus to the Gladiators," complete with gestures. That requires both flawless memory and stamina. O'Dea meets the challenge with gusto.

AS DIRECTORS Art Hassel, Art Soderlund, Earl Marshall and Bob Johnson are a riot. Hassel plays Blessington, most reluctant to give up his position as president, with just a touch of stuffiness. Soderlund is Metcalfe, the only director showing even a trace of conscience. Marshall as Gillie, company secretary, exhibits the timidity that keeps Gillie secretary when the other three manage to move up. And Bob Johnson, one of this area's most versatile and capable community actors, is superb as the scheming company treasurer, Snell.

Holly Melser makes her Masque and Staff debut as Amelia Shotgraven, Mrs. Partridge's very proper secretary who at Laura's urging lets her hair down. And Bill Cannon, also the show's producer, is the mailboy who takes notice of that fact.

AS THE MODEL, Miss L'Arriere, Nancy Rodewald is required only to be beautiful, and she does a beautiful job of it. And Ginny Lobaugh plays her role of McKeever's secretary for every laugh she can.

Clarence Petersen, John Grayson and Pat Soderlund are the television reporters. Completing the cast, Bonnie Casey and Sarma Spuris share the role of Mrs. Peartree. and Jim Dean, Jan Hurley, Denise Niedert and Deane Presar are reporters.

Numerous scene changes tend to make the production drag slightly, but the opening night audience didn't seem to mind. They had a good laugh at General Products' expense. Director Shirley Johnson can add another credit to her account.

"The Solid Gold Cadillac" will roll across the sage of Elk Grove High School again tonight and Saturday evening.

Art auction a church fund-raiser

Art auctions, which are becoming a popular type of fund-raiser, are planned this weekend by two churches in the area.

One is tonight, sponsored by Southminster Presbyterian Church in Arlington Heights. The other is Sunday evening and is arranged by Countryside Unitarian Universalist Church.

Original signed lithographs, etchings, oil paintings and sculpture will be previewed tonight from 7:30 to 8:30 in Southminster's Fellowship Hall, 916 E. Central Rd. The auction is at 8:30, with starting bids ranging from $1 to $500.

Tickets are $2 and include refreshments. Anyone interested may call Gary Laughinghouse at 394-2668.

SUNDAY'S EXHIBIT and auction is sponsored by the Countryside Unitarian Universalist Church but will be held at the Christian Church of Arlington Heights, 333 W. Thomas.

More than 250 pieces of art, including original oils ,graphics, watercolors, prints and metal sculptures, are being coordinated by the Gallery Art Center.

Bidding starts at 8 p.m. at one-half of the retail or gallery prices. A refreshment preview is slated from 7 to 8 p.m. Tickets are $1.50 at the door.

Lois Peterson, 253-8999 has further details.

Symphony's 1st concert Nov. 30

The first concert of the season for Northwest Symphony Orchestra is Nov. 30 at 7:30 p.m. at Maine East High School Auditorium, Dempster and Potter Roads, Park Ridge.

Perry Crafton is conducting the orchestra which will open with William Schuman's "Credendum," followed by Sarah Bartlett and Diane Horban performing the Cimarosa Concerto for Two Flutes and Orchestra.

The second half of the program will be devoted to the Sibelius Symphony No. 2.

Season tickets are $7.50 for four concerts, but single tickets at $3 may be reserved by contacting Mrs. Ann Butler, 631-6132, after 6 p.m. Student and Golden Ager admissions are $1.50; children under 12 are admitted free if accompanied by an adult.

The remaining concerts are scheduled for Jan. 25, Mar. 7 and May 23.

prime[1] (prīm), adj. 1. first in rank; chief. 2. first in time or order; fundamental; original. 3. first in quality; first-rate; excellent.

ACCORDING TO MARRIOTT: All of the above and more. Particularly when it refers to our juicy U.S.D.A. prime rib of beef. So tender it almost melts in your mouth.

In fact, our prime ribs are so good that we've given over an entire restaurant to this, the king of beef. We call it the Chaparral. Five succulent cuts of prime rib, all cooked to your specifications for perfection. Complete with an extensive salad bar, homemade bread and popovers from just $7.50.

WIN A TRIP TO THE OLD WEST

.....you may win an all expense paid vacation for two (including airfare) to Marriott's Camelback Inn, Scottsdale, Arizona. Nothing to buy; simply register at the Chaparral now through Dec. 12. Or, perhaps, you'll win the weekly prize of dinner and theatre tickets for four at Drury Lane North legitimate theatre.

But even if you don't win the trip, or one of the dinner/theatre packages, you can't help but be a winner with your dinner at the Chaparral. Open for dinner only. Try our lavish Sunday brunch!

AS THE MODEL, Miss L'Arriere, Nancy Rodewald is required only to be beautiful, and she does a beautiful job of it. And Ginny Lobaugh plays her role of McKeever's secretary for every laugh she can.

Clarence Petersen, John Grayson and Pat Soderlund are the television reporters. Completing the cast, Bonnie Casey and Sarma Spuris share the role of Mrs. Peartree. and Jim Dean, Jan Hurley, Denise Niedert and Deane Presar are reporters.

Numerous scene changes tend to make the production drag slightly, but the opening night audience didn't seem to mind. They had a good laugh at General Products' expense. Director Shirley Johnson can add another credit to her account.

"The Solid Gold Cadillac" will roll across the sage of Elk Grove High School again tonight and Saturday evening.

Art auction a church fund-raiser

Art auctions, which are becoming a popular type of fund-raiser, are planned this weekend by two churches in the area.

One is tonight, sponsored by Southminster Presbyterian Church in Arlington Heights. The other is Sunday evening and is arranged by Countryside Unitarian Universalist Church.

Original signed lithographs, etchings, oil paintings and sculpture will be previewed tonight from 7:30 to 8:30 in Southminster's Fellowship Hall, 916 E. Central Rd. The auction is at 8:30, with starting bids ranging from $1 to $500.

Tickets are $2 and include refreshments. Anyone interested may call Gary Laughinghouse at 394-2668.

SUNDAY'S EXHIBIT and auction is sponsored by the Countryside Unitarian Universalist Church but will be held at the Christian Church of Arlington Heights, 333 W. Thomas.

More than 250 pieces of art, including original oils ,graphics, watercolors, prints and metal sculptures, are being coordinated by the Gallery Art Center.

Bidding starts at 8 p.m. at one-half of the retail or gallery prices. A refreshment preview is slated from 7 to 8 p.m. Tickets are $1.50 at the door.

Lois Peterson, 253-8999 has further details.

Symphony's 1st concert Nov. 30

The first concert of the season for Northwest Symphony Orchestra is Nov. 30 at 7:30 p.m. at Maine East High School Auditorium, Dempster and Potter Roads, Park Ridge.

Perry Crafton is conducting the orchestra which will open with William Schuman's "Credendum," followed by Sarah Bartlett and Diane Horban performing the Cimarosa Concerto for Two Flutes and Orchestra.

The second half of the program will be devoted to the Sibelius Symphony No. 2.

Season tickets are $7.50 for four concerts, but single tickets at $3 may be reserved by contacting Mrs. Ann Butler, 631-6132, after 6 p.m. Student and Golden Ager admissions are $1.50; children under 12 are admitted free if accompanied by an adult.

The remaining concerts are scheduled for Jan. 25, Mar. 7 and May 23.

prime

ACCORDING TO WEBSTER:

prime[1] (prīm), adj. 1. first in rank; chief. 2. first in time or order; fundamental; original. 3. first in quality; first-rate; excellent.

ACCORDING TO MARRIOTT: All of the above and more. Particularly when it refers to our juicy U.S.D.A. prime rib of beef. So tender it almost melts in your mouth.

In fact, our prime ribs are so good that we've given over an entire restaurant to this, the king of beef. We call it the Chaparral. Five succulent cuts of prime rib, all cooked to your specifications for perfection. Complete with an extensive salad bar, homemade bread and popovers from just $7.50.

WIN A TRIP TO THE OLD WEST

.....you may win an all expense paid vacation for two (including airfare) to Marriott's Camelback Inn, Scottsdale, Arizona. Nothing to buy; simply register at the Chaparral now through Dec. 12. Or, perhaps, you'll win the weekly prize of dinner and theatre tickets for four at Drury Lane North legitimate theatre.

But even if you don't win the trip, or one of the dinner/theatre packages, you can't help but be a winner with your dinner at the Chaparral. Open for dinner only. Try our lavish Sunday brunch!

Buffalo meat on the menu

Bill o' fare

Be prepared to wait for a table when you drop into the Kelsey Road House, a popular restaurant and pub at Northwest Highway and Kelsey Road, Barrington.

The friendly, casual atmosphere and moderate prices have made the Road House, located in the basement of a large house set well back off Kelsey Road, a favorite of the under 40 crowd.

Both regular and deep dish pizzas are house specialities. But the menu also includes a list of 22 very hearty sandwiches, two sizes of steak, chef's salad and French fried shrimp.

Featuring:

Kelsey Road House

The food is good but even so, tends to take a back seat to the rathskeller atmosphere. Restaurant walls are curiously punctuated with wine bottles mortared into the exposed brick.

ILLUMINATED PAINTINGS of Old World scenes light the high-backed booths with a stained glass glow easy on the eyes. Antiques and other rustic furnishings complete the picture.

Proof of the place's popularity is the waiting for a table which on a Saturday night is routinely an hour or more. The restaurant does not accept reservations. But few people seem to mind passing the time in the bar where the drinks are generous and Cheddar cheese spread and crackers are available to ward off starvation.

Pizza prices range from $2.50 for a 9-inch cheese with thin crust to $10.95 for the 14-inch deep-dish Road House special.

Sandwiches, priced from $2.25 to $4.25, come with homemade French fries. Every possible combination of meat, cheese and garnish is available. The most exotic offering is probably the Anchorage House sandwich which offers buffalo meat, Cheddar cheese, salami, tomato, shredded lettuce and chili sauce on rye bread. Food is served on plastic plates.

IF YOU'VE GOT the appetite, don't miss the chef's salad made with three varieties of lettuce, hearts of palm, artichoke hearts, carrots, cucumbers, tomatoes and bacon bits. A variety of dressings are also well-prepared.

Dining at the Kelsey Road House is not gourmet. But for a casual spot and a friendly crowd, it's as good as any spot around.

A sign at the entrance prohibits the wearing of blue jeans, muscle shirts or entering with bare feet. You can sneak in, however, if you wear your best jeans with no rips, worn seams or funny patches.

Kelsey Road House is located five miles west of Barrington Road on Kelsey Road just off Northwest Highway.

Not enough good will to cover up 'Angels'

Night out

by Genie Campbell

Perhaps because the holiday season hasn't begun to hit me (after all Thanksgiving isn't here yet), I can't appreciate the true significance of booking "MY THREE ANGELS," because it takes place on Christmas Eve. For that appears to be the only reason the play has been resurrected with CHUCK CONNORS as the billed star at DRURY LANE NORTH in Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort.

The comedy concerning three convicts, two murderers and one con artist, who arrive the night before Christmas to play nursemaids to a poor French family by warding off an evil, mercenary cousin and to mend the broken heart of the teenage daughter, constitutes a Robin Hood kind of old-fashioned melodrama too corny to be real. And much too slow to be enjoyed.

Three convicts appear out of nowhere? Cold-blooded killers set tables and fold napkins? The antiquated setting, Cayenne, French Guiana, 1910, doesn't spark the play but helps to explain why daughter Marie, played by Wesley Pfenning faints upon receiving word her boyfriend is marrying another, tries to commit suicide and threatens to become a nun all within the same scene.

The play doesn't do justice to the impressive lineup of Chicago actors like TOM ELROD, the mean, nitpicking uncle; DICK SASSO, a convict with personality plus; and JACK GORING, who looks positively ridiculous in night shirt and socks. Also featured are DAVID WHITAKER, GERALDINE POWER and VERA WARD. About Connors it's hard to say. For sure he is never given a chance to prove himself on stage. Best he bill himself still as the "Rifleman."

What is currently most pleasing at the Marriott Lincolnshire is the CHAPARRAL RESTAURANT which has just undergone a face lift and menu change.

Newly decorated in a southwestern theme highlighting three huge murals depicting desert scenes, the Chaparral has been turned into a roast prime rib of beef specialty restaurant. Five different cuts are offered along with a complete salad bar. Dinner/theater packages are available. This restaurant is in addition to King's Wharf.

PRENTICE MINNER & COMPANY currently in the TOP OF THE TOWERS is the perfect nightclub floor show, a complete entertainment package of song and dance both easy on the ears and dramatic enough to light up the whole room.

A versatile vocalist, Prentice Minner, with a talented backup of six musicians, presents a comfortable show featuring light rock, ballads and songs bordering on gospel tempos that appear to stylize his entire show. He follows up a rousing "Sweet Georgia Brown" in varying rythms with a powerful "I Believe."

Voice backup is provided by two attractive female singers who manage to add to the overall act while still remaining in the background. And the dance routines are a nice reprieve between numbers, not overdone and flashy as so many of them tend to be.

It's a good show and only here through Nov. 29.

Paul New is alive and well and back in the business after recruiting six, new, young musicians and hiding out for six weeks at his Bartlett farm getting the act together. It's been over a year since he split with his previous combo.

Having been on the road most of the summer experimenting with new material, PAUL NEW AND THE THIRD EDITION are making their first appearance back on the Chicago circuit through Dec. 13 at the PICKWICK HOUSE.

New always has a trick up his sleeve in between providing some good solid sounds. His impressions are great — Johnny Cash, Nate King Cole, John Wayne — though he stays too long with the King himself. It's not that New doesn't do Elvis justice, but he has more to offer on his own.

And he's got help. BILLY McCLURE picking electric guitar does a foot-stomping "Orange Blossom Special." And taking turns switching instruments, which seems to be the only way to go these days, are FRANK VERKICH, PHIL CIANCIO, DENNIS DUVALL, DAN EDIE and DANNY SMITH.

It's a fun show with country and contemporary featured but not much serious stuff. New is just too much into comedy routines. Truthfully I would have preferred a little "less Mickey Mouse" and a few more musical notes.

The NEW CAMPOT AND NOLE also made a first Chicago appearance at Pickwick Sunday and Monday of this week. And in case you're wondering, WAYNE COCHRAN did manage to put a big hole in the ceiling of the lounge before he concluded his engagement there. But that's normal.

Tonight's opening night performance of LANA TURNER and LOUIS JOURDAN in "THE PLEASURE OF HIS COMPANY" at ARLINGTON PARK THEATRE is sold out and few tickets are left for any performance of the comedy this weekend.

Casting for "WHAT A SPOT!" a new musical by JACK SHARKEY and DAVE REISER opening at COUNTRY CLUB COMEDY THEATRE next month, has been completed with KENT MONKEN, FRANK GETZ, KAREN MASON and BRENDA HINDMAN in featured roles. Yet the production is turning into a real family affair. Reiser is filling in as accompanist until one is hired, Sharkey is choreographer and his wife, PAT, is doing the costuming . . . not that it's strictly a woman's job.

He'll star as St. Peter

Farentino fights back

by VERNON SCOTT

James Farentino, a big, strong Italian out of Brooklyn, is the kind of guy who can hug another man without raising eyebrows.

He's also determined to become a major film star.

Farentino has kicked around Broadway and Hollywood in plays, movies and television series without really attaining stardom. Now, however he is on the threshold of hitting it big.

He will star as Saint Peter in Franco Zeffirelli's "The Life of Christ" with the likes of Anne Bancroft, Laurence Olivier and Orson Welles.

"IT'S NOT A "BREAK" in the sense that Farentino hit it lucky. On the contrary, he wrested the opportunity from a floundering career.

Eleven years ago he signed a contract with Universal and wound up in several mediocre movies and a pair of undistinguised television series. He costarred in "The Bold Ones" for three years and lasted four episodes in the 90-minute "Cool Million" series.

His last movie was "Me, Natalie" with Patty Duke back in 1968. Al Pacino had two lines in the little-remembered picture.

The best thing to happen to Farentino during those years was his marriage to singer-actress Michele Lee.

"When you're under contract to a big studio there isn't much you can do to control your own career," Farentino said. "When my contract was up in 1972, I went back to the theater to do 'One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest' in Chicago and 'A Streetcar Named Desire' in New York."

"I CAME BACK to Hollywood to do an episode of 'Police Story' and some television movies. One day George C. Scott told me to get out of television and get out of town if I wanted to save my career. He had seen me do 'Streetcar' and knew I could do better work.

"Then Scott decided to do 'Death of a Salesman' on Broadway and wanted me for the part of Biff."

Farentino had already played the younger son, Happy, in a television version of the play with Lee J. Cobb as Willy Loman. Scott has played both sons on stage over the years and essayed the title role with Farentino on Broadway this year.

The critics went crackers over Farentino's performance. The reviews sounded as if the actor had written them himself.

"I've played both the sons now," Farentino said. "Someday I hope to play Willy. It is one of the classic parts ever written.

"FORTUNATELY, I could afford to work in the theater for almost nothing. I turned down good money from television to go back to Broadway. But I had to test myself to see what I could do.

"Now that investment is paying off. A representative from Zeffirelli saw the play and wanted me for Saint Peter."

Farentiono is off to Morocco for five months for his demanding role with an all-star cast under the watchful eye of producer Sir Lew Grade.

"The part appealed to me at once," the actor said. "I'm playing Peter as a man, not a saint. There was no Cecil B. DeMille hokum in the screenplay. Zeffirelli is taking a humanistic view of the story. All the parts are beautifully written."

Farentino's decision to leave town, re-establishes his priorities and escape the plastic characters offered by television has revitalized his career.

It is possible he may join the select company of actors in the front rank of leading men — the Dustin Hoffmans, Elliott Goulds and Gene Hackmans.

He is endowed with sufficient macho, rugged good looks and talent to get there. Now that he has the opportunity, James Farentino is convinced he is an actor whose time has come.

'Cuckoo' to open Harper Theatre

The first production of the Harper College Studio Theatre will be "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," scheduled for Dec. 5, 6 and 7.

Written by Dale Wasserman from the novel by Ken Kesey, the play is set in a mental institution. One of the patients, Randle P. McMurphy, has been transferred to the institution from a prison and arrives bringing life, love and a terrible disruption to the institutional sytem.

"Cuckoo's Nest" is under direction of Mary Jo Willis, Harper theater and speech instructor.

The play will be presented in the television studio, Building F on the Harper campus in Palatine. Performances are scheduled at 5 and 6 and 2 p.m. Dec. 7. Public admission is $1.

Borderline diabetic must lose weight

by Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

I am borderline diabetic, 52 years old, 5 feet 4 inches tall and weigh about 134 pounds. The doctor wants me to get down to 130. The latest glucose reading without medication on a restricted diet in the hospital was 143. Now I am on a 2000 calorie diet and find that I am so stuffed. I got permission to cut down but to keep the diet balanced. With an underactive thyroid wouldn't this be one reason I find losing weight so hard? I take 1 mg of Synthyroid daily.

Your doctor is very wise in helping you to lose weight. Many mild diabetics can be controlled by diet alone, and that usually means eliminating any excess obesity and keeping the fat off thereafter.

Unfortunately, 2000 calories a day is too much for many women. You can have a balanced diet and get down to 1,200 calories a day, if you need to, in order to lose weight. Send in 50 cents for The Health Letter number 4-7, Weight Losing Diet. Just send your request to me in care of Paddock Publications, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. Include a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Then take the diet to your doctor and be sure he agrees that you can be on it.

I would like to add a word of caution. Diabetics should never go on a diet without their doctor's permission. That is especially true if the diabetic is taking insulin or medicine to lower the blood glucose. The insulin requirements are balanced against the amount of food you eat. If you cut down on your food you usually need to cut down on your insulin.

A BORDERLINE diabetic not on medicine does not have this problem.

A similar situation exists regarding exercise, but is more often neglected. Exercise burns up calories and lowers blood sugar. Unusual exercise may decrease the insulin requirements or increase the food requirments to avoid an insulin reaction. A diabetic needs to live a fairly regulated life if he is to use a regular, constant amount of medicine for his blood sugar.

A regular exercise program will help you with your diet program. The whole idea is to have a daily negative balance of calories, in other words to spend more than you take in — deficit spending, if you will. There are two sides to the coin on doing that. One is to limit your calorie intake, and the other is to increase your calorie use, and exercise helps with the latter.

A LOW THYROID function will decrease the amount of calories that your body will use at rest. This will make losing weight more difficult. For other readers I hasten to add that many people who are overweight have normal thyroids and that is usually not the problem.

When you take thyroid medicine, it will supplement the amount of thyroid hormone formed by your own gland. If you are taking enough, then you should really have normal thyroid function. Incidentally, excess thyroid hormone can lead to elevated blood sugar levels, so can a variety of medicines, including diuretics used to eliminate fluid before menstrual periods and in treatment of high blood pressure or for any fluid retention problem.

Knit fit

Clothing patterns labeled for stretchable knits only may not give a proper fit if stable knit fabric is substituted. Stable knits, like woven fabrics, have less give than stretchable knits, and need more ease in finished garments. Read the label on a bolt of fabric before you buy if you have a specific pattern in mind.

Borderline diabetic must lose weight

I am borderline diabetic, 52 years old, 5 feet 4 inches tall and weigh about 134 pounds. The doctor wants me to get down to 130. The latest glucose reading without medication on a restricted diet in the hospital was 143. Now I am on a 2000 calorie diet and find that I am so stuffed. I got permission to cut down but to keep the diet balanced. With an underactive thyroid wouldn't this be one reason I find losing weight so hard? I take 1 mg of Synthyroid daily.

Your doctor is very wise in helping you to lose weight. Many mild diabetics can be controlled by diet alone, and that usually means eliminating any excess obesity and keeping the fat off thereafter.

Unfortunately, 2000 calories a day is too much for many women. You can have a balanced diet and get down to 1,200 calories a day, if you need to, in order to lose weight. Send in 50 cents for The Health Letter number 4-7, Weight Losing Diet. Just send your request to me in care of Paddock Publications, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. Include a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Then take the diet to your doctor and be sure he agrees that you can be on it.

I would like to add a word of caution. Diabetics should never go on a diet without their doctor's permission. That is especially true if the diabetic is taking insulin or medicine to lower the blood glucose. The insulin requirements are balanced against the amount of food you eat. If you cut down on your food you usually need to cut down on your insulin.

A BORDERLINE diabetic not on medicine does not have this problem.

A similar situation exists regarding exercise, but is more often neglected. Exercise burns up calories and lowers blood sugar. Unusual exercise may decrease the insulin requirements or increase the food requirments to avoid an insulin reaction. A diabetic needs to live a fairly regulated life if he is to use a regular, constant amount of medicine for his blood sugar.

A regular exercise program will help you with your diet program. The whole idea is to have a daily negative balance of calories, in other words to spend more than you take in — deficit spending, if you will. There are two sides to the coin on doing that. One is to limit your calorie intake, and the other is to increase your calorie use, and exercise helps with the latter.

A LOW THYROID function will decrease the amount of calories that your body will use at rest. This will make losing weight more difficult. For other readers I hasten to add that many people who are overweight have normal thyroids and that is usually not the problem.

When you take thyroid medicine, it will supplement the amount of thyroid hormone formed by your own gland. If you are taking enough, then you should really have normal thyroid function. Incidentally, excess thyroid hormone can lead to elevated blood sugar levels, so can a variety of medicines, including diuretics used to eliminate fluid before menstrual periods and in treatment of high blood pressure or for any fluid retention problem.

Knit fit

Clothing patterns labeled for stretchable knits only may not give a proper fit if stable knit fabric is substituted. Stable knits, like woven fabrics, have less give than stretchable knits, and need more ease in finished garments. Read the label on a bolt of fabric before you buy if you have a specific pattern in mind.

Violet stem getting soft

Dear dorothy: A lovely African violet plant is still blooming, but I'm fretting because each lower stem gets soft of late and has to be plucked out. Any ideas on what might be wrong?—Barbara Harman.

One of two things might be causing this — root rot or soil that is so packed that no oxygen is circulating. Try letting the plant dry out and water-only when the top seems quite dry. Don't let water stand in the saucer.

If this doesn't work, you'll have to replant. Use the regular package soil, plus a little sand or vermiculite.

Dear Dorothy: My family is big on macaroons and one of the big troubles in making them is getting them off the pan without sticking or crumbling. I make them on a greased wrapping paper slipped onto a baking sheet. When they're done, I remove the paper with the macaroons on it. On the hot baking sheet goes a wet towel and then I slide the paper and macaroons back on this. The bit of steam loosens the macaroons and they slip off easily on a spatula.—Maureen Toomey.

Dear Dorothy: One of your tips worked so nicely I have the urge to write and tell you to repeat it for others. I'd put some acorn squash in the oven to bake and got the can in which I keep brown sugar. The sugar was hard as rock. The plastic cover, I noted sadly, had a slit in it. Did exactly what you said — put a piece of dampened paper towel in the can, along with a new lid. By the time the squash was done, the brown sugar was soft. Hurray—Anne Keene.

Dear Dorothy: After working with fish, wash your hands with toothpaste. It removes the odor in double-quick time. — Mrs. Paulette Derver.

Brown and apricot scheme for Studley-Fenton rites

A brown and apricot color scheme was chosen by Margaret Ann Studley for her Oct. 24 marriage to Dale A. Fenton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Fenton III, Arlington Heights.

For the 7:30 p.m. candlelight service in the First United Methodist Church of Arlington Heights, Margaret wore a gown featuring an old-fashioned high neckline and yoke adorned with lace. Her fingertip veil was held by a lace headpiece and she carried a bouquet of white rosebuds, baby's breath and carnations.

Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Studley of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., was attended by her sister, Jennifer. She wore an apricot dress with white lace trim and carried a nosegay of white rosebuds and apricot carnations tied with brown velvet ribbons. Carole Ann Fenton, the groom's sister, was dressed identically to the maid of hoor for her role as bridesmaid.

THE GROOM'S sister and brother, Cynthia, 7, and Robert, 4, were flower girl and ring bearer respectively.

Dale chose Paul Malkowski, Ripon, Wis., as best man; Gary Peck, Bay Village, Ohio, as groomsman; his brother, Tommy Fenton, as junior groomsman; and another brother, Jimmy Fenton, as usher.

Following a buffet dinner at the Arlington Heights Elks Lodge, the newlyweds honeymooned at the Hyatt Regency O'Hare. They are now at home in a Schaumburg apartment.

Margaret and Dale met while attending the University of Wisconsin, Oshkosh. She works for McGaw Laboratories, Elk Grove Village, and he is with Reynolds Products, Inc., Schaumburg. Dale graduated from Arlington High School in 1974.

Is birth rate bottoming out?

America's birth rate may have bottomed out. The Institute of Life Insurance says the birth rate appears to be leveling off, after declining steadily for 17 years. Provisional figures for last year indicate a birth rate of 15 per 1,000 population, slightly higher than the 1973 rate and record low of 14.9 per 1,000 population.

5A championship Saturday afternoon

State football tourney opens today

BLOOMINGTON — The host communities of Bloomington and Normal are set to roll out the red carpet to the 10 teams and their fans from each of five classes when they converge on Hancock Stadium on the campus of Illinois State University today and Saturday for the second annual Illinois High School Association (IHSA) Football Playoff Championship games.

The title game teams — including seven unbeaten with a combined record of 116-4 — have earned the right to compete for the five class championships through three rounds of prior Playoff competition. Three games are set for Friday and two more for Saturday afternoon. Champions will be crowned in the three smallest classes Friday, beginning with a doubleheader in the afternoon and a single contest at night. The next day the two biggest classes will display their wares in a double header in the afternoon.

All five championship games will be telecast live and in color throughout Chicagoland, and in downstate communities with cable stations on the WGN-TV network, while nearly 20 radio stations throughout the state will carry the games on the Big "I" Football Playoff Network, which is sponsored by the Independent Insurance Agents of Illinois. WMMM-FM (92.7) of Alington Heights will carry the 5A championship, starting at 2:15 Saturday.

Veterans Concord (Triopia) in Class 1A and defending champion Decatur (St. Teresa) in Class 2A are the only returnees from combat in last fall's first-ever playoffs. St. Teresa is riding a 46-game winning streak and beat Alexis, 15-6, last November to snare the title. Triopia has lost only one football game in the past two campaigns, that a 13-8 decision to Flanagan in last fall's 1A title clash.

Parings for the two-day extravaganza are:

Friday, Nov. 21

Noon — Class 1A — Princeville (12-0) vs. Concord (Triopia) (12-0).

2:30 p.m. — Class 2A — Stockton (12-0) vs. Decatur (St. Teresa) (12-0).

Saturday, Nov. 22

Noon — Class 4A — Joliet (Catholic) (12-0) vs. Springfield (Griffin) (10-2).

2:30 p.m. — Class 5A — Deerfield (12-0) vs. Rockford (Boylan) (11-1).

Triopia and St. Teresa both wear the favorite's cap, as does Joliet (Catholic) in Class 4A. The battles in 3A and 5A rate as tossups. But, based on what has developed through the preliminary, quarterfinal and semifinal rounds, almost anything can happen — and there is no doubt that an upset or two easily could be on the horizon.

As Coach Don Kemp celebrated his birthday last Saturday, his Triopia Trojans smothered Carterville, 28-6, in a semi final contest, giving up their first points in playoff competition this season. In fact, the Triopia defense has given up only 31 points in the 12 games it has played this season. Halfbacks Jay Wessler and Scott Lovekamp, who played in last year's title game, are a pair of grind-it-out runners whom Princeville must stop if the Princes are to post a victory.

Offense has been the name of the game for Princeville, which has never been held under 26 points in 12 starts this campaign. Coach Tom Bruna has seen his team average 36 points per game over the season and 31 in the playoffs.

Triopia, an independent last fall, won the Western Illinois Valley Conference crown this year. Princeville is champion of the Blackhawk Conference. Class 1A schools have average conference enrollments of from 0-303 students.

St. Teresa, the Big Okaw Valley Conference winner, has not lost since the sixth game of the 1971 season. Coach Ed Boehm's Bulldogs have not been scored upon in their last four games, including a 45-0 blitzing of Danville (Schlarman) in the semifinals, and have allowed only six points in their past seven games. Quarterback Russ Hollingsworth and fullback Marty Bushell lead the offense.

Stockton, a school with an enrollment of 398, has been the surprise of 2A competition, nipping favored Eureka, 8-7, in the semi finals. Coach John O'Boyle's Blackhawks are champions of the Northwestern Illinois Conference and have allowed no more than eight points to each of its opponents, except Freeport (Aquin) which got 10 in the fourth game of the season. Linebacker John Blair (No. 38) keys the defense.

Class 2A schools have an average conference enrollment of 304 to 512.

The first night championship game in the playoffs matches a pair of teams which possess great offensive weapons. Metamora, champion of the Heart of Illinois Conference, is led by fullback Larry Sommer, whose run for the two-point conversion was the margin of victory (14-12) over East St. Louis (Lincoln) in the semifinals. Sommer churned up an incredible 375 yards on the ground in the preliminary game win over Alton (Marquette). Geneva, Little Seven Conference champion, and from the same league that produced last fall's Class 3A state titlist (West Chicago) has a bone-crushing offense centered around 6-2, 190-pound fullback Tim Sandman.

If ever there was a clear-cut favor-

Class 5A title game on WM radio

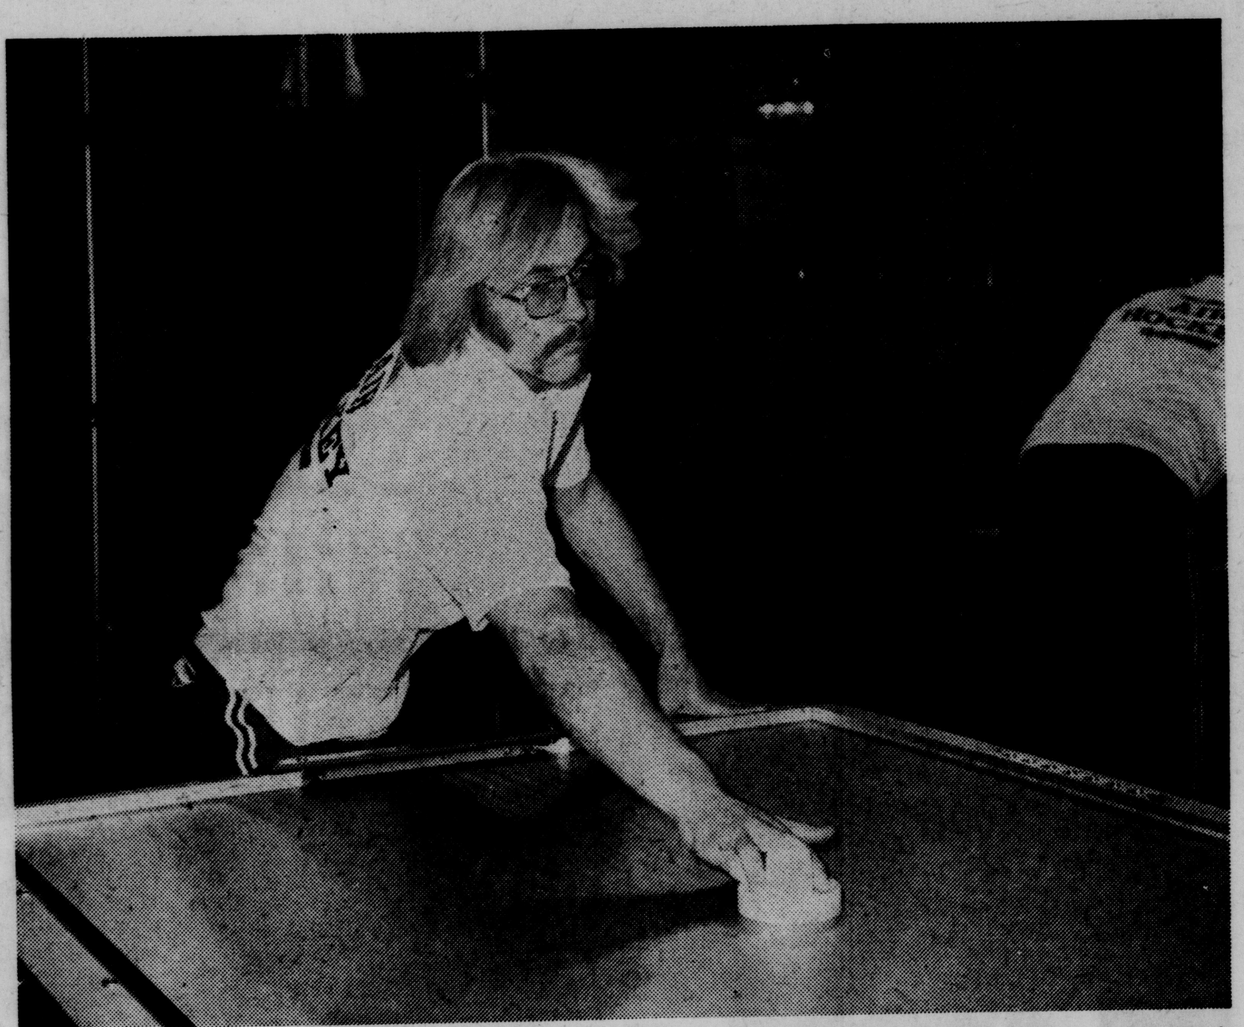
WWMM-FM (92.7) will join the Big "I" Radio Football Playoff Network for the Class 5A championship high school game Saturday afternoon from Bloomington.

Veteran sportscasters Art Kimball of Bloomington and Jim Turpin of Springfield will handle the play-by-play and color. Station WJBC, Bloomington, will be the network's flagship station.

WWMM will be on the air with the 5A action between Deerfield and Rockford Boylan at 2:15 p.m. Saturday.

Bob Houghton of WWMM will handle the pre-game commentary and will also conduct a special halftime show featuring the players of the year in the Mid-Suburban League, Russ Zonza of Schaumburg and Jim Popp of Palatine, and coach Bob Ferguson of the Saxons.

Basketball coverage on WM will begin Friday, Dec. 5 with the opening Mid-Suburban games and will feature the first league appearance by defending champion Prospect. The Knights host Rolling Meadows, and Bob Frisk and Art Mugalian of the Herald will be at the microphones to call the action.



JAY FOGARTY, a 21-year-old freshman at Southwest State University in Marshall, Minn., was one of 16 national finalists to compete in the North American Collegiate Air-Hockey Game Tournament held in New York City. Fogarty, a native of Palatine and the regional winner at St. Cloud State University in October, was defeated by David Zwink of Buffalo State College. Zwink went on to lose in the semifinals. Top prize for the event was a $5,000 scholarship awarded to the winner's school.

Prep cagers start season with 8 games

High school basketball draws centerstage attention tonight when nine area clubs showcase their talents for the 1975-76 campaign.

Opening their season during tonight's busy schedule are Maine East at Palatine, Crystal Lake at Hersey, Lake Park at Forest View, Waukegan East at Maine West and St. Viator at Immaculate Conception.

Last year's league-leading scorer Brian Allsmiller headlines Buffalo Grove's debut at Cary Grove, Jim Grandt And Greg Kloiber will spice Arlington's season opener at Proviso West and Hoffman Estates will play its first full varsity campaign by leading off with Fenton at home.

Wheeling, after losing to Addison Trail, 59-58 last week, resumes play at Barrington with all games beginning at 8 p.m.

Previews of Prospect, Schaumburg and Conant, which debut tomorrow night will appear in Saturday's Herald.

Buffalo Grove

Paul Grady has been waiting two years for this season.

And it begins on the weekend. At that time the Buffalo Grove basketball coach will take his troops on the road to inaugurate their 1975-76 campaign with a pair of non-conference outings.

Has the wait been worth it? Grady isn't saying yet. But when he begins sizing the forthcoming year, it isn't hard to detect a bit of a smile on his face.

"I feel that we've improved considerably over the past season and according to some of the press clippings I've read we're supposed to be good. Of course, the real test is to get a few games under our belt."

Amazingly enough, for a team that can count seven returning veterans representing 13 varsity seasons, the Bison are still a relatively youthful group. Grady plans on going with a couple of seniors in his starting lineup but there are only three on the entire roster, along with five juniors and a pair of sophomores.

"Yes, I guess it could be considered a young team, still. But there really is a sense of maturity among them that was noticeably absent in the previous two years. If we are going to be a better team, this will be one of the ingredients prompting it."

At the mention of Buffalo Grove, one of the first words that crops up is Allsmiller. Now a junior at 6-8 and ready to continue his assault on any number of area scoring and rebounding marks, he is also one of the keys to any success the Bison enjoy this winter.

Another seasoned vet who has been with the varsity since his freshman year is Mike Ledna, the team's 5-8 playmaker guard. Ledna will team with senior Jeff Schuster (5-11), also in his third varsity season, in the starting back court.

Flanking Allsmiller up front will be 6-6 Tim Stonerook and 6-4 junior Fred Heesch, both 200-plus pounders. Stonerook and the unit's other senior, George Bastable (5-11) bring to five the number of troops with two varsity campaigns already behind them.

Junior Scott Groot (6-0) meanwhile is starting his second year. Rounding out the teams are junior Wayne Eischen (6-2) and sophs Mike Marshall (6-3) and Fred Kruse (6-2).

Buffalo Grove finished with a 12-12 mark overall last year and they were 6-8 in conference play.

"Crystal Lake should be a good test for us," Grady explained. "They have virtually everyone back from a team that reached the sectional finals last year and their front line reads 6-5 all the way across."

Arlington

Three-time defending North Division champion Arlington will showcase its 1975-76 title aspirations tonight against host non-league foe Proviso West.

The contest will have special significance for two of Arlington's returning lettermen — Jim Grandt and Greg Kloiber — who were on hand last year to watch Jerry DeSimone bank a 20-footer off the glass at the buzzer for a 67-66 Cardinal triumph en route to a splendid 20-5 campaign.

Grandt, a 6-foot-1, 160-pound senior swingman and Kloiber, at 6-3 and 200 pounds, will figure prominently in head coach George Zigman's quest for a third straight 20-victory season.

Grandt will be counted on heavily to provide the Cardinals' scoring punch after averaging 6.4 points per game as Arlington's third guard off the bench last year.

Kloiber, a beefy junior, will be handed the assignment of controlling the backboards at both ends as he did in a reserve roll in 1974 with 76 rebounds.

Grunwald, Holcomb on 'super' list

There was once a basketball coach in the South who excelled at the game of Blue Chip.

He would be sitting around at a clinic or convention and some colleague would challenge him.

"You'll never get this one," the challenger would say. Then he'd give out the clues: "Backcourt man, six-two, brown hair, picture jump shot, drives a '67 car."

The coach would answer without hesitation.

"Sammy Hotshot, Pawtucket, Rhode Island."

"Right. Now try 6 feet 5 inches, straight A's, wants to be a doctor, also a major league baseball prospect."

The Blue Chip expert would stop and quickly scan the index cards in his brain, and finally he'd say:

"No such player in this country."

"Right."

College coaches learn of blue-chip prospects from a number of sources, including out-of-town newspapers, alumni, high school coaches, and actual tip sheets that might rate players AA ("big time college prospect"), A ("major"), B ("low major-high medium"), C ("medium"), and D ("small college").

Once it is known the prospect has the moves, the shots and the grades, the sales campaign begins. Some campaigns get pretty vicious.

When Jerry Lucas, who went on to fame in college and the pro ranks, was a high school star in Middletown, Ohio, he had to be protected by a special guard at the school's front door. Recruiters were actually chasing him down the halls and disrupting classes.

The best single gold-mine for college basketball coaches is probably DeMatha High School in Hyattsville, Md. Every graduating senior basketball player — and I stress the word EVERY — at DeMatha in the past 14 years has received a college scholarship.

There are very few basketball blue chippers who escape the notice of today's college recruiters, and one of the reasons is a comprehensive list of the teenage superstars compiled by Street and Smith magazine.

The magazine has everything you've always wanted to know about basketball at all levels — and 10 pages more. It's an ambitious effort that covers the colleges, pros, high schools and women's competition.

If you can trust the accuracy of the current Street and Smith magazine, the two most heavily-recruited players in Illinois high school ranks this year — AA or "big-time" prospects — will be 6-foot-9 Glen Grunwald of East Leyden and 6-foot-10 Derek Holcomb of Peoria Richwoods. They are Illinois' two representatives on the list of the top 30 high school players in the nation.

Grunwald is one of the most publicized players ever to compete in Illinois' high school ranks. He should become the first youngster in state history to win All-State recognition for four straight seasons.

Grunwald looks, at first glance, like the big kid walking the school halls who didn't go out for the basketball team.

Grunwald did go out for basketball, and he's been sensational. He may not look the part but "put a basketball in his hands, and he becomes something beautiful, really beautiful," said a Michigan State assistant.

Street and Smith points out that "Grunwald wears black, horn-rimmed glasses, used to wear braces on his teeth, has straight blond hair, fuzzy cheeks, and well . . . he just doesn't look like he could dribble a basketball and chew gum at the same time."

"You don't dare hope you'll get another player like Glen," says his coach Norm Goodman. "I mean straight-A student, coachable and a head that doesn't get blown up."

Does he have the strength — at 195 pounds — to mix it up underneath with the muscle boys? He'll obviously play forward in college.

"You have to hit him with a sledge hammer to get him out of the middle . . . he loves to take it inside," said Goodman. "He's thin but wiry . . . and a lot stronger than he looks."

"Sometimes I don't like to hear people say how good they think I am," Grunwald says. "It puts a lot of pressure on me. Everyone expects so much. Sometimes I just wish I could be an anonymous person."

East Leyden opens its conference season tonight with Hinsdale South, but the Eagles' first significant league date is Friday, Dec. 12 at Addison Trail.

The other Illinois player with high pre-season ranking is 6-foot-10 210-pound Holcomb of Peoria Richwoods, a youngster who created some statewide talk with his play in the state tournament series last winter.

"Potential" is a word tossed around with monotonous regularity in examining many young athletes, but it particularly applies to Holcomb. And that's what has college coaches excited.

Indiana coach Bobby Knight told the Peoria star, "If any head coach sees you play more this year than I do, you ought to go there."

Holcomb only averaged 17 points and 11 rebounds per game last season, but he has been on a weightlifting program that has added muscle from the waist up and his dedication and attitude are superb.

"I feel a lot stronger even though I don't look it," says the Richwoods star. "I guess I'll always look skinny. I played an ungodly amount this summer, and I really enjoyed it. I always shot around and stuff but . . . I just wanted to improve myself."

If college coaches liked Holcomb's potential before, they should love what he can do with it this season.

"He's much more aggressive offensively," said Richwoods coach Wayne Hammerton. "He's really something now."

Every year they turn up in Illinois. He goes by several familiar names. He is known as the No. 1 Blue Chipper, the Prized Recruit, the Top Prospect, the Most Wanted, the Most Highly Coveted, the Leader of the Tribe, Super Senior.

He has had a lot of other names too. Some years he was Quinn Buckner. Once he was George Marshall. Or Dave Robisch. Or Norm Cook. Or Dave Corzine.

This year the names are Grunwald and Holcomb.

"I feel a lot stronger even though I don't look it," says the Richwoods star. "I guess I'll always look skinny. I played an ungodly amount this summer, and I really enjoyed it. I always shot around and stuff but . . . I just wanted to improve myself."

If college coaches liked Holcomb's potential before, they should love what he can do with it this season.

"He's much more aggressive offensively," said Richwoods coach Wayne Hammerton. "He's really something now."

Every year they turn up in Illinois. He goes by several familiar names. He is known as the No. 1 Blue Chipper, the Prized Recruit, the Top Prospect, the Most Wanted, the Most Highly Coveted, the Leader of the Tribe, Super Senior.

He has had a lot of other names too. Some years he was Quinn Buckner. Once he was George Marshall. Or Dave Robisch. Or Norm Cook. Or Dave Corzine.

This year the names are Grunwald and Holcomb.

Franciscans on sale block?

There were indications Thursday the financially pressed San Francisco Giants are close to being sold, but completion of the transaction will have to wait at least a week while owner Horace C. Stoneham recovers from abdominal surgery.

With most of the prospective buyers — including interested parties from Japan and Canada — eliminated, San Francisco financier-sportsman Robert Lurie, who sits on the board of the National Exhibition Co., the parent company of the team, and owner of a small portion of the Giants, appears to have the inside track.

Sources said a special meeting of the directors of National Exhibition was set for Friday at Candlestick Park, but had to be postponed when Stoneham, whose family has owned the National League team since the turn of the century, was admitted to Stanford Medical Center for surgery to correct an abdominal aortic aneurysm.

The aneurysm was discovered during a physical examination at Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., last week and Stoneham's physician, Dr. Robert Bullington, Phoenix, Ariz., said the prognosis was good and that surgery would require a week's hospitalization.

There were strong indications the sale was to be closed at the special meeting and that Stoneham would reject the National League's loan offer of up to $5 million to operate the team again in 1976.

The way was cleared for the sale earlier Thursday when the Giants revealed contract termination letters were sent to manager Wes Westrum and his coaches — Don McMahon, Joe Amalfitano, Andy Gilbert and Ozzie Virgil.

Braves may leave Buffalo

Buffalo Braves owner Paul Snyder has dropped some hints he might move his club to another site if he cannot get satisfaction from the city of Buffalo on a new lease for Memorial Auditorium.

At the same time, the Braves learned they were being sued by a city councilman for $50,000 for using his name in advertisements with their new "mascot."

Snyder said Wednesday night that a National Basketball Association franchise cannot survive in the city without a weekend date.

The Buffalo Sabres, who share the auditorium with the Braves, play almost every Sunday night and area college teams play on several Saturday nights during their seasons.

"The city of Buffalo will not or cannot give the Buffalo Braves a weekend date and we can't survive without it," Snyder said in an interview with a radio station. "And, unless — and we've been told there is absolutely no flexibility in the city's position on this — if that continues to be their position, I assume we will have to be looking for a new home."

Snyder said the Braves also want rent parity with the Sabres and expanded ticket facilities and "we will sign a 15-year lease."

Barnes denies iron incident

Professional basketball star Marvin Barnes, in a surprise call to the witness stand Thursday, denied hitting former Providence College teammate Lawrence Ketvirtis with a tire iron.

"He turned around like he was gonna hit me and I punched him hard," Barnes said. The star forward of the Spirits of St. Louis of the American Basketball Association testified for four hours in U.S. District Court under intense, often repetitive questioning by Ketvirtis' attorney.

Ketvirtis claims he suffered permanent injury from the Oct. 19, 1972 attack which broke his cheekbone. He is seeking $1.5 million damages. The trial will enter its fifth day on Monday with the plaintiffs expected to complete their presentation. There is no session Friday because Chief Judge Raymond J. Pettine is involved in other cases.

The incident occurred outside the school cafeteria after a Providence College team scrimmage in which Barnes took an elbow in the mouth while scrambling for a loose ball with Ketvirtis.

Barnes pleaded guilty in state Superior Court last year to a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon but told the judge he did not hit Ketvirtis with a tire iron.

Mack Herron joins Falcons

Mack Herron, a 5-foot-5 running back who had an outstanding season at New England in 1974, Thursday signed as a free agent with the Atlanta Falcons.

Herron, placed on waivers by the Patriots, last year rushed for 824 yards, caught 38 passes for 474 yards, returned 35 punts for 517 yards and returned 28 kickoffs for 629 yards.

Herron, 27, led the NFL in kickoff return yardage in 1973 when he returned 41 for 1,092 yards.

A star at Kansas State, Herron was a sixth-round draft choice of the Falcons in 1971 but instead of signing with Atlanta joined Winnipeg of the Canadian League. In 1972, Herron led the CFL in rushing with 1,527 yards and finished second in balloting for the league's most valuable player.

He joined New England in 1973.

Montreal losing Games control

A clause by clause examination in the Quebec National Assembly began Thursday on the bill proposed to take over control of the 1976 Olympic Games from the city of Montreal.

The bill, which set up a seven-member Olympic Installations Board with responsibility for games financing and construction, was passed in second reading Wednesday. It was expected to be rushed through a third reading and final signing early Friday.

The government bill came after the city of Montreal ran up a $600 million deficit in the games, scheduled to begin next July 17. It in effect usurps Montreal's control of the games.

Examination of the bill was delayed over an hour while members of the National Assembly standing committee on municipal affairs debated a demand for testimony from city of Montreal and Olympic organizing officials.

Parti Quebecois Olympics critic Marcel Leger said Montreal Mayor Jean Drapeau should have been summoned to "explain exactly in what a deplorable state he has surrendered the games to the province."

Dr. Voctor Goldbloom, municipal affairs minister and now head Olympics politician, told the committee the OIB would seek cooperation with Montreal unions, city officials and contractors.

However opposition members on the committee called cooperation "very doubtful," considering differences between the government and city on the trimming of non-essential Olympic construction.

Yankee Stadium will be ready

Come default or the Red Sox, construction bosses promised Thursday that Catfish Hunter and his fans won't trip over the jackhammers when the 1976 baseball season opens at the renovated Yankee Stadium next April 15.

"We'll have no problem completing the work," said Stephen L. Koch, assistant manager of the Walsh Construction Co., the main contractor for the refurbishing job. "We're on or a few days ahead of schedule."

RUSHING ON the attack for the Chicago Nordics Jr. hockey team are Dave Retzer (21) of Elk Grove and Elk Grove's Tim Jones (right). The Nordics play at Woodfield Hockey Area on Sundays.

Coach Paul Adams' Warriors, led by quarterback Mark Carlson (No. 12), who has thrown a pair of touchdown passes in each of the three previous playoff games, beat favored Glen Ellyn (Glenbard West) and Wilmette (Loyola) in the quarterfinals and semifinals, respectively, and will pose many problems for Rockford (Boylan), itself a mystery team emerging from the Big Nine Conference, which produced last fall's Class 4A winner, Rockford (East).

Coach Ben Murray's Titans, who lost their final regular season game (28-0 to Freeport), knocked off the state's top-rated big school team, Villa Park (Willowbrook), 21-13 in the semi finals, and would like nothing better than to bring its conference the league's second state football title in two years.

Class 5A schools have average conference enrollments ranging from 1957 to 3863.

Harper Hawks cold from floor in 70-64 opening loss to Elgin

Special to The Herald

Harper opened their 1975 basketball season with a cold-shooting first half which proved to be the difference as Elgin held on for a 70-64 win Thursday night.

The Hawks hit just 12 of 44 shots in the first half to take a 42-27 deficit into the lockerroom at halftime.

"That was the key for us," said disappointed head coach Roger Bechtold. "We were so cold in the first half, and we were getting good shots, that we just got into too big a hole."

Elgin put a trio of talented players on the floor in Jeff Howard, Tom Hale and Dan Blenac. Hale, a 6-8 transfer from Wisconsin, fired in 13 points and Benac added 18.

But the big story was the 6-5 Howard.

"He was the one who killed us down the clutch," Bechtold said. "He went inside and got a lot of three point plays. He's just a really fine ball player."

Howard led all scorers with 29 points, 13 of them coming from the free throw line.

Harper started the long trip back in the second half through the use of a pressing defense and improved shooting.

Harper picked Elgin's pocket 11 times with Van McLeod coming up with the most important thefts.

"He deserves much of the credit for the comeback with his steals," Bechtold remarked.

Harper got closest to Elgin with four minutes left in the battle when they cut the lead to 56-55. That was Harper's last chance, though.

"We had them on the ropes with four minutes to go," Bechtold said, "but we couldn't quite get over the hump."

Jim Arden, according to Bechtold, "hit the clutch shots toward the end" and finished with 18 points to lead the the Hawks.

Wally Butman contributed 12 points for Harper.

"I was so wanting to win this one," Bechtold said.

"And although we didn't there were still a lot of things we did well."

Harper will polish their game further with their home opener at St. Viator Tuesday, Nov. 24 against Lake County.

Area officials in state

Norman Geske of Wheeling and Charles Esposito of Des Plaines have been selected to help officiate the five state football championship games Saturday, Nov. 22, at Illinois State University in Normal.

Geske, principal of Joyce Kilmer Elementary School, worked the title games last fall and has been a football official for 29 years.

Esposito is a project engineer for Vapor Corp. in Niles, has been a football official for 19 years and also works baseball and basketball.

And along similar lines, veteran sportscasters Floyd Brown, Rick Talley and Jim West of WGN-TV, Chicago, will handle the telecast of the 2nd Annual Illinois High School Association football playoff championship games. The telecasts will begin at noon on Friday and continue to the 5A championsionship clash between Deerfield and Rockford Boylan on Saturday afternoon.

Marston gets late ace

Richard Marston, of 114 S. Stratford in Arlington Heights, pulled his 7-iron out of the bag and aced the No. 4 hole at Palatine Hills Country Club on Nov. 2.

Palatine Hills will close for the season Sunday, Nov. 23.

Turkey Trot scheduled

The Mount Prospect Jaycees' Fourteenth Annual Turkey Trot cross-country running races will be held Thanksgiving morning, Nov. 27, at the Mount Prospect Country Club starting at 9 a.m.

Eight events will be run on the one-mile course. Age divisions run from girls aged 12 to 14 through men over 40.

Entry blanks are available at Lions Park and at the Northwest Suburban YMCA. Blanks will also be available at the site of the races Thanksgiving morning. There is a $1.00 entry fee.

A total of 65 large trophies will be presented to the fastest finishers and patches will be given to all contestants.

From campuses nationwide

—Jeff Forster, a freshman at the Air Force Academy and a graduate of Hersey High School, scored a touchdown from his halfback position during the Falcons' game with the University of California.

—Four area products will be traveling to Northwestern Saturday with the University of Illinois football team. They include Hersey graduates Marty Friel and Kevin Pancratz, Jerry Finis from Fremd, Bill Castonzo of Maine East and Jim Stauner of Palatine.

—Four Herald area gymnasts will be on the Illinois State University gymnastics team when they come to Chicago Saturday to compete in the Windy City Invitational.

Greg Burmeister from Arlington and Jim Conroy, from Rolling Meadows, will work the pommel horse while Conroy, a freshman, will also work out on the parallel bars. Dan Flick, a sophomore rings specialist from Palatine, Alex Gimbut, a freshman from Rolling Meadows who works at both free ex and vaulting and Asle Klemma of Schaumburg will also compete.

—Dave Weisbecker of Des Plaines played a key role for the Lake Forest College soccer team this fall. Weisbecker, a sophomore fullback, helped the undefeated Foresters on defense as they allowed just eight goals in 11 games. He was honorable mention selection to the Mid-west Conference Northern Division all-conference team.

—George Kaage from Wheeling, and Mark Mara, from Palatine, are battling for starting forward positions on the Kankakee Community College basketball team. Kaage, a 6-4 sophomore, has a job pretty well sewed up but Mara, a 6-5 freshman, still has his work cut out for him.

—Rod Kiolbassa, a sophomore from Mount Prospect, caught 60 passes for the University of Dubuque football team this fall. He grabbed more than 40 of those in conference games and gained nearly 500 yards.

—Senior running back Dave Vetta, 5-8, 170-pound native of Mount Prospect, was the first Carroll College football player to gain 1,000 yards in a season and was voted to the Wisconsin Independent College Association All-State team.

—Joan Griffin, a sophomore in her first year of volleyball at John Carroll University in Cleveland, was named the Most Improved Player on this years Girl's volleyball team.

Joan, a native of Palatine, was cited by coach Kathy Manning as having made tremenduous strides in her first year.

—Former Forest View High School standout Ken Holan completed his second varsity football season with St. Joseph's College of Rensselaer, Ind. with outstanding performances against Evansville and Valparaiso. In the final game of the season against Valpo, Holan rushed 113 yards on 24 carries and threw a 10-yard touchdown pass to lock up a 13-6 St. Joe victory.

—David Carey, a Coe freshman from Arlington Heights, was tabbed at season's end as the top prospect to become the Kohawks' regular punter next season. He punted nine times for 38.2 yards, seven yards better than Coe's regular punter this season.

—Tom Houchins of Mount Prospect and Scott Narup of Arlington Heights each received varsity letters for their work with the Ripon College football team this year.

—Brian Powell, a veteran cross-country runner from Elk Grove, received his varsity monogram from Ball State University.

Harper Hawks cold from floor in 70-64 opening loss to Elgin

Special to The Herald

Harper opened their 1975 basketball season with a cold-shooting first half which proved to be the difference as Elgin held on for a 70-64 win Thursday night.

The Hawks hit just 12 of 44 shots in the first half to take a 42-27 deficit into the lockerroom at halftime.

"That was the key for us," said disappointed head coach Roger Bechtold. "We were so cold in the first half, and we were getting good shots, that we just got into too big a hole."

Elgin put a trio of talented players on the floor in Jeff Howard, Tom Hale and Dan Blenac. Hale, a 6-8 transfer from Wisconsin, fired in 13 points and Benac added 18.

But the big story was the 6-5 Howard.

"He was the one who killed us down the clutch," Bechtold said. "He went inside and got a lot of three point plays. He's just a really fine ball player."

Howard led all scorers with 29 points, 13 of them coming from the free throw line.

Harper started the long trip back in the second half through the use of a pressing defense and improved shooting.

Harper picked Elgin's pocket 11 times with Van McLeod coming up with the most important thefts.

"He deserves much of the credit for the comeback with his steals," Bechtold remarked.

Harper got closest to Elgin with four minutes left in the battle when they cut the lead to 56-55. That was Harper's last chance, though.

"We had them on the ropes with four minutes to go," Bechtold said, "but we couldn't quite get over the hump."

Jim Arden, according to Bechtold, "hit the clutch shots toward the end" and finished with 18 points to lead the the Hawks.

Wally Butman contributed 12 points for Harper.

"I was so wanting to win this one," Bechtold said.

"And although we didn't there were still a lot of things we did well."

Harper will polish their game further with their home opener at St. Viator Tuesday, Nov. 24 against Lake County.

Area officials in state

Norman Geske of Wheeling and Charles Esposito of Des Plaines have been selected to help officiate the five state football championship games Saturday, Nov. 22, at Illinois State University in Normal.

Geske, principal of Joyce Kilmer Elementary School, worked the title games last fall and has been a football official for 29 years.

Esposito is a project engineer for Vapor Corp. in Niles, has been a football official for 19 years and also works baseball and basketball.

And along similar lines, veteran sportscasters Floyd Brown, Rick Talley and Jim West of WGN-TV, Chicago, will handle the telecast of the 2nd Annual Illinois High School Association football playoff championship games. The telecasts will begin at noon on Friday and continue to the 5A championship clash between Deerfield and Rockford Boylan on Saturday afternoon.

Marston gets late ace

Richard Marston, of 114 S. Stratford in Arlington Heights, pulled his 7-iron out of the bag and aced the No. 4 hole at Palatine Hills Country Club on Nov. 2.

Palatine Hills will close for the season Sunday, Nov. 23.

Turkey Trot scheduled

The Mount Prospect Jaycees' Fourteenth Annual Turkey Trot cross-country running races will be held Thanksgiving morning, Nov. 27, at the Mount Prospect Country Club starting at 9 a.m.

Eight events will be run on the one-mile course. Age divisions run from girls aged 12 to 14 through men over 40.

Entry blanks are available at Lions Park and at the Northwest Suburban YMCA. Blanks will also be available at the site of the races Thanksgiving morning. There is a $1.00 entry fee.

A total of 65 large trophies will be presented to the fastest finishers and patches will be given to all contestants.

From campuses nationwide

—Jeff Forster, a freshman at the Air Force Academy and a graduate of Hersey High School, scored a touchdown from his halfback position during the Falcons' game with the University of California.

—Four area products will be traveling to Northwestern Saturday with the University of Illinois football team. They include Hersey graduates Marty Friel and Kevin Pancratz, Jerry Finis from Fremd, Bill Castonzo of Maine East and Jim Stauner of Palatine.

—Four Herald area gymnasts will be on the Illinois State University gymnastics team when they come to Chicago Saturday to compete in the Windy City Invitational.

Greg Burmeister from Arlington and Jim Conroy, from Rolling Meadows, will work the pommel horse while Conroy, a freshman, will also work out on the parallel bars. Dan Flick, a sophomore rings specialist from Palatine, Alex Gimbut, a freshman from Rolling Meadows who works at both free ex and vaulting and Asle Klemma of Schaumburg will also compete.

—Dave Weisbecker of Des Plaines played a key role for the Lake Forest College soccer team this fall. Weisbecker, a sophomore fullback, helped the undefeated Foresters on defense as they allowed just eight goals in 11 games. He was honorable mention selection to the Mid-west Conference Northern Division all-conference team.

—George Kaage from Wheeling, and Mark Mara, from Palatine, are battling for starting forward positions on the Kankakee Community College basketball team. Kaage, a 6-4 sophomore, has a job pretty well sewed up but Mara, a 6-5 freshman, still has his work cut out for him.

—Rod Kiolbassa, a sophomore from Mount Prospect, caught 60 passes for the University of Dubuque football team this fall. He grabbed more than 40 of those in conference games and gained nearly 500 yards.

—Senior running back Dave Vetta, 5-8, 170-pound native of Mount Prospect, was the first Carroll College football player to gain 1,000 yards in a season and was voted to the Wisconsin Independent College Association All-State team.

—Joan Griffin, a sophomore in her first year of volleyball at John Carroll University in Cleveland, was named the Most Improved Player on this years Girl's volleyball team.

Joan, a native of Palatine, was cited by coach Kathy Manning as having made tremenduous strides in her first year.

—Former Forest View High School standout Ken Holan completed his second varsity football season with St. Joseph's College of Rensselaer, Ind. with outstanding performances against Evansville and Valparaiso. In the final game of the season against Valpo, Holan rushed 113 yards on 24 carries and threw a 10-yard touchdown pass to lock up a 13-6 St. Joe victory.

—David Carey, a Coe freshman from Arlington Heights, was tabbed at season's end as the top prospect to become the Kohawks' regular punter next season. He punted nine times for 38.2 yards, seven yards better than Coe's regular punter this season.

—Tom Houchins of Mount Prospect and Scott Narup of Arlington Heights each received varsity letters for their work with the Ripon College football team this year.

—Brian Powell, a veteran cross-country runner from Elk Grove, received his varsity monogram from Ball State University.

Lady promoter steps into ring

by LINDA THRANE

Despite the changing image of the professional woman, you would expect a lady in Mary Skarda's line of work to be big and tough enough to assert herself amid the sweat and gristle of professional boxing.

Instead, her coiffured platinum blond hair, green eyes and sharp outfitting make up a showy package that might seem more in place adorning the arm of a ranking contender.

But this package merchandises, not adorns, that arm. Mrs. Skarda is a boxing promoter, the only woman licensed in Minnesota and one of very few in the world.

"It kind of surprises people," she says. "They expect a big Amazon, a hunk of woman weighing 200 pounds. When they see me — I'm average size and not very tall — they say — 'This?' Do they expect hair on my face or what?"

Obviously not a jock ("I'm about as athletic as a piece of wet spaghetti," she confesses), Mrs. Skarda has three fighters under contract, including the No. 8 ranked welterweight George Anderson, and brought off her promoting debut this summer as a fistic, if not financial, success.

It might be an overstatement to say her fame has spread worldwide, but she said she did receive a letter from a 15-year-old would be welterweight from Ghana who asked her to sponsor his career in St. Paul. Touched, Mrs. Skarda replied that the young African probably would not like Minnesota winters.

Mrs. Skarda, 27, slipped into the profession although she comes from a family with boxing ties.

Her great uncle, Billy Miske, fought Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight crown three times and her husband, Phil, was a Golden Gloves boxer who gave it up to devote more time to his plumbing business.

"But once you've been a boxer, it's much harder than you would realize to give it up and get it out of your system," Mrs. Skarda said.

So Phil began promoting amateur bouts and made the decision to try it at the professional level, but once again plumbing interfered.

"Phil got so involved in his plumbing business that when calls came in, I started handling them and helping where I could," she said. "Things just snowballed once I got into it."

Now Mrs. Skarda says she divides her time "promoting, helping with the plumbing business, raising three small children and taking care of a 13-room house."

"I think it's a lot more fun and exciting than needlepoint or recipe-trading," she adds. Her husband says she's a natural.

"If you think she's talkative now, you should hear her when she's got another promoter on the phone trying to set up a match," he said.

The boxing world reacted very well to her intrusion, Mrs. Skarda said.

"A couple of people told me very nicely in the beginning to get back into the kitchen where you belong," she recollected. "Now there's nothing more I'd like than to find time to get back into the kitchen."

Once the skepticism faded, she said she found herself "almost desexed — they treat me like one of the boys." If so, how does she react to the earthy language bound to accompany such a physical sport?

"You hear no more foul language in the gym than you hear on the street or at a party," Mrs. Skarda said. "In a gym you don't hear much talking at all because they're so busy sweating up a storm and looking for the next punch."

Fight promoter Mary Skarda's profession has a ring to it.

Lady promoter steps into ring

by LINDA THRANE

Despite the changing image of the professional woman, you would expect a lady in Mary Skarda's line of work to be big and tough enough to assert herself amid the sweat and gristle of professional boxing.

Instead, her coiffured platinum blond hair, green eyes and sharp outfitting make up a showy package that might seem more in place adorning the arm of a ranking contender.

But this package merchandises, not adorns, that arm. Mrs. Skarda is a boxing promoter, the only woman licensed in Minnesota and one of very few in the world.

"It kind of surprises people," she says. "They expect a big Amazon, a hunk of woman weighing 200 pounds. When they see me — I'm average size and not very tall — they say — 'This?' Do they expect hair on my face or what?"

Obviously not a jock ("I'm about as athletic as a piece of wet spaghetti," she confesses), Mrs. Skarda has three fighters under contract, including the No. 8 ranked welterweight George Anderson, and brought off her promoting debut this summer as a fistic, if not financial, success.

It might be an overstatement to say her fame has spread worldwide, but she said she did receive a letter from a 15-year-old would be welterweight from Ghana who asked her to sponsor his career in St. Paul. Touched, Mrs. Skarda replied that the young African probably would not like Minnesota winters.

Mrs. Skarda, 27, slipped into the profession although she comes from a family with boxing ties.

Her great uncle, Billy Miske, fought Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight crown three times and her husband, Phil, was a Golden Gloves boxer who gave it up to devote more time to his plumbing business.

"But once you've been a boxer, it's much harder than you would realize to give it up and get it out of your system," Mrs. Skarda said.

So Phil began promoting amateur bouts and made the decision to try it at the professional level, but once again plumbing interfered.

"Phil got so involved in his plumbing business that when calls came in, I started handling them and helping where I could," she said. "Things just snowballed once I got into it."

Now Mrs. Skarda says she divides her time "promoting, helping with the plumbing business, raising three small children and taking care of a 13-room house."

"I think it's a lot more fun and exciting than needlepoint or recipe-trading," she adds. Her husband says she's a natural.

"If you think she's talkative now, you should hear her when she's got another promoter on the phone trying to set up a match," he said.

The boxing world reacted very well to her intrusion, Mrs. Skarda said.

"A couple of people told me very nicely in the beginning to get back into the kitchen where you belong," she recollected. "Now there's nothing more I'd like than to find time to get back into the kitchen."

Once the skepticism faded, she said she found herself "almost desexed — they treat me like one of the boys." If so, how does she react to the earthy language bound to accompany such a physical sport?

"You hear no more foul language in the gym than you hear on the street or at a party," Mrs. Skarda said. "In a gym you don't hear much talking at all because they're so busy sweating up a storm and looking for the next punch."

Fight promoter Mary Skarda's profession has a ring to it.

'Call-in' scoreboard system draws support

Fan's forum

Dear Herald:

The Women's Sports Division of the Mid-Suburban Conference wants to thank you for devising the new "call-in" system for reporting our game and meet scores. It is a pleasure to open the paper in the morning and see an up-to-date accounting of the previous night's competition.

We would also like to thank you and Paddock Publications for providing the Paddock Trophy for the girls. Already it has provided an additional incentive for outstanding performance. The picture in the paper, too, of our past board chairmen with the huge trophy was an excellent one. The athletes were really impressed.

We hope that, as sports editor, you will continue to support our girls' interscholastic sports program through coverage in the Herald. We realize space is limited, but if you could include a few additional pictures and features, we would greatly appreciate it.

Thank you and thanks for considering additional coverage of the girls.

NO GRID WRAP-UPS?

Dear Fans Forum:

As an interested fan of Conant High School football and an avid Mid-Suburban addict, I look forward each year to the Herald's post-season summaries of the football season for all the various teams. Aren't you going to have them this year, or what?

Jack N. Reitz
Hoffman Estates

EDITOR'S NOTE: Because of the longer football season and the fast-approaching basketball campaign, the Herald sports department decided not to run prep football wrap-up stories this year. Season statistics run in the Scoreboard. Instead, a more timely series of basketball previews will be used. The Herald's last football hurrah will come when we present our seventh annual All-Area Team.

Fans Forum:

Why is it that all the Chicago professional sports teams alienate their best athletes? There must be a reason for it. I'm convinced that the only reason the Cubs, Sox, Bears, Hawks, and Bulls haven't been able to produce a championship for the city is because they somehow manage to get on the wrong side of their best players.

The most recent examples of this tendency are the Bulls with Bob Love and Chet Walker. By alienating those two superstars, the Bulls have thrown away any chance of winning an NBA title. They practically forced Walker into retirement and they almost made Love quit. Certainly, neither one of them is an angel when it comes to negotiations, but the Bulls just didn't seem to act in good faith.

The list is endless, though, when it comes to Chicago teams: the Bears and Dick Butkus, the Hawks and Bobby Hull, the Cubs and Kenny Holtzman and Fergie Jenkins, the Sox and Dick Allen.

Why is it that Chicago is cursed with such poor professional management?

Hoffman to host cage tournament

Hoffman Estates High School will host a freshman basketball round robin tournament the weekend after Thanksgiving.

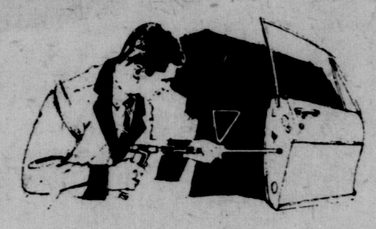
Besides the hosting Hawks, Barrington, Conant and Lake Park will be competing.

Four games are on tap for a week from today — 1:00 and 2:30 p.m. and 7:00 and 8:30.

Saturday, Nov. 29, will wind up the tourney with games at 1:00 and 2 p.m.

Admission is free.

In one day we can make your new car last years longer.



New cars cost more than ever. And now you want to protect your expensive investment. That's what we're here for. One day is how long it takes Ziebart to rustproof your car. And since it's rust, not mechanical wear, that ruins most cars, your new car will stay new much longer.

At Ziebart, we get inside the body with patented spray tools. We coat the metal with a special sealant that penetrates every joint, weld and seam. As a result, your car is really rustproof. And up to 35 percent quieter. And squeakproof and dustproof and leakproof. And worth a lot more money when you finally decide to trade it in. Ziebart. The rustproofing process that works!

Hoffman Estates High School will host a freshman basketball round robin tournament the weekend after Thanksgiving.

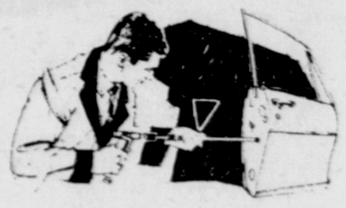
Besides the hosting Hawks, Barrington, Conant and Lake Park will be competing.

Four games are on tap for a week from today — 1:00 and 2:30 p.m. and 7:00 and 8:30.

Saturday, Nov. 29, will wind up the tourney with games at 1:00 and 2 p.m.

Admission is free.

In one day we can make your new car last years longer.



New cars cost more than ever. And now you want to protect your expensive investment. That's what we're here for. One day is how long it takes Ziebart to rustproof your car. And since it's rust, not mechanical wear, that ruins most cars, your new car will stay new much longer.

At Ziebart, we get inside the body with patented spray tools. We coat the metal with a special sealant that penetrates every joint, weld and seam. As a result, your car is really rustproof. And up to 35 percent quieter. And squeakproof and dustproof and leakproof. And worth a lot more money when you finally decide to trade it in. Ziebart. The rustproofing process that works!

NCAA mat champ needs a heavyweight

by CHUCK SCHOFFNER

IOWA CITY, Iowa (UPI)—The defending national collegiate wrestling champions starting the season without a heavyweight on the team?

That's exactly the situation that confronts the University of Iowa, the 1975 NCAA wrestling champs.

Coach Gary Kurdelmeier, whose team was 17-0-1 in dual competition last year, has only one heavyweight on his roster — John Bowlsby. But Bowlsby plays on the Iowa football team, meaning he won't be available until after the final game Nov. 22.

To complicate matters, the two prospects mentioned as backup men for Bowlsby — Tom Rusk and Doug Benschoter — also are on Coach Bob Commings' football team.

"Right now, it looks like we'll have to forfeit our heavyweight matches in the first few meets," Kurdelmeier said. "And if Bowlsby gets hurt and we can't find another heavyweight to replace him, we'll either have to move someone up from a lighter weight or else forfeit all the heavyweight matches."

No one should get the impression that Bowlsby is just filling a position, however. The 225-pounder placed third nationally last year and compiled a record of 31-6-2. He will be an important factor in Iowa's bid to repeat as national champion.

Kurdelmeier said Bowlsby will be "out of the question" until Iowa competes in the Northern Open at Madison, Wis., Nov. 29.

"Whether or not we use John then will depend on how ready he is to wrestle," the fourth year Hawkeye coach said. "But right now that's his starting point. That's the earliest he'll be able to wrestle."

Iowa will be in competition twice before that date. The Hawkeyes begin the season at the Minnesota Open in Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 22, then take on Drake in a dual meet Nov. 25.

It would be hard for anyone to feel sorry for Kurdelmeier over his situation at heavyweight, however. Iowa has starters returning at eight of the other nine weights and one of the returnees — Chuck Yagla at 150 pounds — is a national champion.

Iowa also has two national runners-up returning — Chris Campbell at 177 pounds and Greg Stevens at 190. And, Kurdelmeier feels he has excellent wrestlers challenging the returning starters at every weight.

"I think we have a very good term," he said. "I'd hate to change teams with too many people in the country."

If Benschoter and Rusk, both freshmen, join the team, Kurdelmeier will have a little more breathing room at the heavyweight spot. Both were Iowa state high school champions last year — Rusk at 185 pounds and Benschoter as a heavyweight.

"Rusk is a good wrestler and Benschoter has a good chance to be a part of things," Kurdelmeier said. "But we'll have to see what happens. We won't know for sure until the football season ends.

"We do need Bowlsby though. I told the football team earlier that if anything happens to Bowlsby, I'll make Commings wrestle in his place."

Zigman is expected to employ many of his varsity candidates tonight in an effort to stabilize a starting quintet.

Likely to see action are seniors 6-5 Greg Jantsch, 5-11 John Wallner, 5-10 Brett Frase, 6-0 Mike Schell, 6-1 Dan Kessenich and 6-0 Mark Bostrom while a promising group of juniors are ready to step in.

The class of 1977 is represented by 5-11 Ken Johnstin, 5-11 Frank DeSimone, 6-3 Tom North, 6-1 Jim Zobel and 5-7 Dan Frase.

Arlington's biggest barrier may be overcoming its inexperience but the coaching staff is especially pleased with the squad's steady improvement, despite the disappointment of losing the top junior varsity player Ernie Simmons who moved to Florida.

Hoffman Estates

Hoffman Estates will be playing its first "official" varsity season starting tonight against visiting Fenton.

Last year's campaign was only "semi-official" for the Hawks. Of the 23 games they had, only 10 were varsity affairs. Unfortunately for head coach Jerry Segebrecht, all of those were losses.

Coupled with a 7-6 junior varsity record, Segebrecht's young team had a long season.

"We could never fault them for not hustling," said the coach of his '74 team. "And the attitude so far this year has been very good.

"With a 6-foot-2 center and 5-10 forwards, it was very hard to compete with varsity teams," he continued.

Segebrecht's boys have been growing since then. He'll have 6-5 center Ron Warring, a junior, and a pair of 6-3½ forwards to work with in senior Gene Foster and junior Joe Tulley. The latter might not start tonight because of sickness. If so, he'll be replaced by Joe Gajewski (5-10½).

Gajewski led the team in scoring, playmaking and was the over-all floor leader. Foster was the top rebounder.

Besides a stronger front line, Segebrecht says "our over-all strength will be at guard. Gajewski and (John) Staback are extremely quick." Add to that the depth of Jeff Curtin (5-10½) and Doug Prousil (5-10) and you have, according to Segebrecht, "four above average guards."

"I think for our first varsity season, if any team takes us very lightly, they're going to be in for a surprise," he says. "Over-all, I think we can do all right.

"As the year goes on, we're going to get stronger and stronger."

The question mark, as he sees it, will be how good his juniors play inside.

Two other players who also figure in Hoffman's plans will be senior Kent Karr and junior Don Anderson. The latter is 6-4½.

Unsettling practice

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — Officials in Kenya have banned witchdoctors from the sidelines of soccer games. Some medicine men claim they can make the ball disappear or cast a spell on opposing players but soccer officials said games were being disrupted by incidents during the 1975 season and "the practice of witchcraft is unsettling our efforts to clean up soccer."

Swimming

Camp Duncan YMCA

The Camp Duncan YMCA Swim Team launched its third swim season with its annual Boy-Girl inter-squad meet at the Camp Duncan pool in Volo.

The last two years saw the girls, which were district champions and second in state, victorious over the boys. This year, however, the boys are much stronger, both in ability and numbers, and they showed their improvement as they won over the girls by one point, 174-173.

For the rest of the year the boys and girls will combine their talents as they face a challenging schedule of 44 meets including several invitationals and culminating in the Novice, Satellite and State Championship Meets in the spring.

This year Coach John Eliot is planning to take a squad of senior swimmers to the YMCA National Championships in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. To qualify for the Nationals the swimmer must be 12 years of age or older, and must make the qualifying times during the year.

A highlight of the season will be an invitational during which the Camp Duncan team will play host to three tough teams from out-of-state. There will be the state championship team from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, a strong team from Waukesha, Wis., and an all-star team from Toledo, Ohio.

CDY swimmers will also face a challenging duel meet with B. R. Ryall YMCA, who was last year's national champions.

The Camp Duncan Swim Team is made up of boys and girls who live in the northwest area. The area represented by the swimmers covers a 60-mile radius, stretching as far south as Schaumburg and as far north as Woodstock.

The team uses two pools, St. Viator High School in Arlington Heights and the camp Duncan pool in Volo.

PURPLE DIVISION
Bantams 1 - Hoffman 5
Bob Vuglar, assisted by Tony Guarino scored the lone goal. Klosowski blocked 17 shots on goal while the Kings fired off 18.
Bantams 12 - Rockford 1
Scott McArthur was in net with 16 saves while the Kings had 38 shots on Rockford.
Bantams 5 - Barrington 5
Bob Vuglar got the hat trick with Steve Visvadra and Scott Nemzek one each. Shots on goal were even with 17 each. Scott Guagliardo was in net.
Pee Wees 1 - Hoffman 3
The Kings outshot the Flyers 23 to 21, with John Machonis getting the score. David Klosowski was in net. Hoffman got their last goal in an empty net.
GOLD DIVISION
Mites 2 - St. Louis 2
With 25 seconds left on the clock, Frank Machac punched a rebound shot past the St. Louis goalie to get the tie. The Kings outshot St. Louis 11-6 with Bobby Thompson in net. Kelly Walker scored the first goal and Tim Vuglar played an outstanding defensive game. Assists were by Phil Sukel and Ken Todorov.
Mites 3 - Elmhurst 3
Frank Machac, Dean McArthur, and Billy Smith scored for the Kings while Bobby Thompson stopped 15 shots. The Kings had 17 shots on Elmhurst.
Squirts 3 - St. Louis 2
Excellent team effort held St. Louis to 16 shots. Mike Stevenson, Vince Russo and Mike Boyer got the scores. Boyer also had two assists and Stevenson one. Joe Matz was in net, turning in an excellent performance.
Squirts 15 - Saddle and Cylce 2
Fifteen goals with 37 shots. Mike Stevenson got five big ones, Mike Boyer three, Todd Caudell two, Vince Russo two, Mark Micho, Dave Bowman and Derrick Thomas, one each. Joe Matz was in net.
Squirts 0 - Downers Grove 3
Joe Matz played much better than the score indicates, stopping 21 shots while the Kings got off 13.
Pee Wees 1 8 Minor Hawks 13
Eric Ortinau and Dan Reilly teamed up for the score. Scott Guacliardo had a very busy time stopping 48 shots on goal.
Pee Wees 2 - Downers Grove 1
The Kings came out firing with 25 shots. Alex Barbour and Eric Ortinau scored for the Kings while Scott Guacliardo and Scott McArthur teamed up in net.
Bantams 3 - Park Ridge 6
The Kings found themselves four goals down in the first period, then outplayed their opponents the next two, but too little, too late. Mike Gaynor was in net with 39 saves. Bob Shipbaugh with one and Scott Atkinson with two put the kings on the board.
Bantams 10 - Lake Barrington 0
Steve Glickman got his first shutout plus an assist. Scoring: Bob Shipbaugh, five; one each by Bob Vuglar, Dennis Heurlin, Kevin Ryan, Steve Visdavra and Boyd Archibald.
Bantams 5 - St. Louis 1
The Kings put together their best team effort to date against a strong St. Louis team. Scoring were Kevin Ryan, Glen Busch, Bob Shipbaugh, Bob Vuglar, and Dennis Heurlin. Boyd Archibald was tough on defense. The Kings had 24 shots to St. Louis' 10. Steve Glickman was in net.
Bantams 1 - Jesters 1
Good goal tending by Steve Glickman while the Kings played short-handed most of the time kept the game in hand. Bob Shipbaugh, assisted by Scott Atkinson and Kevin Ryan got the goal. The Kings outshot the Jesters 26-17.
Bantams 14 - Jr. Cougars 1
Thirty six shots on goal produced 14 scores by: Bob Vuglar three; Bob Shipbaugh two; David Water two; one each by Boyd Archibald, Dennis Heurlin, Scott Atkinson, Garrett Wade, Steve Visdavra, Kevin Ryan and Glen Busch. Steve Glickman stopped six in net.

Unsettling practice

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — Officials in Kenya have banned witchdoctors from the sidelines of soccer games. Some medicine men claim they can make the ball disappear or cast a spell on opposing players but soccer officials said games were being disrupted by incidents during the 1975 season and "the practice of witchcraft is unsettling our efforts to clean up soccer."

Swimming

Camp Duncan YMCA

The Camp Duncan YMCA Swim Team launched its third swim season with its annual Boy-Girl inter-squad meet at the Camp Duncan pool in Volo.

The last two years saw the girls, which were district champions and second in state, victorious over the boys. This year, however, the boys are much stronger, both in ability and numbers, and they showed their improvement as they won over the girls by one point, 174-173.

For the rest of the year the boys and girls will combine their talents as they face a challenging schedule of 44 meets including several invitationals and culminating in the Novice, Satellite and State Championship Meets in the spring.

This year Coach John Eliot is planning to take a squad of senior swimmers to the YMCA National Championships in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. To qualify for the Nationals the swimmer must be 12 years of age or older, and must make the qualifying times during the year.

A highlight of the season will be an invitational during which the Camp Duncan team will play host to three tough teams from out-of-state. There will be the state championship team from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, a strong team from Waukesha, Wis., and an all-star team from Toledo, Ohio.

CDY swimmers will also face a challenging duel meet with B. R. Ryall YMCA, who was last year's national champions.

The Camp Duncan Swim Team is made up of boys and girls who live in the northwest area. The area represented by the swimmers covers a 60-mile radius, stretching as far south as Schaumburg and as far north as Woodstock.

The team uses two pools, St. Viator High School in Arlington Heights and the camp Duncan pool in Volo.

Bantams 3 - Park Ridge 6
The Kings found themselves four goals down in the first period, then outplayed their opponents the next two, but too little, too late. Mike Gaynor was in net with 39 saves. Bob Shipbaugh with one and Scott Atkinson with two put the kings on the board.
Bantams 10 - Lake Barrington 0
Steve Glickman got his first shutout plus an assist. Scoring: Bob Shipbaugh, five; one each by Bob Vuglar, Dennis Heurlin, Kevin Ryan, Steve Visdavra and Boyd Archibald.
Bantams 5 - St. Louis 1
The Kings put together their best team effort to date against a strong St. Louis team. Scoring were Kevin Ryan, Glen Busch, Bob Shipbaugh, Bob Vuglar, and Dennis Heurlin. Boyd Archibald was tough on defense. The Kings had 24 shots to St. Louis' 10. Steve Glickman was in net.
Bantams 1 - Jesters 1
Good goal tending by Steve Glickman while the Kings played short-handed most of the time kept the game in hand. Bob Shipbaugh, assisted by Scott Atkinson and Kevin Ryan got the goal. The Kings outshot the Jesters 26-17.
Bantams 14 - Jr. Cougars 1
Thirty six shots on goal produced 14 scores by: Bob Vuglar three; Bob Shipbaugh two; David Water two; one each by Boyd Archibald, Dennis Heurlin, Scott Atkinson, Garrett Wade, Steve Visdavra, Kevin Ryan and Glen Busch. Steve Glickman stopped six in net.

Ask Andy

Frogs, toads country cousins

Andy sends a 20-volume set of the Merit Students Encyclopedia to Jerry Dilldine, 10, of High Point, N.C., for his question:

IS A BULLFROG DIFFERENT FROM A TOAD?

The big bullfrog has a voice and a tummy like a tuba. He is a genuine frog, though rather a special one. There is not much difference between the various frogs and their cousins, the toads. Sometimes it is hard to tell which is which. However, usually we find the warty toad off in the woods or meadows. The bullfrog and his kinfolk have smooth skins and enjoy life near favorite swimming pool.

A granddaddy bullfrog may be eight inches long and be more than 10 years old. Chances are, you will find him in a quiet pond or a lazy creek. Or he may be resting on the bank, gazing at the world through his round, turreted eyes. Since he is a true frog, he is a champion swimmer with extra-long strong hind legs and webbed toes. His moist skin is speckled to match the scenery and usually quite smooth. When the winter gets chilly, he hibernates down in the mud on the floor or in the banks of his swimming pool.

Mating time is spring or early summer, when the weather reaches about 70 degrees. Then we hear his booming love song, perhaps from half a mile away. He hollers jug-o-rum, jug-o-rum, jug-o-rum. Then he rests for five minutes or so and repeats his tuba-type tune.

The female bullfrog lays maybe 20,000 eggs among the weeds in the water, and the tadpoles usually hatch in about a week. Other frog tadpoles become frogs in a few weeks. But the bullfrog tadpoles remain tadpoles all summer. Come fall they may be two or three inches long. Then they hibernate like the grown bullfrogs. Usually they grow legs and swap their gills for lungs during the second summer. But sometimes they remain in the tadpole stage through another year.

The average American toad is quite a bit smaller than an adult bullfrog. His toes are webbed, but he does not have those long froggy-type hind legs. His speckled coat matches the scenery, but almost always it has rashes of bumpy warts. He is rather clumsy and certainly he cannot leap, dive or swim like a graceful frog.

As a rule, he deserts the water as soon as he changes from a tadpole into a toad. He hops off to the woods and meadows. Once a year, during the mating season, he returns to the water where the female lays her eggs. Then we hear his trilling love song, sweet and clear. The tadpoles become little toads in just a few weeks. Come winter, they dig burrows or hibernate under stones or fallen leaves.

Andy sends a 7-volume set of the Chronicles of Narnia to Mark Meester, 11, of Gallup, N. M., for his question:

HOW DO THEY MAKE PENICILLIN?

Penicillin is a wonder drug that wipes out many types of infectious bacteria. It is classed as an antibiotic because it destroys germs without damaging living tissues. This lifesaver is created by tiny penicillin molds as they convert their chemical nutrients into useful food. Spores of the mold are put into a soupy broth — where they thrive and multiply.

Nowadays, most penicillin is made by the deep-culture method. From 10,000 to 15,000 gallons of the special broth are prepared in an enormous super-clean tank. Into this goes a helping of the penicillin molds. The whole thing is agitated by air bubbles and kept at the right temperature. The molds thrive and multiply deep in the tank, adding their wonder drug to the broth. Finally the molds are removed. The broth is dried and the solids are refined and purified, leaving only the powdery penicillin. Hundreds of tons of this wonder drug are made every year by this deep-culture method.

East's return tricks South in this play

Win at bridge

by Oswald and Jim Jacoby

The Unlucky Expert had corralled us again. He remarked, "My hand was too good. If I hadn't held the jack of spades I would have made my contract. Instead, I went down two."

"Of course East made a terrific defensive play against me, but my opponents always play that way. He took his ace of clubs and promptly placed the king of spades on the table. Now look what happened to me."

We were able to guess. Our unlucky friend assumed that East held both the king and queen of spades as part of his opening bid. Thus his jack of spades was surely going to be a winner. Therefore, he took dummy's ace of spades and instead of discarding a spade on a diamond promptly led a trump.

East went right up with his ace and led a low spade. It didn't matter what South did next. West collected tricks with his queen and 10 and followed up with the extra blow. He led his last spade.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

USC star talks about his season

Wins more important than records

by JIM COUR

Los Angeles (UPI) — "Look," Ricky Bell said, "If I wanted individual accomplishments I'd go out and play tennis. Now that's a one-man sport.

"Individual efforts are fine but the main objective in football is to win and we haven't been winning. As far as I'm concerned, records don't mean anything when you're losing."

University of Southern California's sensational junior tailback is just 143 yards short of breaking Ed Marinaro's NCAA single-season rushing record but the Trojans haven't won since Nov. 1.

Since John McKay announced he was headed for the new NFL Tampa Bay Buccaneers, USC has lost three straight.

But the Trojans can still salvage something out of their season. They can dash UCLA's Rose Bowl hopes in their regular season finale next Friday night and then there's a Liberty Bowl apperance Dec. 22.

In an 8-7 loss at Washington last weekend, Bell rushed 42 times for 190 yards and that gave him 1,739 yards in 10 games. Marinaro set his national mark of 1,881 yards in 1971 for Cornell.

Bell's glittering game rushing totals of 256, 215, 89, 163, 217, 128, 165, 121, 195 and 190 yards have allowed him to break O. J. Simpson's USC and Pacific-8 one-season rushing mark of 1,880 yards set in 1968.

His 256-yard performance in the Trojan opener against Duke was a USC single-game record.

Not bad for a guy who was blocking as a fullback for Anthony Davis a year ago.

"I'm sure I can get 143 yards against UCLA," the powerful 6-2, 215 pounder said. "But the record doesn't mean that much to me and it won't be on my mind. I'll be going for just as many yards as it takes for us to beat UCLA.

"I think we can win our last two games. We've lost three times but the other teams didn't beat us. We beat ourselves by mistakes. If we didn't make those mistakes, we'd be 10-0 instead of 7-3.

"We still have pretty good morale because we still have a lot of faith in ourselves. We know if we quit making mistakes that we can beat anyone."

"But UCLA is one of the best teams in the country and they always play their hearts out against us. This year they'll have the fact that they can go to the Rose Bowl if they beat us going for them.

"I didn't vote for us to go to the Liberty Bowl to prove anything. I think we've proved we're a pretty good football team. I voted to go because I love to play football and I love to play the game. I want to play every minute I possibly can."

McKay has pushed Bell hard for the Heisman Trophy. Despite the Trojans' abrupt tailspin, he's a strong candidate for the award won last season by Ohio State's Archie Griffin.

"It's a great honor to be mentioned for the Heisman," he said, "but it's something I don't expect to win. In fact, it's the furthest thing away from my mind.

"I didn't get a preseason buildup like some of the other players being mentioned and I have another year left."

Despite a season of national attention, Bell has kept his life in perspective. He's still the soft spoken, humble young man who started the season.

"I've always been pretty much down to earth," he explained. "I know now that I'm a better than average player but I'm not going to let that go to my head because we have a lot of other players who are better than average, too.

"Last year I was blocking and A.D. was getting all the attention. This year Mosi Tatupu is doing the blocking and I'm getting all the attention. But that doesn't mean I'm better than he is and there are a lot of other guys doing a lot of blocking for me, too."

Bell is the fifth of seven sons of Ruthie Lee Tatum, the only parent he has ever known. His father and mother are divorced and Mrs. Tatum and the seven boys moved from Houston to Los Angeles in 1966 to a home on the fringe of Watts.

He attended Fremont High School here where he was a star. USC recruited him heavily.

"Except for right before the first game when I kept thinking about O.J. and all the great names who had played tailback at USC before me, I really haven't felt that much pressure," Bell noted. "In fact, it's gotten easier and easier with each game.

"I am surprised that I've taken the punishment this good. In the first game against Duke, I carried the ball 34 times and I was really tired the next day. I thought I was going to have some endurance problems but I guess I've gotten accustomed to it.

"At first, all the interviews and the attention made me nervous and bothered me but not now. I'm more relaxed and I sort of enjoy them."

SENDING the volleyball toward Conant is Prospect's Karen Smith during play earlier this week. Hosting Prospect won the meet, 20-5, 8-20, 20-15.

Fare hike plea riles commuters

Suburban commuters Thursday night reacted with anger to a proposed 37.5 per cent fare increase which the Chicago and North Western Ry. will apply for today.

The railroad will file with the Illinois Commerce Commission for a 15 per cent fare increase, effective Jan. 1, 1976, followed by an additional 22.5 per cent fare increase effective April 1.

Most area residents who ride the train daily to and from work were appaled at the proposed increase and generally labeled it as "bad news."

"I THINK THEY are crazy; that increase is just ridiculous. I pay $1.10 for a round trip between Palatine and Mount Prospect every day, and I think that is already too high," said Horst Schneeweis, 169 E. Palatine Rd., Palatine.

"If the fares go up that much, I'll probably drive my car to work — it will be cheaper," he said.

However, other residents who commute daily into Chicago said they would have little choice between taking the train or battling traffic.

"I don't think most of us have much of a choice. Gasoline is up, and it's too expensive to take the car So what kind of a choice is that," said one Mount Prospect woman. "I think that's why they're doing it — they know they have suburban residents over a barrel."

"I work in Mount Prospect, and life in Chicago," Dorothy Durkin said, "and I've been doing this for years. I can't afford what I'm paying now, but I can't afford to drive, either. And there's no other public transportation available between the suburbs and the city."

ALLAN DRESDN, 1102 Brucewood Dr., Mount Prospect, said, "The increase really won't affect me that much because I only travel on the train a few times each month.

I just don't think this kind of an increase would be fair to commuters."

Etta Domes, 2117 E. Gregory St., Arlington Heights, was one of the few commuters who said she would not mind paying almost half as much more to ride the train.

"I think they're right in asking for an increase. The RTA has us suburbanites up a tree. Everything the RTA does is for Chicago, and nothing is for the suburbs, even after we voted to support them last spring," she said.

Larry S. Provo, the railroad's president, expressed similar sentiments in a flyer that was distributed to commuters Thursday night to explain the proposed fare increase.

"THE RTA COULD be great," the flyer said in bold letters "but inept and unfair RTA management makes that impossible."

Provo charged the contract the North Western has been negotiating with the RTA for additional funding contains "repressive and regressive" restrictions.

Provo also said the RTA has given unequal treatment to the suburban raliway system, compared to the Chicago Transit Authority.

The flyer said the North Western is operating at a loss for the first time in 13 years and that the company expects to operate at a loss of about $4 million in 1976 with current fares.

C&NW asks fare hike; RTA cited

from Feb. 15 to June 30, 1975.

THEY ASSERTED a "prolonged delay" in negotiating a follow-up purchase-of-service agreement caused the officials to discard hope for an agreement.

Railroad officials also reported wage increases of 10 and 5 per cent were absorbed earlier this year. Unless rates can be increased, "we expect our service to operate at a loss of nearly $4 million in 1976 with the current level of fares," they reported.

"While the Chicago Transit Authority receives 100 per cent funding of its operating losses, the commuter railroads have received only a portion of their operating losses from the RTA," North Western officials charged.

The problem is the RTA budgeted only $24 million for the Chi cago-area commuter railroads from July 1, 1975, to June 30, 1976, the brochure stated. However, those railroads estimated total deficits of $32.7 million for the period, according to the brochure.

"Additionally, the contract offered the railroads continued provisions and restrictions so repressive and regressive that no rail management could agree to it, certainly not the management of the North Western," the brochure stated.

THE BROCHURE continued: "The RTA has shown no willingness to budget from the one-sided terms offered the railroads last June. We therefore simply see no other viable option but to go it alone and live out of the fare box."

North Western officials compared their rates to those offered to New York City commuters. According to their figures, fares on the Long Island Railroad and Penn Central Railroad commuter lines range from 28 to 113 per cent higher for selected stations of comparable distances from downtown terminals.

"The long and short of it is simply this: There's no way we can accept the terms and conditions the RTA seeks to cram down our throats and have any chance at all of continuing to provide you with the kind of service we've grown extremely proud of and that you've come to expect," the brochure states.

If the Illinois Commerce Commission approves both sets of increases, by April 1976, monthly commuter fares would climb from the present levels as follows: Des Plaines, from $36.30 to $49.92; Mount Prospect, from $39.55 to $54.75; Arlington Heights, from $41.45 to $57.03; and Palatine, from $44.65 to $61.39.

One-way tickets, if the two increases are approved by the ICC, could climb in the following manner: Des Plaines, from $1.40 to $1.92; Mount Prospect, from $1.50 to $2.09; Arlington Heights, from $1.60 to $2.21; and Palatine, from $1.70 to $2.33.

The North Western is the second railroad to end purchase of service negotiations with the RTA. In September the Burlington Northern broke off talks, accusing the RTA of making unreasonable demands.

Burlington at the time had a request for a rate increase pending before the ICC, and it was turned down. The ICC said Burlington should try to reestablish talks with the RTA.

Railroad ripped by RTA chief

Milton Pikarsky, Regional Transportation Authority chairman, Thursday criticized the Chicago and North Western Ry. for withdrawing from negotiations with the RTA by announcing its plans at a press conference.

"Normally, negotiations of this nature are conducted over the bargaining table and not in the press," Pikarsky said.

The railroad and RTA had been negotiating the sale of the railroad commuter services to the RTA and Pikarsky said he believed there had been "considerable progress" in negotiating noncompensation items.

Pikarsky said the railroad had violated a Nov. 30 deadline for ending negotiations. He said the railroad had set the deadline last month.

PIKARSKY SAID the railroad should make a counter offer to the RTA's purchase-of-service offer if the railroad finds the offer inadequate.

"I regret the C&NW decision not to work with the RTA. We have been negotiating in good faith, and have made an offer to the railroad which we believe is reasonable in terms of the taxpayers, whose money we are dealing with. The North Western's demands, however, are for sums that cannot be justified by a public body," Pikarsky said.

The two fare hikes sought by the railroad will mean a more than 40 per cent fare increase, Pikarsky said.

While admitting the North Western is the largest mass-transit carrier in the RTA area except for the Chicago Transit Authority, Pikarsky said the agency would still be able to operate areawide transportation services even without a purchase-of-service contract with the North Western.

HE SAID, for example, the North Western could operate as it does now, and separate contracts for transfer systems with other carriers still could be arranged.

The RTA was formed to stabilize transportation fares and services, Pikarsky said, and until now, the North Western has been unable to cut its service because it was involved in negotiattions with the RTA. The RTA board will have to decide whether the agency will intervene in Illinois Commerce Commission hearings on the North Western's fare-hike request, Pikarsky said.

Repeatedly urging the railway to make "counter offers" to the RTA's purchase-of-service proposal, Pikarsky said the RTA has been open and public about its negotiating stand on the railway.

Fare hike plea riles commuters

Suburban commuters Thursday night reacted with anger to a proposed 37.5 per cent fare increase which the Chicago and North Western Ry. will apply for today.

The railroad will file with the Illinois Commerce Commission for a 15 per cent fare increase, effective Jan. 1, 1976, followed by an additional 22.5 per cent fare increase effective April 1.

Most area residents who ride the train daily to and from work were appaled at the proposed increase and generally labeled it as "bad news."

"I THINK THEY are crazy; that increase is just ridiculous. I pay $1.10 for a round trip between Palatine and Mount Prospect every day, and I think that is already too high," said Horst Schneeweis, 169 E. Palatine Rd., Palatine.

"If the fares go up that much, I'll probably drive my car to work — it will be cheaper," he said.

However, other residents who commute daily into Chicago said they would have little choice between taking the train or battling traffic.

"I don't think most of us have much of a choice. Gasoline is up, and it's too expensive to take the car So what kind of a choice is that," said one Mount Prospect woman. "I think that's why they're doing it — they know they have suburban residents over a barrel."

"I work in Mount Prospect, and life in Chicago," Dorothy Durkin said, "and I've been doing this for years. I can't afford what I'm paying now, but I can't afford to drive, either. And there's no other public transportation available between the suburbs and the city."

ALLAN DRESDN, 1102 Brucewood Dr., Mount Prospect, said, "The increase really won't affect me that much because I only travel on the train a few times each month.

I just don't think this kind of an increase would be fair to commuters."

Etta Domes, 2117 E. Gregory St., Arlington Heights, was one of the few commuters who said she would not mind paying almost half as much more to ride the train.

"I think they're right in asking for an increase. The RTA has us suburbanites up a tree. Everything the RTA does is for Chicago, and nothing is for the suburbs, even after we voted to support them last spring," she said.

Larry S. Provo, the railroad's president, expressed similar sentiments in a flyer that was distributed to commuters Thursday night to explain the proposed fare increase.

"THE RTA COULD be great," the flyer said in bold letters "but inept and unfair RTA management makes that impossible."

Provo charged the contract the North Western has been negotiating with the RTA for additional funding contains "repressive and regressive" restrictions.

Provo also said the RTA has given unequal treatment to the suburban raliway system, compared to the Chicago Transit Authority.

The flyer said the North Western is operating at a loss for the first time in 13 years and that the company expects to operate at a loss of about $4 million in 1976 with current fares.

C&NW asks fare hike; RTA cited

from Feb. 15 to June 30, 1975.

THEY ASSERTED a "prolonged delay" in negotiating a follow-up purchase-of-service agreement caused the officials to discard hope for an agreement.

Railroad officials also reported wage increases of 10 and 5 per cent were absorbed earlier this year. Unless rates can be increased, "we expect our service to operate at a loss of nearly $4 million in 1976 with the current level of fares," they reported.

"While the Chicago Transit Authority receives 100 per cent funding of its operating losses, the commuter railroads have received only a portion of their operating losses from the RTA," North Western officials charged.

The problem is the RTA budgeted only $24 million for the Chicago-area commuter railroads from July 1, 1975, to June 30, 1976, the brochure stated. However, those railroads estimated total deficits of $32.7 million for the period, according to the brochure.

"Additionally, the contract offered the railroads continued provisions and restrictions so repressive and regressive that no rail management could agree to it, certainly not the management of the North Western," the brochure stated.

THE BROCHURE continued: "The RTA has shown no willingness to budget from the one-sided terms offered the railroads last June. We therefore simply see no other viable option but to go it alone and live out of the fare box."

North Western officials compared their rates to those offered to New York City commuters. According to their figures, fares on the Long Island Railroad and Penn Central Railroad commuter lines range from 28 to 113 per cent higher for selected stations of comparable distances from downtown terminals.

"The long and short of it is simply this: There's no way we can accept the terms and conditions the RTA seeks to cram down our throats and have any chance at all of continuing to provide you with the kind of service we've grown extremely proud of and that you've come to expect," the brochure states.

If the Illinois Commerce Commission approves both sets of increases, by April 1976, monthly commuter fares would climb from the present levels as follows: Des Plaines, from $36.30 to $49.92; Mount Prospect, from $39.55 to $54.75; Arlington Heights, from $41.45 to $57.03; and Palatine, from $44.65 to $61.39.

One-way tickets, if the two increases are approved by the ICC, could climb in the following manner: Des Plaines, from $1.40 to $1.92; Mount Prospect, from $1.50 to $2.09; Arlington Heights, from $1.60 to $2.21; and Palatine, from $1.70 to $2.33.

The North Western is the second railroad to end purchase of service negotiations with the RTA. In September the Burlington Northern broke off talks, accusing the RTA of making unreasonable demands.

Burlington at the time had a request for a rate increase pending before the ICC, and it was turned down. The ICC said Burlington should try to reestablish talks with the RTA.

Railroad ripped by RTA chief

Milton Pikarsky, Regional Transportation Authority chairman, Thursday criticized the Chicago and North Western Ry. for withdrawing from negotiations with the RTA by announcing its plans at a press conference.

"Normally, negotiations of this nature are conducted over the bargaining table and not in the press," Pikarsky said.

The railroad and RTA had been negotiating the sale of the railroad commuter services to the RTA and Pikarsky said he believed there had been "considerable progress" in negotiating noncompensation items.

Pikarsky said the railroad had violated a Nov. 30 deadline for ending negotiations. He said the railroad had set the deadline last month.

PIKARSKY SAID the railroad should make a counter offer to the RTA's purchase-of-service offer if the railroad finds the offer inadequate.

"I regret the C&NW decision not to work with the RTA. We have been negotiating in good faith, and have made an offer to the railroad which we believe is reasonable in terms of the taxpayers, whose money we are dealing with. The North Western's demands, however, are for sums that cannot be justified by a public body," Pikarsky said.

The two fare hikes sought by the railroad will mean a more than 40 per cent fare increase, Pikarsky said.

While admitting the North Western is the largest mass-transit carrier in the RTA area except for the Chicago Transit Authority, Pikarsky said the agency would still be able to operate areawide transportation services even without a purchase-of-service contract with the North Western.

HE SAID, for example, the North Western could operate as it does now, and separate contracts for transfer systems with other carriers still could be arranged.

The RTA was formed to stabilize transportation fares and services, Pikarsky said, and until now, the North Western has been unable to cut its service because it was involved in negotiattions with the RTA. The RTA board will have to decide whether the agency will intervene in Illinois Commerce Commission hearings on the North Western's fare-hike request, Pikarsky said.

Repeatedly urging the railway to make "counter offers" to the RTA's purchase-of-service proposal, Pikarsky said the RTA has been open and public about its negotiating stand on the railway.

Resume Service

HOW IMPORTANT ARE RESUMES?

A resume is your first impression with a potential employer. It is the only effective method to present your credentials when applying for a job.

Unfortunately, a resume will frequently ELIMINATE an applicant than it will secure the all-important interview.

Your resume will compete for attention with those of many other applicants for that interview.

How can you overcome this obstacle? Your resume must be composed so that it DEMANDS attention and at once presents you as a logical choice for employment.

How can you make sure that your resume will generate more interviews?

Phone for details or a no-obligation appointment. Since 1957, we have assisted men & women on their first job, to the senior executive.

Resume Service

HOW IMPORTANT ARE RESUMES?

A resume is your first impression with a potential employer. It is the only effective method to present your credentials when applying for a job.

Unfortunately, a resume will frequently ELIMINATE an applicant than it will secure the all-important interview.

Your resume will compete for attention with those of many other applicants for that interview.

How can you overcome this obstacle? Your resume must be composed so that it DEMANDS attention and at once presents you as a logical choice for employment.

How can you make sure that your resume will generate more interviews?

Phone for details or a no-obligation appointment. Since 1957, we have assisted men & women on their first job, to the senior executive.

Public Notice

In compliance with the requirements of the Title IX Act, the Board of Education of School District 23 states its intention not to discriminate on the basis of sex in the educational program or activities which it operates. This includes the Board of Education's intention to avoid discrimination for employment, recruitment policies, standards of compensation, promotion, tenure, job classification, fringe benefits, marital or parental status, advertisements of job openings, and pre-employment inquiries.

The Board of Education has appointed Mr. Gerald H. McGovern, Assistant Superintendent to serve as the employee responsible for coordinating its efforts to comply with and carry out its responsibilities under Title IX. Inquiries concerning any or all of these matters should be addressed to him at Prospect Heights Public Schools, 700 North Schoenbeck Road, Prospect Heights, Illinois; phone 259-4550, ext. 52.

In turn, students or employees who wish to file a grievance under these regulations should follow the steps outlined below:

1. Make personal contact with the person who has allegedly discriminated under the requirements of this Act.

2. If the alleged grievance cannot be resolved, then contact should be made with the district grievance officer identified above.

Announcement

OF INTENT TO PERFORM FLOOD ELEVATION STUDY

The Federal Insurance Administration of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has announced that under authority of the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 as amended (P.L. 90-448) and the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (P.L. 93-234), it will fund a detailed study of the flood hazard areas in the Village of Schaumburg.

The study will be performed for the Federal Insurance Administration by Harza Engineering Company of Chicago.

The purpose of the study is to examine and evaluate the flood hazard areas in the community which are developed or likely to be developed and to determine flood elevation for those areas. Flood elevations will be used by the community to carry out the flood plain management objectives of the National Flood Insurance Program. They will also be used as for determining the appropriate flood insurance premium rates applicable for new buildings and their contents, as well as for determining the rates to be used for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and contents.

This announcement is intended to notify all interested persons of the commencement of the study so that they may have an opportunity to bring any relevant facts and technical data concerning local flood hazards to the attention of the chief executive officer of the community for forwarding to the appropriate representatives of the Federal Insurance Administration.

Ordinance No. 1390

(An Ordinance Amending Certain Provisions of Title 17 and Title 19 of the Wheeling Code)

WHEREAS, the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Wheeling have deemed it appropriate that the power to recommend amendments to the regulations of Title 19 and the recommendations for special uses be transferred from the Zoning Board of Appeals to the Plan Commission, and

WHEREAS, the Plan Commission of the Village of Wheeling has held a public hearing, duly noticed, to consider the feasibility of said transfer, and

WHEREAS, the Plan Commission has made its recommendations that said transfer be made.

SECTION A.

That Title 17.04.050 be amended to read as follows:

17.04.050 Powers and duties. The plan commission shall have the following powers and duties: To prepare and recommend to the board of trustees of the village of Wheeling a comprehensive plan for the present and future development or redevelopment of the village and contiguous unincorporated territory not more than one and one-half miles beyond the corporate limits of the village and not included in any other municipality. Such plan may be adopted in whole or in separate geographical or functional parts, each of which, when adopted, shall be the official comprehensive plan, or part thereof, of Wheeling, Illinois. Such plan shall be advisory, except as to such part thereof as has been implemented by ordinances duly enacted by the village board of trustees. All requirements for public hearing, filing of notice of adoption with the county recorder of deeds, and filing of the plan and ordinances with the municipal clerk shall be complied with as provided for by law.

To provide for the health, safety, comfort and convenience of the inhabitants of Wheeling, Illinois, and contiguous territory, such plan or plans shall establish reasonable standards of design for subdivisions and for resubdivisions of unimproved land and of areas subject to redevelopment in respect to public improvements as herein defined and shall establish reasonable requirements governing the location, width, course and surfacing of public streets and highways, alleys, ways for public service facilities, curbs, gutters, sidewalks, street lights, parks, playgrounds, school sites, other public grounds, size of lots to be used for residential purposes, storm water drainage, water supply and distribution, sanitary sewers, and sewer collection and treatment. The requirements specified herein shall become regulatory only when adopted by ordinance.

To designate land suitable for annexation to the municipality and the recommended zoning classification for such land upon annexation.

To recommend to the village board of trustees, from time to time, such changes in the comprehensive plan or any part thereof as may be deemed necessary.

To prepare and recommend to the village board of trustees, from time to time, plans and/or recommendations for specific improvements in pursuance of the official comprehensive plan.

To give aid to the officials of the village of Wheeling, charged with the direction of projects for improvements embraced with the official plan or parts thereof, to further the making of such improvements, and generally to promote the realization of the official comprehensive plan.

To arrange and conduct any form of publicity relative to its activities for the general purpose of public understanding.

To cooperate with municipal or regional planning commissions and other agencies or groups to further the local planning program and to assure harmonious and integrated planning for the area.

To hold the appropriate public hearings on applications for special uses as set out in Title 19.92 of the Wheeling Municipal Code, and pursuant thereto to prepare and transmit to the corporate authorities its written findings and recommendations with respect to the proposed special use.

To hold the appropriate public hearings on applications for amendments or proposals for amendments to the regulations imposed and districts created under the authority of Title 19 of the Wheeling Municipal Code pursuant to the procedure set out in Title 19.94 of the Wheeling Municipal Code, and further to make findings and recommendations pursuant thereto and forward same to the corporate authorities.

To exercise such other powers germane to the powers granted under authority of an act of the general assembly of the state of Illinois entitled "Illinois Municipal Code."

SECTION B.

That Title 17 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to include the following section:

17.04.052 Plan Commission Meetings and Rules. All meetings at which applications for special uses, applications for amendments to Title 19, or proposals for amendments to Title 19 are considered shall be open to the public and shall be governed by the rules set out herein. At said hearings any person may appear and testify either in person or by duly authorized agent or attorney. All testimony shall be given under oath, and the chairman or, in his absence the acting chairman, shall administer oaths. The plan commission shall keep minutes of its proceedings showing the vote of each member upon each question or, if absent or failing to vote indicating such fact. The plan commission shall also keep records of its hearings and other official actions. Every amendment or repeal thereof or requirement, decision or determination made in connection therewith shall be filed immediately in the office of the Zoning Administrator and shall be a public record. The requirements set forth in this Section shall apply only to those hearings held in consideration of applications or proposals for special uses or amendments to Title 19.

SECTION C.

That Title 19.84.040 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

19.84.040 Board of appeals — Jurisdiction. The zoning board of appeals is vested with the following jurisdiction and authority:

(1) To hear and recommend to the corporate authorities appeals from any order, requirement, decision or determination made by the zoning administrator under this title, in the manner and subject to the standards set out in Chapter 19.90;

(2) To hear and recommend to the corporate authorities application for variations from the regulations and restrictions imposed by this title subject to the standards set out in Chapter 19.88;

(3) To hear and recommend to the corporate authorities all matters referred to it or upon which it is required to pass under this title; and

(4) To initiate, direct and review from time to time a study of the provisions of this title and to make reports of its findings and recommendations to the corporate authorities not less frequently than annually.

SECTION D.

That Title 19.84.060 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is hereby repealed.

SECTION E.

That Title 19.92.020 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

19.92.020 Authorization. Special uses shall be authorized by the adoption of an ordinance by the corporate authorities; provided, however, that no application for special use shall be acted upon by the corporate authorities until after a public hearing has been held thereon by the plan commission, and the commission has prepared and transmitted to the corporate authorities its written findings and recommendations with respect to the proposed special use.

SECTION F.

That Title 19.92.030 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

19.92.030 Application for special use. An application for a special use shall be filed with the village clerk with a copy to the zoning administrator. Such application shall be upon such form and accompanied by such information as may be required from time to time by the plan commission. The village clerk shall process such applications in the manner prescribed by Section 19.94.040 for amendments to this title.

SECTION G.

That Title 19.92.060 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

19.92.060 Conditions. The plan commission may recommend and the corporate authorities may impose such conditions or restrictions upon the construction, location and operation of a special use, including but not limited to provisions for off-street parking and loading, as shall be deemed necessary to secure the general objectives of this title and to protect the value of property in the neighborhood.

SECTION H.

That Title 19.94.010 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

19.94.010 Amendment authorized. The regulations imposed and the districts created under the authority of this title may be amended in the manner provided by Section 11-13-14 of the Illinois Municipal Code. No such amendments, including the zoning maps, shall be made without a public hearing before the plan commission of the Village of Wheeling.

SECTION I.

That Title 19.94.020 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

19.94.020 Initiation of amendments. Amendments may be proposed by the corporate authorities, by the plan commission, or by any other person or commission. Any application for such an amendment, except for those proposed by the corporate authorities, shall be filed with the Village Clerk and transmitted to the corporate authorities, pursuant to Title 19.94.040.

SECTION J.

That Title 19.94.030 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

19.94.030 Application. Amendments initiated by the corporate authorities shall be referred directly to the plan commission. An application made by any other person for an amendment to any of the provisions of this title or to any district created thereby shall be filed with the Village Clerk, with a copy to the zoning administrator. Such application shall be upon such form and accompanied by such information as shall be required from time to time by the plan commission.

SECTION K.

That Title 19.94.040 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

19.94.040 Processing of applications. Upon receipt of an application for an amendment to the zoning title, the Village Clerk shall transmit the application to the corporate authorities prior to its next scheduled meeting. Upon receipt of such proposed amendment, the corporate authorities shall transmit a copy of it to the plan commission with directions to hold a public hearing on the proposed amendment and to make findings and recommendations and forward same to the corporate authorities.

SECTION L.

That Title 19.94.050 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

19.94.050 Public hearing. The plan commission shall hold a public hearing on proposed amendments initiated by the corporate authorities or by the plan commission, and on all applications for an amendment by any other person. The plan commission shall determine the time and place for the hearing. The hearing shall be conducted and a record of the proceedings shall be preserved in such manner and according to such procedures as the plan commission shall prescribe from time to time, by rule, provided, however, that all testimony shall be taken under an oath administered by the member of the plan commission presiding at the hearing. After the public hearing has been conducted, the plan commission shall prepare findings of fact and recommendations with respect to the proposed amendment and transmit the same to the corporate authorities.

SECTION M.

That Title 19.94.070 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

19.94.070 Action by corporate authorities. If an application for a proposed amendment is not acted upon finally by the corporate authorities within six months of the date upon which the finding and recommendations of the plan commission are filed with the corporate authorities, it shall be deemed to have been denied.

SECTION N.

All matters presently pending before the Zoning Board of Appeals concerning applications or proposals for special uses or amendments to Title 19 shall remain with the Zoning Board of Appeals until said Board has made its recommendations and findings to the corporate authorities.

SECTION O.

All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION P.

The invalidity of any section or provision of this ordinance shall not invalidate other sections or provisions thereof.

SECTION Q.

This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication according to law.

PASSED this 17th day of November, 1975.

Trustee Cole, Aye; Trustee Hedlund, Aye; Trustee Hein, Nay; Trustee Jackson, Aye; Trustee Kerr, Nay; Trustee Monoson, Aye.

APPROVED this 17th day of November, 1975.

Public Notice

In compliance with the requirements of the Title IX Act, the Board of Education of School District 23 states its intention not to discriminate on the basis of sex in the educational program or activities which it operates. This includes the Board of Education's intention to avoid discrimination for employment, recruitment policies, standards of compensation, promotion, tenure, job classification, fringe benefits, marital or parental status, advertisements of job openings, and pre-employment inquiries.

The Board of Education has appointed Mr. Gerald H. McGovern, Assistant Superintendent to serve as the employee responsible for coordinating its efforts to comply with and carry out its responsibilities under Title IX. Inquiries concerning any or all of these matters should be addressed to him at Prospect Heights Public Schools, 700 North Schoenbeck Road, Prospect Heights, Illinois; phone 259-4550, ext. 52.

In turn, students or employees who wish to file a grievance under these regulations should follow the steps outlined below:

1. Make personal contact with the person who has allegedly discriminated under the requirements of this Act.
2. If the alleged grievance cannot be resolved, then contact should be made with the district grievance officer identified above.

Announcement

OF INTENT TO PERFORM FLOOD ELEVATION STUDY

The Federal Insurance Administration of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has announced that under authority of the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 as amended (P.L. 90-448) and the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (P.L. 93-234), it will fund a detailed study of the flood hazard areas in the Village of Schaumburg.

The study will be performed for the Federal Insurance Administration by Harza Engineering Company of Chicago.

The purpose of the study is to examine and evaluate the flood hazard areas in the community which are developed or likely to be developed and to determine flood elevation for those areas. Flood elevations will be used by the community to carry out the flood plain management objectives of the National Flood Insurance Program. They will also be used as for determining the appropriate flood insurance premium rates applicable for new buildings and their contents, as well as for determining the rates to be used for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and contents.

This announcement is intended to notify all interested persons of the commencement of the study so that they may have an opportunity to bring any relevant facts and technical data concerning local flood hazards to the attention of the chief executive officer of the community for forwarding to the appropriate representatives of the Federal Insurance Administration.

Ordinance No. 1390

(An Ordinance Amending Certain Provisions of Title 17 and Title 19 of the Wheeling Code)

WHEREAS, the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Wheeling have deemed it appropriate that the power to recommend amendments to the regulations of Title 19 and the recommendations for special uses be transferred from the Zoning Board of Appeals to the Plan Commission, and

WHEREAS, the Plan Commission of the Village of Wheeling has held a public hearing, duly noticed, to consider the feasibility of said transfer, and

WHEREAS, the Plan Commission has made its recommendations that said transfer be made.

SECTION A.

That Title 17.04.050 be amended to read as follows:

17.04.050 Powers and duties. The plan commission shall have the following powers and duties: To prepare and recommend to the board of trustees of the village of Wheeling a comprehensive plan for the present and future development or redevelopment of the village and contiguous unincorporated territory not more than one and one-half miles beyond the corporate limits of the village and not included in any other municipality. Such plan may be adopted in whole or in separate geographical or functional parts, each of which, when adopted, shall be the official comprehensive plan, or part thereof, of Wheeling, Illinois. Such plan shall be advisory, except as to such part thereof as has been implemented by ordinances duly enacted by the village board of trustees. All requirements for public hearing, filing of notice of adoption with the county recorder of deeds, and filing of the plan and ordinances with the municipal clerk shall be complied with as provided for by law.

To provide for the health, safety, comfort and convenience of the inhabitants of Wheeling, Illinois, and contiguous territory, such plan or plans shall establish reasonable standards of design for subdivisions and for resubdivisions of unimproved land and of areas subject to redevelopment in respect to public improvements as herein defined and shall establish reasonable requirements governing the location, width, course and surfacing of public streets and highways, alleys, ways for public service facilities, curbs, gutters, sidewalks, street lights, parks, playgrounds, school sites, other public grounds, size of lots to be used for residential purposes, storm water drainage, water supply and distribution, sanitary sewers, and sewer collection and treatment. The requirements specified herein shall become regulatory only when adopted by ordinance.

To designate land suitable for annexation to the municipality and the recommended zoning classification for such land upon annexation.

To recommend to the village board of trustees, from time to time, such changes in the comprehensive plan or any part thereof as may be deemed necessary.

To prepare and recommend to the village board of trustees, from time to time, plans and/or recommendations for specific improvements in pursuance of the official comprehensive plan.

To give aid to the officials of the village of Wheeling, charged with the direction of projects for improvements embraced with the official plan or parts thereof, to further the making of such improvements, and generally to promote the realization of the official comprehensive plan.

To arrange and conduct any form of publicity relative to its activities for the general purpose of public understanding.

To cooperate with municipal or regional planning commissions and other agencies or groups to further the local planning program and to assure harmonious and integrated planning for the area.

To hold the appropriate public hearings on applications for special uses as set out in Title 19.92 of the Wheeling Municipal Code, and pursuant thereto to prepare and transmit to the corporate authorities its written findings and recommendations with respect to the proposed special use.

To hold the appropriate public hearings on applications for amendments or proposals for amendments to the regulations imposed and districts created under the authority of Title 19 of the Wheeling Municipal Code pursuant to the procedure set out in Title 19.94 of the Wheeling Municipal Code, and further to make findings and recommendations pursuant thereto and forward same to the corporate authorities.

To exercise such other powers germane to the powers granted under authority of an act of the general assembly of the state of Illinois entitled "Illinois Municipal Code."

SECTION B.

That Title 17 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to include the following section:

17.04.052 Plan Commission Meetings and Rules. All meetings at which applications for special uses, applications for amendments to Title 19, or proposals for amendments to Title 19 are considered shall be open to the public and shall be governed by the rules set out herein. At said hearings any person may appear and testify either in person or by duly authorized agent or attorney. All testimony shall be given under oath, and the chairman or, in his absence the acting chairman, shall administer oaths. The plan commission shall keep minutes of its proceedings showing the vote of each member upon each question or, if absent or failing to vote indicating such fact. The plan commission shall also keep records of its hearings and other official actions. Every amendment or repeal thereof or requirement, decision or determination made in connection therewith shall be filed immediately in the office of the Zoning Administrator and shall be a public record. The requirements set forth in this Section shall apply only to those hearings held in consideration of applications or proposals for special uses or amendments to Title 19.

SECTION C.

That Title 19.84.040 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

19.84.040 Board of appeals — Jurisdiction. The zoning board of appeals is vested with the following jurisdiction and authority:

(1) To hear and recommend to the corporate authorities appeals from any order, requirement, decision or determination made by the zoning administrator under this title, in the manner and subject to the standards set out in Chapter 19.90;

(2) To hear and recommend to the corporate authorities application for variations from the regulations and restrictions imposed by this title subject to the standards set out in Chapter 19.88;

(3) To hear and recommend to the corporate authorities all matters referred to it or upon which it is required to pass under this title; and

(4) To initiate, direct and review from time to time a study of the provisions of this title and to make reports of its findings and recommendations to the corporate authorities not less frequently than annually.

SECTION D.

That Title 19.84.060 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is hereby repealed.

SECTION E.

That Title 19.92.020 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

19.92.020 Authorization. Special uses shall be authorized by the adoption of an ordinance by the corporate authorities; provided, however, that no application for special use shall be acted upon by the corporate authorities until after a public hearing has been held thereon by the plan commission, and the commission has prepared and transmitted to the corporate authorities its written findings and recommendations with respect to the proposed special use.

SECTION F.

That Title 19.92.030 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

19.92.030 Application for special use. An application for a special use shall be filed with the village clerk with a copy to the zoning administrator. Such application shall be upon such form and accompanied by such information as may be required from time to time by the plan commission. The village clerk shall process such applications in the manner prescribed by Section 19.94.040 for amendments to this title.

SECTION G.

That Title 19.92.060 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

19.92.060 Conditions. The plan commission may recommend and the corporate authorities may impose such conditions or restrictions upon the construction, location and operation of a special use, including but not limited to provisions for off-street parking and loading, as shall be deemed necessary to secure the general objectives of this title and to protect the value of property in the neighborhood.

SECTION H.

That Title 19.94.010 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

19.94.010 Amendment authorized. The regulations imposed and the districts created under the authority of this title may be amended in the manner provided by Section 11-13-14 of the Illinois Municipal Code. No such amendments, including the zoning maps, shall be made without a public hearing before the plan commission of the Village of Wheeling.

SECTION I.

That Title 19.94.020 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

19.94.020 Initiation of amendments. Amendments may be proposed by the corporate authorities, by the plan commission, or by any other person or commission. Any application for such an amendment, except for those proposed by the corporate authorities, shall be filed with the Village Clerk and transmitted to the corporate authorities, pursuant to Title 19.94.040.

SECTION J.

That Title 19.94.030 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

19.94.030 Application. Amendments initiated by the corporate authorities shall be referred directly to the plan commission. An application made by any other person for an amendment to any of the provisions of this title or to any district created thereby shall be filed with the Village Clerk, with a copy to the zoning administrator. Such application shall be upon such form and accompanied by such information as shall be required from time to time by the plan commission.

SECTION K.

That Title 19.94.040 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

19.94.040 Processing of applications. Upon receipt of an application for an amendment to the zoning title, the Village Clerk shall transmit the application to the corporate authorities prior to its next scheduled meeting. Upon receipt of such proposed amendment, the corporate authorities shall transmit a copy of it to the plan commission with directions to hold a public hearing on the proposed amendment and to make findings and recommendations and forward same to the corporate authorities.

SECTION L.

That Title 19.94.050 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

19.94.050 Public hearing. The plan commission shall hold a public hearing on proposed amendments initiated by the corporate authorities or by the plan commission, and on all applications for an amendment by any other person. The plan commission shall determine the time and place for the hearing. The hearing shall be conducted and a record of the proceedings shall be preserved in such manner and according to such procedures as the plan commission shall prescribe from time to time, by rule, provided, however, that all testimony shall be taken under an oath administered by the member of the plan commission presiding at the hearing. After the public hearing has been conducted, the plan commission shall prepare findings of fact and recommendations with respect to the proposed amendment and transmit the same to the corporate authorities.

SECTION M.

That Title 19.94.070 of the Wheeling Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

19.94.070 Action by corporate authorities. If an application for a proposed amendment is not acted upon finally by the corporate authorities within six months of the date upon which the finding and recommendations of the plan commission are filed with the corporate authorities, it shall be deemed to have been denied.

SECTION N.

All matters presently pending before the Zoning Board of Appeals concerning applications or proposals for special uses or amendments to Title 19 shall remain with the Zoning Board of Appeals until said Board has made its recommendations and findings to the corporate authorities.

SECTION O.

All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION P.

The invalidity of any section or provision of this ordinance shall not invalidate other sections or provisions thereof.

SECTION Q.

This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication according to law.

PASSED this 17th day of November, 1975.

Trustee Cole, Aye; Trustee Hedlund, Aye; Trustee Heln, Nay; Trustee Jackson, Aye; Trustee Kerr, Nay; Trustee Monoson, Aye.
